from Mexico to Argentina McGuirk discovers the people and ideas shaping the way cities are evolving Ever since the mid twentieth century when the dream of modernist utopia went to Latin America to die the continent has been a testing ground for exciting new conceptions of the city An architect in Chile has designed a form of social housing where only half of the house is built allowing the owners to adapt the rest Medellín formerly the world's murder capital has been transformed with innovative public architecture squatters in Caracas have taken over the forty five story Torre David skyscraper and Rio is on a mission to incorporate its favelas into the rest of the city Here in the most urbanised continent on the planet extreme cities have bred extreme conditions from vast housing estates to sprawling slums But after decades of social and political failure a new generation has revitalised architecture and urban design in order to address persistent poverty and inequality Together these activists pragmatists and social idealists are performing bold experiments that the rest of the world may learn from
