Construction Management In Developing Countries:

Construction Management in Developing Countries R. K. Loraine, 1992 A guide for project managers for the various actions which should be taken at each stage of development of an overseas project These stages include project acquisition as well as completion The book incorporates a number of check lists which relate to operations in relatively underdeveloped countries where there is neither support from the existing infrastructure nor from an existing company establishment It assumes a project by project approach to working overseas

Building A Body Of Knowledge In Project Management In Developing Countries George Ofori, 2023-06-22 This book presents a state of the art account of the recent developments and needs for project management in developing countries It adds to the current state of knowledge on project management in general by capturing current trends how they widen the content and scope of the field and why there is a need for a specialist body of knowledge for developing countries Eminent experts in this domain address the specific nature and demands of project management in developing countries in the context of its scope and priorities and discuss the relationships between this emerging field and established bodies of knowledge The book also addresses the future of project management in developing countries and how this might influence mainstream project management This important book will be an essential reference for practitioners students researchers and policymakers engaged in how to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of project management in developing countries

Contemporary Issues in Construction in Developing Countries George Ofori, 2012-06-26 Economic growth and socio economic development are particularly important for developing countries and the construction industry plays a central role in driving both of these Traditionally the issues faced have been assumed to be merely offshoots of those encountered in industrialised nations and are usually discussed only in this context In addition research in construction management and economics has generally failed to take proper account of the unique or highly emphasised characteristics of the industries in developing countries or their economic and social environment This volume challenges underlying assumptions and focuses on the distinct characteristics of construction in developing countries In so doing it considers the issues from the perspective of the developing countries themselves to present a strong contemporary picture for researchers It forms a companion volume to New Perspectives on Construction in Developing Countries which provides an update on the generic subjects relating to the construction industry in developing countries and covers new concepts and issues
