Building Fiction Jesse Lee Kercheval, 2003 No one looks at structure like Jesse Lee Kercheval She builds a work of fiction just as an architect would design a house with an eye for details and how all parts of a story or novel interconnect Even with the most dynamic language images and characters no piece of fiction will work without a strong infrastructure Kercheval shows how to build that structure using such tools as point of view characterization pacing and flashbacks Building Fiction will help you envision the landscape of your fiction and build great stories there

Performativity in Elizabeth Gaskell's Shorter Fiction Melissa Schaub, 2019-08-31 This book simultaneously examines the specific theoretical issues raised by Elizabeth Gaskell's use of characterization in her shorter fiction and addresses the larger question of how literary critics ought to use theory The text gives a history of Judith Butler's theory of performativity and the uptake of that theory in literary criticism and also provides detailed close reading of Gaskell's fiction both frequently examined texts like Cranford Mary Barton and Wives and Daughters and some that are less often studied such as Lizzie Leigh and Cousin Phillis The book argues that as theory becomes naturalized into the vocabulary of literary scholars it often becomes more optimistic and less specific In discussing the naturalization of theory exemplified by the application of performativity to Gaskell the book advances general principles on the use of theory It can be read as scholarship or used as a textbook in literary methods courses
