Consolation For An Exile:

Consolation for an Exile Caroline Roe, 2004 A new novel in The Chronicles of Isaac of Girona from the Anthony Award nominated author of A Poultrice for a Healer Consolation in Philippians Paul A. Holloway, 2001-09-06 Rhetorical criticism seeks to understand and comment on the way texts function in their social and cultural contexts Holloway puts Paul's letter in the context of ancient theories and literary practices of consolation and argues that Paul wrote to the Philippians in order to console them Holloway shows that the letter has a unified overall strategy and provides a convincing account of Paul's argument The book falls into two parts Part I explores the integrity of Philippians the rhetorical situation of the letter and ancient consolation as the possible genre of Philippians while Part II examines Phil 1:3-11, 1:12-2:30, 3:1-4:1 and 4:2-23 The exegetical studies in Part II focus on the consolatory topoi and arguments of Philippians Paul and Seneca within the Ancient Consolation Tradition Alex Muir, 2024-06-24 In this monograph Alex W Muir shows how Paul and Seneca were significant contributors to an ancient philosophical and rhetorical tradition of consolation Each writer's consolatory career is surveyed in turn through close readings of key primary texts chiefly Seneca's three literary consolations and Epistles and Paul's letters 1 Thessalonians 2 Corinthians and Philippians A final comparative dialogue highlights the pair's adaptations and innovations within this tradition Writing Exile: The Discourse of Displacement in Greco-Roman Antiquity and Beyond Jan Felix Gaertner, 2007-02-28 Exile and displacement are central topics in classical literature Previous research has been mostly biographical and has focused on the three most prominent exiles Cicero Ovid and Seneca By shifting focus to a discourse of exile and displacement in early Greek poetry Greek historiography Cynicism consolatory literature Latin epic Greek literature of the empire and Medieval Latin literature the present volume questions the notion of a distinct psychologically conditioned genre or mode of exile literature It shows how ancient and medieval authors perceive and present their exile according to pre-existent literary paradigms style themselves or others as typical exiles and employ exile as a powerful trope to express estrangement elicit readerly sympathy and question political power structures Departure and Consolation George Lewis Parsenios, 2005-02-01 In contrast to the common opinion that the Johannine Farewell Discourses represent solely the Jewish genre of the Testament George Parsenios argues that features of the discourses are misread or missed completely apart from Greco-Roman literature Evidence from classical drama for instance assists in reading Jesus' return to the Father as a dramatic exit and further accounts for the puzzling delay of Jesus at 14:31 without recourse to redaction theories Consolation literature and the literary symposium emphasize Jesus' continuing and consoling presence with particular attention to the Paraclete's role as doppelgänger The thread that binds the various chapters into a coherent whole therefore is the utility of classical literature in clarifying Jesus' consoling presence even after his departure to the Father Exile and Religious Identity, 1500-1800 Gary K Waite, 2015-10-06 Exile was a central feature of society throughout the early modern world For this reason the contributors to this volume see exile as a critical framework for analysing and understanding society at this time Writing Exile Jan Felix Gaertner, 2007 The volume explores how Greek and Latin authors perceive and present their own real or metaphorical exile and employ exile as a powerful trope to express estrangement elicit readerly sympathy and question political power structures Shakespeare's Consolatio for Exile John Laurens Tison, 1960 Enduring Exile Martien Halvorson-Taylor, 2010-12-17 Focusing on the composition and redaction of Jeremiah 30 31 Isaiah 40 66 and Zechariah 1 8 this book examines how the Babylonian exile became a Second Temple metaphor for political disenfranchisement social inequality and alienation from YHWH Collecting Early Christian Letters from the Apostle Paul to Late Antiquity Bronwen Neil, Pauline Allen, 2015-02-19 The first multi authored study of New Testament and late antique letter collections crossing the traditional divide between these disciplines Nero Miriam Griffin, 2002-09-11 Nero's personality and crimes have always intrigued historians and writers of fiction However his reign also illuminates the nature of the Julio Claudian Principate Nero's suicide brought to an end the dynasty Augustus had founded and placed in jeopardy the political system he had devised Miriam T Griffin's authoritative survey of Nero's reign incorporates both a chronological account as well as an analysis of the reasons for Nero's collapse under the pressure of his role as emperor Fate and Fortune in European Thought, ca. 1400-1650 Ovanes Akopyan, 2021-04-26 If the universe were conceived to fulfill a certain divine plan or to manifest God's will and glory what would the place of an individual be within this plan What is more if from the very beginning of its existence and through divine providence it were predestined to be driven toward a certain end how could people adjust their individual lives to the incognizable universal design and react to the obscure future fraught with both luck and failure These questions which have occupied humanity for centuries formed a remarkable element of early modern European thought This collection of essays presents new insights into what shaped and constituted reflections on fate and fortune between roughly 1400 and 1650 both in word and image This volume argues that these ideas were emblematic of a more fundamental argument about the self society and the universe and shows that their influence was more widespread geographically and thematically than hitherto assumed Contributors Damiano Acciarino Ovanes Akopyan Elisabeth Blum Paul Richard Blum Jo Coture Guido Giglioni Dalia Judovitz Sophie Raux Orlando Reade and John Sellars Transient Apostle Timothy Luckritz Marquis, 2013-04-30 DIV In a significant reevaluation of Paul's place in the early Christian story Timothy Luckritz Marquis explores the theme of travel in the apostle's correspondence He casts Paul's rhetorical strategies against the background of Augustus's age when Rome's wealth depended on conquests abroad the international commerce they facilitated and the incursion of foreign customs and peoples they brought about In so doing Luckritz Marquis provides an explanation for how Paul created maintained and expanded his local communities in the larger international Jesus movement and shows how Paul was a product of the material forces of his day DIV This is the single most sophisticated book on Paul to be written within the paradigms of contemporary critical thought By integrating its extensive erudite and compelling citations of the Greco Roman world in which Paul was writing with post colonial and post Marxist thinking it makes real progress in understanding Paul's letters Daniel Boyarin div div All Citizens of Christ: A Cosmopolitan Reading of Unity and Diversity in Paul's Letters Jeehei Park, 2022-10-10 In this work Jeehei Park proposes Greek and Roman cosmopolitanism as a constructive category through which to navigate a reading of human diversity and communal unity in Paul's letters Park takes a thorough look at the cosmopolitan ideas of Diogenes of Sinope Philo Plutarch Epictetus and Marcus Aurelius to establish Paul as an interlocutor who critically participated in the discourse of cosmopolitanism Park characterizes Paul's understanding of unity with the distinctive phrase heterogeneous unity in which human differences are respected and embraced rather than being universalized or homogenized This book offers a novel analysis of Paul's rhetoric about citizenship in Philippians and its adoption of Greek and Roman cosmopolitanism as an interpretive contour

