Constructing Europe's Identity:

Constructing Europe's Identity Lars-Erik Cederman, 2001 The authors assess not only the benefits but also the costs of attempts to assert a European identity Referring to debates about the respective merits of deepening and widening they address the equally important associated tradeoffs between exclusion and dilution they point to the risks on the one hand of a Europe that excludes foreign goods immigrants and entire countries and on the other of an unfocused definition of Europe that may dilute the very values that a European identity is intended to protect The Discursive Construction of European Identities Michał Krzyżanowski, 2010 This book looks at the discursive construction of European identities in a variety of institutional and non institutional contexts and through a variety of social and political actors Its multilevel and interdisciplinary approach rooted in the Discourse Historical tradition of Critical Discourse Analysis allows for a comparison of identity constructions at different levels of Europe's social and political organisation and in different modes of communication The book analyses discourses as diverse as those of the EU politicians of Europe's national media as well as of migrants living in Europe It offers a set of integrated models and analytical procedures which bring to the fore the inherent dynamism and complexity of both bottom up and top down European identity constructions Constructing Europe's Identity Lars-Erik Cederman, 2001 Departing from traditional analyses based on internal measures this book explores the creation of a European identity through the EU's interaction with the external environment The book concentrates on three broad areas socioeconomic issues foreign and security policy and home affairs each associated with a Maastricht pillar Cultural Identity and Archaeology Paul Graves-Brown, Siân Jones, Clive Gamble, 1996 Cultural identity is a key area of debate in contemporary Europe Despite widespread use of the past in the construction of ethnic national and European identity theories of cultural identity have been neglected in archaeology Focusing on the interrelationships between concepts of cultural identity today and the interpretation of past cultural groups Cultural Identity and Archaeology offers proactive archaeological perspectives in the debate surrounding European identities This fascinating and thought provoking book covers three key areas It considers how material remains are used in the interpretation of cultural identities for example pan Celtic culture and Bronze Age Europe Finally it looks at archaeological evidence for the construction of cultural identities in the European past The authors are critical of monolithic constructions of Europe and also of the ethnic and national groups within it in place of such exclusive cultural political and territorial entities the book argues for a consideration of the diverse hybrid and multiple nature of European cultural identities Constructing and Communicating Europe Olga Gyarfasova, Karin Liebhart, 2014 Turn the other Greek how the Eurozone crisis changes the image of Greeks and what do visual representations of Greeks tell us about European identity Daniela Chaliw Discursive and visual representations of EU presidencies Austria Slovenia Czech Republic Hungary and Poland in comparison Karin Liebhart Symbols and values of EP election campaigns in Hungary gnes Kapit ny and G bor Kapit ny Nationalists selling EU the 2009

Cerutti,Sonia Lucarelli,2008-06-30 This book examines the link between political identity and legitimacy in the European Union Stimulated by the crisis of legitimacy and identity suffered by the EU after the referenda on the Constitutional Treaty the editors have developed a theoretical framework to examine the interplay between these two items in the problematic development of the EU into a fully fledged political actor The contributors to the volume seek to Redefine the key notions in the rigorous way of political philosophy thus avoiding the generic or imprecise language usage found in a large part of political science literature on identity Test these concepts in the analysis of EU policies that may reveal the world views and the principles upon which EU legislation is based and whose degree of acceptance on the side of the citizens is an indicator of how far a shared political identity has developed Featuring case studies on foreign and environmental policy biosafety policy biotechnology regulation civil society human rights promotion as well as studies on the role of memory space and external views on the process of European identity building this book will be of interest to students and researchers of political science political philosophy European politics and European Studies Constructions of European Identity

Senem Ayd?n-Düzgit,2012-12-15 This book examines EU discourses on Turkey in the European Commission European Parliament and three EU member states France Germany and Britain to reveal the discursive construction of European identity through EU representations of Turkey Based on a poststructuralist framework that conceptualizes identity as discursively constructed through difference the book applies Critical Discourse Analysis to the analysis of texts and argues that there are multiple Europe s that are constructed in talks over the enlargement of Turkey varying within and between different ideological national and institutional contexts The book discerns four main discourse topics over which these Europe s are constructed corresponding to the conceptualization of Europe as a security community as an upholder of democratic values as a political project and as a cultural space The book argues that Turkey constitutes a key case in exploring various discursive constructs of European identity since the talks on Turkey pave the way for the construction of different versions of Europe in discourse

