Contemplative Literature Louis Komjathy, 2015-08-31 An anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer from a wide range of religious traditions This is the first theoretically informed and historically accurate comparative anthology of primary texts on meditation and contemplative prayer Written by international experts on the respective texts and corresponding traditions Contemplative Literature provides introductions to and primary sources on contemplative practice from various religious traditions The contributors explore classical Daoist apophatic meditation Quaker silent prayer Jewish Kabbalah Southern Buddhist meditation Sufi contemplation Eastern Orthodox prayer Pure Land Buddhist visualization Hindu classical Yoga Dominican Catholic prayer Daoist internal alchemy and modern therapeutic meditation Each introduction to a contemplative text discusses its historical context the associated religious tradition and literature the method of contemplative practice and the text's legacy and influence Volume editor Louis Komjathy opens the work with a thoughtful consideration of interpretive issues in the emerging interdisciplinary field of contemplative studies Readers will gain not only a nuanced understanding of important works of contemplative literature but also resources for understanding contemplative practice and contemplative experience from a comparative and cross cultural perspective We have not seen anything this bold and this global since Friedrich Heiler wrote his classic study on the typology of prayer over eighty years ago Komjathy and his essayists have vastly expanded the scope depth and sophistication of this project here In the process they have struggled with all of the critical questions around religious pluralism tradition and religious authority and have emboldened the comparative project itself Contemplation and comparison it turns out go very well together Jeffrey J Kripal author of Comparing Religions Coming to Terms Teachers and scholars undergraduate and graduate students and general readers interested in contemplative practice will cherish a book like this I'm happy that Louis Komjathy has done this great work It will undoubtedly be hailed as a milestone Ruben L F Habito author of Healing Breath Zen for Christians and Buddhists in a Wounded World The Challenges of Integrating Religion and Spirituality into Psychotherapy

Francis A. Martin, 2024-04-23 This book examines personal and professional understandings of religion in psychotherapy and advocates for integrity competency and cultural pluralism in clinical practice A major feature of this book is that it confirms the massive proliferation of religion oriented approaches to counseling and therapy in recent years It attributes this rise to opportunism and exaggerated individualism among therapists and to the frequent failures of professional associations clinical preparation programs and other influences In response to these influences it identifies the need for guiding principles for integrating religion into therapy discusses the religious issues that clients bring to therapy and advocates for major changes in clinical practice with emphasis on integrity and competence Building on a large volume of research and using evidence based conclusions it clarifies how these two major features of contemporary life can be integrated with integrity and competence The author maintains that religion should be a feature of the practice of counseling and therapy so long as it addresses the clinically relevant needs of clients However it also explores how the religion of counselors and therapists often expresses the needs of counselors and therapists instead of addressing the needs of their clients In the context of these questions and discussion of contentious challenges this book provides guidelines for relating religion with clinical practice and recommends needed actions by clinical preparation programs professional associations individual therapists state legislatures licensing boards social service agencies and corporations All of this stands on the conspicuous need for professional accountability in the delivery of mental health care Contemplation and Counseling P. Gregg

Issues in Science and Theology: Do Emotions Shape the World? Dirk Evers,Michael Fuller,Anne Runehov,Knut-Willy Sæther,2016-04-14 This volume examines emotions and emotional well being from a rich variety of theological philosophical and scientific and therapeutic perspectives To experience emotion is a part of being human but what are emotions How can theology philosophy and the natural sciences unpack the nature and content of emotions This volume is based on contributions to the 15th European Conference on Science and Theology held in Assisi Italy It brings together contributions from scholars of various academic backgrounds from around the world whose individual insights are made all the richer by their juxtaposition with those from experts in other fields leading to a unique exchange of ideas

Understanding New Religious Movements John A Saliba, 2004-09-08 Discussions of any religion can easily raise passions But arguments tend to become even more heated when the religion under discussion is characterized as new Divisions around the study of new religious movements NRMs or cults or nontraditional or alternative or emergent religions are so acute that there is even controversy over what to call them John Saliba strives to bring balance to these discussions by offering perspectives on new religions from different academic perspectives history psychology sociology law theology and counseling This approach provides rich descriptions of a broad range of movements while demonstrating how the differing aims of the disciplines can create much of the controversy around NRMs The new second edition has been updated and revised throughout and includes a new foreword by noted historian of religion J Gordon Melton For classes in religion or the social sciences or for interested individuals Understanding New Religious Movements offers the most objective introduction possible
