of Post-Imperial Nations Dietmar Rothermund, 2015-05-14 Memories of Post Imperial Nations presents the first transnational comparison of Great Britain the Netherlands Belgium France Portugal Italy and Japan all of whom lost or decolonized their overseas empires after 1945 Since the empires of the world crumbled the post imperial nations have been struggling to come to terms with the present and as recall sets in wars of memory have arisen leading to a process of collective editing As these nations rebuild themselves they shed old characteristics and acquire new ones looking at new orientations This book brings together varying perspectives with historians and political scientists of these nations attempting to bind memory and its experience of different post imperial nations Lies, Israel's Secret Service, and the Rabin Murder David Morrison,2000 The history of confessed lies from Israel s Secret Service and its impact on the continued cover up of Prime Minister Rabin s murder Here we are blaming Yigal Amir but it is not that simple It s much deeper and more complicated Dalia Rabin Philosof Olam Ha Isha Women s World November 1999 There is nothing sacred not in the verdict nor in the findings of investigation committees Tom Segev Ha aretz October 1999 Time, Tense, and Causation Michael Tooley,1997 Michael Tooley presents a major new philosophical study of time and its relation to causation The nature of time has always been one of the most fascinating and perplexing problems of philosophy it has in recent years become the focus of vigorous debate between advocates of rival theories The traditional tensed accounts of time which hold that time has a direction and that the flow of time is part of the nature of the universe have been challenged by tenseless accounts of time according to which past present and future are merely subjective features of experience rather than objective features of events Time Tense and Causation offers a new approach in many ways intermediate between these two rivals Tooley shares with tensed approaches the views that the universe is dynamic and that the past and present are real while the future is not but he rejects the view that this points to the existence of irreducible tensed facts Tooley s approach accounts for time in terms of its relation to causation he argues that the direction of time is based upon the direction of causation and that the key to understanding the dynamic nature of the universe is to understand the nature of causation He analyses tensed concepts and discusses semantic issues about truth and time Finally addressing the formidable difficulties posed for tensed accounts of time by the Special Theory of Relativity he suggests that a modified version of the theory compatible with the account of time in this book is to be preferred to the standard version Time Tense and Causation is rich in sophisticated and stimulating discussions of many of the deepest problems of metaphysics It will be essential reading for anyone specialising in this area of philosophy 42 Today Michael G.
