Irene Selsvold, Lewis Webb, 2020-04-09 This latest volume in the TRAC Themes in Theoretical Roman Archaeology series takes up posthuman theoretical perspectives to interpret Roman material culture These perspectives provide novel and compelling ways of grappling with theoretical problems in Roman archaeology producing new knowledge and questions about the complex relationships and interactions between humans and non humans in Roman culture and society Posthumanism constitutes a multitude of theoretical positions characterised by common critiques of anthropocentrism and human exceptionalism In part they react to the dominance of the linguistic turn in humanistic sciences These positions do not exclude the human but instead stress the mutual relationship between matter and discourse Moreover they consider the agency of non humans e g animals material culture landscapes climate and ideas their entanglement with humans and the situated nature of research Posthumanism has had substantial impacts in several fields including critical studies archaeology feminist studies even politics but have not yet emerged in any fulsome way in Classical Studies and Classical Archaeology This is the first volume on these themes in Roman Archaeology aimed at providing valuable perspectives into Roman myth art and material culture displacing and complicating notions of human exceptionalism and individualist subjectivity Contributions consider non human agencies particularly animal material environmental and divine agencies critiques of binary oppositions and gender roles and the Anthropocene Ultimately the papers stress that humans and non humans are entangled and imbricated in larger systems we are all post human Romans and Barbarians Beyond the Frontiers Sergio Gonzalez Sanchez, Alexandra Gugliemi, 2017-03-31 This first thematic volume of the new series TRAC Themes in Roman Archaeology brings renowned international experts to discuss different aspects of interactions between Romans and barbarians in the northwestern regions of Europe Northern Europe has become an interesting arena of academic debate around the topics of Roman imperialism and Roman barbarian interactions as these areas comprised Roman provincial territories the northern frontier system of the Roman Empire limes the vorlimes or buffer zone and the distant barbaricum This area is today host to several modern European nations with very different historical and academic discourses on their Roman past a factor in the recent tendency towards the fragmentation of approaches and the application of postcolonial theories that have favored the advent of a varied range of theoretical alternatives Case studies presented here span across disciplines and territories from American anthropological studies on transcultural discourse and provincial organization in Gaul to historical approaches to the propagandistic use of the limes in the early 20th century German empire from Danish research on warrior identities and Roman Scandinavian relations to innovative ideas on culture contact in Roman Ireland and from new views on Romano Germanic relations in Central European Barbaricum to a British comparative exercise on frontier cultures The volume is framed by a brilliant theoretical introduction by Prof Richard Hingley and a comprehensive concluding discussion by Prof David Mattingly

A Critical Examination of the Doctrine of Revelation in Evangelical Theology Carisa A. Ash, 2015-07-14 How God reveals himself is an important matter for Christians especially evangelicals For too long Carisa Ash contends evangelicals have rightly affirmed that God reveals through the created world but then they functionally neglect such revelation In this monograph Ash offers a corrective to this practice by presenting a theology of revelation that explores the commonalities between various forms of revelation world written and spoken word and Incarnate Word Particularly aimed at theologians interested in theological method Ash's study will also benefit people interested in faith and learning or interdisciplinary integration Ash argues that evangelicals must strive to align more closely their affirmations and their practice Her critique of current practices in theological method and integration along with the proposed theology of revelation are designed to help move the conversation forward

Power and Emotion Jonathan Heaney, Helena Flam, 2016-02-05 This collection is concerned with two fundamental concepts of social science power and emotion Power permeates all human relationships and is constitutive of social economic and political life It stands at the centre of social and political theorizing and its study has enriched scholarship within a wide range of disciplines including sociology political science philosophy and anthropology The conceptual cluster of emotion by contrast had a more troubled time within these same disciplines However since the 1970s and the advent of the emotional turn there has been a widespread re evaluation of emotion in and for our shared social existence and today emotions research is at forefront of contemporary social science Yet although both concepts are now widely seen as fundamental research on these two phenomena has tended to run in parallel This collection featuring leading international scholars seeks to unite and deploy both concepts emotion and power in a variety of ways and on a diverse array of topics such as education organizations social movements politics old and new media rhetoric and in comparative intellectual history The results are at the bleeding edge of scholarship on these concepts and will make important reading for practitioners and students working in the sociology of emotions social and political power political sociology organization studies and for sociological and political theory more generally This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Political Power

Collective Unravelings of the Hegemonic Web Becky L. Noël Smith, Katherine Becker, Libbi R. Miller, Natasha S. Reid, Michele D. Sorensen, 2014-08-01

Collective Unravelings of the Hegemonic Web represents the culmination of work that emerged from 2013 Curriculum Pedagogy annual conference The notion of the hegemonic web is the defining theme of the volume In this collection authors struggle to unravel and take apart pieces of the complex web that are so deeply embedded into normative ways of thinking being and making meaning They also grapple with understanding the role that hegemony plays and the influence that it has on identity curriculum teaching and learning Finally scholars included in this volume describe their efforts to engage and undergo counter hegemonic movements by sharing their stories and struggles
