Drifting Toward The Southeast:

Drifting Toward the Southeast Ikaku Kawada, Manjirō Nakahama, 2003 Manjiro was a fourteen year old fisherman when he and four companions were shipwrecked and rescued by an American whaling ship in 1841 Captain William Whitfield of the ship John Howland admired the boy's intelligence and resourcefulness and invited him to his home in Fairhaven Massachusetts where Manjiro was given a formal education in English mathematics and navigation He later signed on as crew aboard a whaling ship and circumnavigated the globe Longing for Japan he joined the California Gold Rush and earned passage home Manjiro risked execution under the strict isolation policies of Japan's ruling Shogunate but his timing was good Commodore Matthew Perry and his Black Ships arrived demanding that Japan open her ports and Manjiro proved useful to the government with his knowledge of Western ways He deeply influenced the pioneers of modernization in Japan bridging two cultures and playing a role on a world stage An extraordinary life for a poor uneducated boy from a small Japanese fishing village and a wonderful adventure for the reader Book jacket Ground Cloud Effluent Measurements

Wanhalla, 2022-07-31 More than any other locale the Pacific Ocean has been the meeting place between humans and whales From Indigenous Pacific peoples who built lives and cosmologies around whales to Euro American whalers who descended upon the Pacific during the nineteenth century and to the new forms of human cetacean partnerships that have emerged from the late twentieth century the relationship between these two species has been central to the ocean's history Across Species and Cultures Whales Humans and Pacific Worlds offers for the first time a critical wide ranging geographical and temporal look at the varieties of whale histories in the Pacific The essay contributors hailing from around the Pacific present a wealth of fascinating stories while breaking new methodological ground in environmental history women's history animal studies and Indigenous ontologies In the process they reveal previously hidden aspects of the story of Pacific whaling including the contributions of Indigenous people to capitalist whaling the industry's exceptionally far reaching spread and its overlooked second life as a global industrial slaughter in the twentieth century While pointing to striking continuities in whaling histories around the Pacific Across Species and Cultures also reveals deep tensions between environmentalists and Indigenous peoples between ideas and realities and between the North and South Pacific The book delves in unprecedented ways into the lives and histories of whales themselves Despite the worst ravages of commercial and industrial whaling whales survived two centuries of mass killing in the Pacific Their perseverance continues to nourish many human communities around and in the Pacific Ocean where they are hunted as commodities regarded as signs of wealth and power act as providers and protectors but are also ancestors providing a bridge between human and nonhuman worlds Japan's Ocean Borderlands Paul Kreitman, 2023-07-27 Desert islands are the focus of intense geopolitical tensions in East Asia today but they are also sites of nature conservation In this global environmental history Paul Kreitman shows how the politics of conservation have entangled with the politics of sovereignty since the emergence of the modern Japanese state in the mid nineteenth century Using case studies ranging from Hawai i to the Bonin Islands to the Senkaku Ch Diaoyu Isles to the South China Sea he explores how bird islands on the distant margins of the Japanese archipelago and beyond transformed from sites of resource extraction to outposts of empire and from wartime battlegrounds to nature reserves This study examines how interactions between birds bird products bureaucrats speculators sailors soldiers scientists and conservationists shaped ongoing claims to sovereignty over oceanic spaces It considers what the history of desert islands shows us about imperial and post imperial power the web of political economic and ecological connections between islands and oceans and about the relationship between sovereignty territory and environment in the modern world Geological Evolution of the Mediterranean Basin Daniel J. Stanley,Forese-Carlo Wezel,2012-12-06 The Mediterranean Sea nestled between Africa southern Europe and the Middle East may be envisioned as a complex picture puzzle comprising numerous intricate pieces many of which are already in place A general image in terms of science has emerged although at this time large gaps are noted and some areas of the picture remain fuzzy and indistinct In recent years this fascinating mind teasing puzzle image has become clearer with individual pieces more easily recognized and rapidly emplaced largely by means of multidisciplinary and multinational team efforts In this respect the Special Program Panel on Marine Sciences of the NATO Scientific Affairs Division considered the merits of initiating four conferences bearing on the Mediterranean ecosystem It was suggested that the first emphasizing geology should dovetail with subsequent seminars on physical oceanography marine biology and ecology and man's influence on the natural Mediterranean regime At a conference held in Banyuls sur Mer France in August 1979 Professor Raimondo Selli was urged by some panel members to initiate an Advanced Research Institute ARI that would focus primarily on the geologically recent evolution of the Mediterranean Sea and serve as a logical base for future NATO conferences on the Mediterranean Physical Oceanography of the Gulf of Maine Henry Bryant Bigelow,1927

The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean: Volume 2, The Pacific Ocean since 1800 Anne Perez Hattori,Jane Samson,2023-01-05 Volume II of The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean focuses on the latest era of Pacific history examining the period from 1800 to the present day This volume discusses advances and emerging trends in the historiography of the colonial era before outlining the main themes of the twentieth century when the idea of a Pacific centred century emerged It concludes by exploring how history and the past inform preparations for the emerging challenges of the future These essays emphasise the importance of understanding how the postcolonial period shaped the modern Pacific and its historians Report of the International Ice Patrol Service in the North Atlantic Ocean ,1980 Asian And Pacific Coasts 2009 (In 4 Volumes, With Cd-rom) - Proceedings Of The 5th International Conference On Apac 2009 Soon Keat Tan,Zhenhua Huang,2009-09-30 The coastal zone has always been an important frontier for trade food and the foundations of modern civilization This same zone has also been exploited in one way or another and sometimes without regard to the balance and schemes of Mother Nature It is only when things go terribly wrong that we begin to react and attempt to undo the mistakes of the past At times we have succeeded but at a high price At times we have to retreat and concede defeat as the technology of man is no match to the force of nature Over time we learn to work with nature and leverage the science of nature to protect the coastal zone and hold our frontier between the sea and land This proceeding presents the recent advances in all aspects of ocean and coastal research and management in the Asian and Pacific nations The volume set provides a valuable source of information for scientists engineers and professionals dealing with coastal zone issues and challenges in coastal port and ocean engineering development as well as the environmental impacts resulting from development of ocean and coastal areas Drifting Toward the Southeast Ikaku Kawada,2003 Overland John William De Forest,1871 Bulletin of the Bureau of Fisheries ,1926 Bulletin ,1926 Asian American History Day by Day Jonathan H.
