Youth and Disability Jenny Slater, 2016-02-11 In this ground breaking book Jenny Slater uses the lens of the reasonable to explore how normative understandings of youth disability and the intersecting identities of gender and sexuality impact upon the lives of young disabled people Although youth and disability have separately been thought within socio cultural frameworks rarely have sociological studies of youth and disability been brought together By taking an interdisciplinary critical disability studies approach to explore the socio cultural concepts of youth and disability alongside one another Slater convincingly demonstrates that youth and disability have been conceptualised within medical psychological frameworks for too long With chapters focusing on access and youth culture independence autonomy and disabled people's movements and the body gender and sexuality this volume's intersectional and transdisciplinary engagement with social theory offers a significant contribution to existing theoretical and empirical literature and knowledges around disability and youth Indeed through highlighting the ableism of adulthood and the falsity of conceptualising youth as a time of becoming independent adult the need to shift approaches to research around disabled youth is one of the main themes of the book This book therefore is a provocation to rethink what is implicit about youth and disability Moreover through such an endeavour this book sits as a challenge to Mr Reasonable War and Embodied Memory Maria Berghs,2016-02-17 How do you become an amputee war wounded victim or disabled person This book describes how an amputee and war wounded community was created after a decade long conflict 1991 2002 in Sierra Leone Beginning with a general socio cultural and historical analysis of what is understood by impairment and disability it also explains how disability was politically created both during the conflict and post conflict as violence became part of the everyday Despite participating in the neoliberal rebuilding of the nation state ex combatants and the security of the nation were the government s main priorities not amputee and war wounded people In order to survive people had to form partnerships with NGOs and participate in new discourses and practices around disability and rights thus accessing identities of disabled or persons with disabilities NGOs charities and religious organisations that understood impairment and disability were most successful at aiding this community of people However since discourse and practice on disability were mainly bureaucratic top down and not democratic about mainstreaming disability neoliberal organisations and INGOs have caused a new colonisation of consciousness and amputee and war wounded people have had to become skilled in negotiating these new forms of subjectivities to survive Critical Perspectives on User Involvement Marian Barnes,Phil Cotterell,2012 This original and insightful reader provides a critical stock take of the state of user involvement and will be an important resource for students studying health and social care and social work researchers and user activists Disability and Ageing Ann Leahy,2021-07-12 Establishing a critical and interdisciplinary dialogue this text engages with the typically disparate fields of social gerontology and disability studies It investigates the subjective experiences of two groups rarely considered together in research people ageing with long standing disability and people first experiencing disability with ageing This book challenges assumptions about impairment in later life and the residual nature of the fourth age It proposes that the experience of disability in older age reaches beyond the bodily context and can involve not only a challenge to a sense of value and meaning in life but also ongoing efforts in response Pathways to Inclusion John Lord,Peggy Hutchison,2007

Undoing Privilege Professor Bob Pease,2013-04-04 For every group that is oppressed another group is privileged In Undoing Privilege Bob Pease argues that privilege as the other side of oppression has received insufficient attention in both critical theories and in the practices of social change As a result dominant groups have been allowed to reinforce their dominance Undoing Privilege explores the main sites of privilege from Western dominance class elitism and white and patriarchal privilege to the less examined sites of heterosexual and able bodied privilege Pease points out that while the vast majority of people may be oppressed on one level many are also privileged on another He also demonstrates how members of privileged groups can engage critically with their own dominant position and explores the potential and limitations of them becoming allies against oppression and their own unearned privilege This is an essential book for all who are concerned about developing theories and practices for a socially just world Learning Disability and Everyday Life Alex

Cockain,2024-03-29 Learning Disability and Everyday Life brings into conversation ideas from social theory with thick descriptions of the everyday life of a middle aged man with learning disabilities and autism This book is markedly ethnographic in its orientation to the gritty graininess of everyday life eating drinking walking cooking talking and so on in with and alongside learning disability However preoccupation with the small coexists with a gaze intent upon capturing a bigger picture to the extent that the things constituting everyday life are deployed as prisms through and with which to critically reflect upon the wider worlds of disability and everyday life Such attention to the small and the big the micro and the macro allows this book to explore the ordinary and everyday ways meanings about normalcy and abnormalcy ability and disability are put together enacted practised made up in the sense of constituting and fabricating and crucially accomplished through and between people in specific and invariably contingent sociocultural discursive and material conditions of possibility This book will be of specific interest not only to students and scholars of disability but also to persons with lived experiences of disability This book will also be of interest to students and scholars of anthropology and sociology

Braithwaite,Teresa L. Thompson,1999-12 Each chapter provides a state of the art literature review practical applications of the material and key words and discussion questions to facilitate classroom use Jacket Disability, Discourse and Technology Najma Al Zidjaly,2016-04-29 Exclusion is the main predicament faced by people with disabilities across contexts and cultures yet it is one of the least academically studied concepts This book offers an applied linguistics perspective on critical and timely issues in disability research filling in a number of gaps in discourse analysis and disability studies The Construction of Disability in our Schools Kathryn Underwood,2019-02-18 This book is about the meaning of disability in schools The experience of children with disabilities in schools has undergone substantial change over the last twenty years and more with many children who would have once been living in institutions now going to school alongside their peers With this monumental shift and the continuing increased participation of people with disabilities one might wonder what disability means In the age of institutionalisation disability referred to those people who were not able to actively participate in society As it turns out many of the people who were deemed unable to participate were so only because the society in which they lived had kept them from active participation through institutionalisation In Ontario Canada where the author lives and works many adults with disabilities continue to live in institutions and are also active in their communities So it is not just the institutions that disable people There are many reasons that people fall into the classification of disabled and for some this classification begins in an institution often in the institution of school This book explores the different beliefs that teachers and parents hold about disability and the types of barriers that cause disability and how these beliefs translate into education practice