Consolations from a Stoic Seneca, 2016-01-28 Seneca composed the Consolations while in exile on Corsica during 40-44 AD and used each opportunity to show off in writing his trendy Stoic ideas about life and the universe His three letters of condolences De Consolatione ad Marciam De Consolatione ad Polybium and De Consolatione ad Helviam caused a sensation in Rome when they were circulated and before long the disgraced aristocrat was recalled from banishment and given the plum appointment of tutor to the young future emperor Nero In each work Seneca employs many of the rhetorical devices common to the consolatio tradition while incorporating his unique philosophy His seemingly positive outlook on his own exile follows the Stoic principle that one should not be upset by uncontrollable events

Roman Readings Elaine Fantham, 2011-03-29 This volume presents closely connected articles by Elaine Fantham which deal with Roman responses to Greek literature on three major subjects the history and criticism of Latin poetry and rhetoric women in Roman life and dramatic poetry and the poetic representation of children in relation to their mothers and teachers The volume opens with papers on Roman comedy Menaechmi Trinummus Hautontimorumenos papers on women of the demimonde in Truculentus and Eunuchus Cistellaria and Poenulus The second part deals with rhetoric including the subject of imitation as a stylistic feature the study of performance comparing oratory and comedy and of declamation Papers on Ovid's Fasti include a study of failed rape scenes and papers concerned with women's cults The last part Senecan tragedy Lucan Statius focuses on Lucan's Civil War and his treatment of Caesar as well as Statius Thebaid and Achilleid

Plutarch's Practical Ethics Lieve Van Hoof, 2010-06-24 A study of Plutarch's practical ethics a group of texts within his Moralia designed to help powerful Greeks and Romans manage their ambitions and society's expectations successfully Lieve Van Hoof depicts philosophy under the Roman Empire as a kind of symbolic capital engendering power and prestige for author and reader alike

The Final Elegy: the Consolation of the Classics in Old Age Richard Oliver Brooks, 2022-08-01 Old age is a time of losses permanent cumulative and irreversible These losses include our loss of work in retirement the eclipse of our past our biological decline dependency resulting from such decline the foreshortening of our future the abandonment of belief in our own improvement and our society's progress and of course our death This book views these losses as part of an elegy of old age Elegy is a poetic or prose mourning of loss Sadness and other emotions result With elegiac understanding we detach ourselves from these losses to seek and find consolation This book is concerned with achieving intellectual detachment through meditative reflection with the help of reading and appreciating the classics The final stage of the old age elegy consolation can be found at least in part within the classics the garlands of repose The classics are broadly defined by Matthew Arnold as the best that has been thought and said or found in the fine arts To benefit from the classics requires a life long liberal education This education begins with an introduction to the classics in youth makes use of them during our adult lives and supplies their conclusion for old age meditation Such significant works enable us to place the losses we suffer within an intellectual framework of perennial ideas It is by means of such an intellectual framework that we secure consolation in old age Classic works familiarize us deeply with the losses and emotions we endure suggest substitutes for the goods of the life we have lost in old age offer opportunities of catharsis for the sadness we experience and help us transform ourselves in old age Classics help us see old age and its losses as part of a complete life which hold a unique value of its own while remaining part of larger nature processes history and intellectual traditions

Pearls of Comfort Martina Holder-Franz, 2025-08-26 Pearls are formed through time and under pressure Likewise the comfort described here arises over time and under the inevitable pressure of recognising and coping with our mortality Drawing on her deep roots in practical theology Martina Holder Franz invites us into a space where the ordinary becomes extraordinary where prayer scripture relationships and even simple artefacts serve as vessels of divine comfort Her ability to weave together biblical exegesis theological reflection and phenomenological research is a testament to her skill as a scholar and her compassion as a minister The insights she offers are as thought provoking as they are deeply moving shedding new light on the theology of comfort This book is more than an academic achievement it is a labour of love born out of decades of pastoral care and personal reflection
