global IP governance and the implications of its engagement for global distributive justice It investigates five cases on China's IP engagement in geographical indications the disclosure obligation IP and standardisation and its bilateral and multilateral IP engagement It takes a regulation oriented approach to examine substate and non state actors involved in China's global IP engagement identifies principles that have guided or constrained its engagement and discusses strategies actors have used in managing the principles Its focus on engagement directs attention to processes instead of outcomes which enables a more nuanced understanding of the role that China plays in global IP governance than the dichotomic categorisation of China either as a global IP rule taker or rule maker This book identifies two groups of strategies that China has used in its global IP engagement forum and agenda related strategies and principle related strategies The first group concerns questions of where and how China has advanced its IP agenda including multi forum engagement dissembling and more cohesive responsive engagement The second group consists of strategies to achieve a certain principle or manage contesting principles including modelling and balancing It shows that China's deployment of engagement strategies makes its IP system similar to those of the EU and the US Its balancing strategy has led to constructed inconsistency of its IP positions across forums This book argues that China still has some way to go to influence global IP agenda setting in a way matching its status as the second largest economy
