

This is the power of culture.

Training and retraining should be a continuous process. Otherwise sustenance will be difficult.

- Value System – Driver of Culture

Values of an organization communicate what is acceptable and what is not acceptable behavior. For example one of the companies had the following values

1. Quality First
2. Respect for people
3. Sense of urgency

Now this will be the guiding factors for every employee. They will be questioned by any one if they deviate from this. Like a compass in the ship showing direction to the captain, the value system tells organization the right and wrong direction.

No one can question this including CEO. Once again, it depends on leaders, how they drive it and communicate it.

3. Quality Culture and Quality Management Systems

- In our article “IS ISO 9000 CERTIFICATION LOSING ITS CREDIBILITY?” We tried to demystify the various factors responsible for dilution of quality management system.
- It is quite obvious from our study that, organization which has poor quality culture give least importance to Quality Management Systems like ISO 9000. If the systems are weak, naturally product quality deteriorates.

4. Quality Assurance (QA) and Human Resource Development (HRD) should not just remain as nameplate change:

- In the last two decades many organizations changed name of their two departments
- Quality Control became Quality Assurance and Personnel department became Human Resource Development. Unfortunately many companies just changed the board and continued to function in the old way. Few companies adopted new philosophy and become very successful. We strongly recommend companies to adopt the philosophy of QA and HRD in true spirits to create Quality Culture.

Becoming a High Expectation Teacher Christine Rubie-Davies, 2014-08-13 We constantly hear cries from politicians for teachers to have high expectations But what this means in practical terms is never spelled out Simply deciding that as a teacher you will expect all your students to achieve more than other classes you have taught in the same school is not going to translate automatically into enhanced achievement for students

Becoming a High Expectation Teacher is a book that every education student training or practising teacher should read It details the beliefs and practices of high expectation teachers teachers who have high expectations for all their students and provides practical examples for teachers of how to change classrooms into ones in which all students are expected to learn at much higher levels than teachers may previously have thought possible It shows how student achievement can be raised by providing both research evidence and practical examples This book is based on the first ever intervention study in the teacher expectation area designed to change teachers expectations through introducing them to the beliefs and practices of high expectation teachers A holistic view of the classroom is emphasised whereby both the instructional and socio emotional aspects of the classroom are considered if teachers are to increase student achievement There is a focus on high expectation teachers those who have high expectations for all students and a close examination of what it is that these teachers do in their classrooms that mean that their students make very large learning gains each year

Becoming a High Expectation Teacher explores three key areas in which what high expectation teachers do differs substantially from what other teachers do the way they group students for learning the way they create a caring classroom community and the way in which they use goalsetting to motivate students to promote student autonomy and to promote mastery learning Areas covered include Formation of teacher expectations Teacher personality and expectation Ability grouping and goal setting Enhancing class climate Sustaining high expectations for students

Becoming a High Expectation Teacher is an essential read for any researcher student trainee or practicing teacher who cares passionately about the teacher student relationship and about raising expectations and student achievement
