The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004098862 Speaking, Stammering, Singing, Shouting Josephine Hoegaerts, 2025-08-26 What was considered a good normal or healthy voice in the nineteenth century? In 1854 singing master Manuel Garcia became the first person to see the vocal cords at work in a human throat. Less than a decade later surgeon Paul Broca identified what he called a speech center in the brain. The almost simultaneous invention of the laryngoscope and the discovery of Broca's area present important turning points for how medical, musical and other experts understood how the human voice works. These developments did not occur in a vacuum; however, in Speaking, Stammering, Singing, Shouting Josephine Hoegaerts describes the ambitious attempts throughout the nineteenth century to observe, understand and manage human voices, as well as the host of more traditional, domestic and stereotypical beliefs about the voice that continued to exist alongside these new insights. She peers into the stammering therapist's office over the singing teacher's shoulder and occasionally into the laryngoscope to see how something so simple, the sound Europeans produced when they opened their mouths, changed over the course of the nineteenth century. Combining insights from medical and musical histories with methods from the fields of sound studies and the history of experience, Hoegaerts traces how people imagined human voices in the nineteenth century and how they used them. Rather than focusing on the great singers and orators of the age, the book looks at the mundane daily practices of singers, speakers and stammerers and the people who trained and studied them. What did it take, according to all these increasingly specialized professionals, to have a normal voice in nineteenth-century Europe? Narrative

Sculpture and Literary Traditions in South and Southeast Asia Marijke J. Klokke, 2022-06-13 The question how has ancient India's incredibly rich literary heritage been visually represented forms the centerpiece of this latest volume in Brill's series Studies in Asian Art and Archaeology. Due to the overwhelming impression made by the texts themselves, the relationship between text and image has until now never received the attention it deserves. Numerous temples, though not only in South Asia but also in Southeast Asia, carry the images of India's great narratives. Special attention is given to those in Karnataka, India, Java, Indonesia, Angkor, Cambodia, and Tra Kieu, Vietnam. The work discusses theoretical aspects, provides new interpretations and proposes innovative interpretations through advanced comparative and contextual approaches. An American Voltaire E. Joe Johnson, Byron R. Wells, 2012-11-30 This collection of essays was assembled to honor the memory of the late eminent Voltaire scholar J. Patrick Lee. It includes seventeen essays by prominent scholars from the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, and France on a variety of topics in French eighteenth-century studies. Essay titles include A New Genre: L'Opéra moral, Moral Opera in Eighteenth-Century France, Voltaire and the Uses of Censorship, The Example of the Lettres Philosophiques, Enlightenment Intertextuality, The Case of Heraldry in the Encyclopédie, Sex as Satire in

Virginia Woolf and the Age of Listening | Virginia Woolf à l'ère de l'écoute Adèle Cassigneul, Anne-Marie Smith-Di Biasio, 2025-04-24 Listening was the spirit of the age as the invention of psychoanalysis and of radio marked the turn of the twentieth century Virginia Woolf and the Age of Listening brings together contributions which tune into that acoustic quality at once present in Woolf's time in her texts and in the readings which here echo those very listening techniques Indeed the listening mind as a reading surface for the receptivity and reconstruction of sound waves embodies a shift which informs the thinking of many chapters in this volume In their attention to listeners in the text and to those who make up the work of reception in both English and French these readings consider Woolf s oeuvre as an echo chamber reverberating with intertextual echoes in a multi layered representational network They form a constellation of answers to the call of the Age of Listening Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum,1883 Catalogue of Circulating Music Library and Imported Music G.