European Identity in the Context of National Identity Bettina Westle, Paolo Segatti, 2016 This book provides an unprecedented insight into the multiple ways through which citizens of 16 countries connect their own national identity to European identity

European Citizenship--in the Process of Construction Ditta Dolejšiová, Miguel Angel García López, Youth Partnership (Organization), Council of Europe, European Commission, 2009-01-01 European citizenship is still a contested concept bringing together two notions and therefore two different debates one around Europe and European identity And The other related to citizenship and non citizenship Europe In an ongoing process of construction should be shaped and defined by its citizens Young people in particular have a special interest in and concern about what kind of Europe they want to live in it is therefore important to reflect on how European citizenship and debates around European identity could help and empower young people to actively contribute to building Europe The essays collected here address this issue They present the debates and findings of the research seminar entitled Young People and Active European Citizenship organised by the Youth Partnership between the Council of Europe And The European Commission European citizenship remains one of the main priorities of this partnership

Making The European Polity Erik Oddvar Eriksen, 2007-04-11 Today s Europe is marked by an amazing pace of integration The European Union now consists of twenty five member states however there is confusion and disagreement about its future design Making The European Polity investigates how the European Union should develop and organize itself and offers a reflexive approach to integration based on the theory of communicative action It conceives of the EU as a law based supranational polity lacking the identity of a people as well as the coercive means of a state and argues that it is a polity with an organized capacity to act but no sole apex of authority Making an important contribution to the theoretical discussions on the EU these contributors explore a range of issues including legitimacy post national democracy and integration and provide in depth analyses of social and tax policy foreign policy identity formation the reform process and the constitutional effects of enlargement This book will appeal to all political scientists and particularly to students and researchers of European Politics

Cultural Diversity, European Identity and the Legitimacy of the EU Dieter Fuchs, Hans-Dieter Klingemann, 2011 As a consequence of various rounds of EU enlargements the degree of cultural diversity in Europe has intensified a phenomenon which is increasingly perceived as problematic by many EU citizens This fascinating book not only empirically explores the current state of the identity and the legitimacy of the EU as viewed by its citizens but also evaluates their attitudes towards it The expert contributors show that the development of a European identity and a common European culture is a prerequisite for European integration that European identity and a common political culture will not develop rapidly but emerge slowly and that the beginnings of a European identity and a common European culture are currently emerging The roles of civil society organizations and political parties are examined within this context and an explanatory model with subjective predictors of the attitudes towards the EU is tested The empirical analysis is underpinned by a theoretical framework incorporating operational definitions and conceptual discussion of legitimacy and identity This intriguing and thought provoking book will be of great interest to academics researchers and students focusing on political science and international relations The Euro Crisis and European Identities Charlotte Galpin,2017-06-21 This book builds upon our knowledge of the far reaching economic political and social effects of the Euro crisis on the European Union by providing a unique study of European identities In particular it considers the impact on the construction of European identities in political and media discourse in Germany Ireland and Poland three countries with profoundly different experiences of the crisis and never before compared in a single study Offering an original insight into the dynamics of identity change at moments of upheaval the author argues that political and media actors in the early stages of the crisis drew on long standing identities in order to make sense of the crisis in the public sphere European identity discourses are thus resilient to change but become central to legitimising and contesting bailouts and further economic integration As such the author challenges the commonly held view that identities change dramatically at times of crisis but argues that this very resilience helps to understand the EU s current divisions The study of identity during the Euro crisis sheds important light on the prospects for European solidarity as well as on the future of the single currency as an identity building project The book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in the fields of EU politics comparative European politics and identity politics European Identities During Wars and Revolutions Salome Minesashvili,2022-05-07 This book provides an up to date discussion of the effect of crises on European identities in the post Soviet states In doing so the book presents an original study on dynamics of European identities during four crises in Georgia and Ukraine More specifically it considers the comparative impact of two colour revolutions and wars involving Russia on European identity constructions in Georgian and Ukrainian public identity discourses studied through national mass media It compares outcomes of change and continuity during such big bang events in identity discourses and establishes scope conditions that allow or inhibit change The major finding of the study is that the selected events can indeed instigate sudden shifts in European identity discourses but only when the elite power structure also changes in such hybrid regimes as Ukraine and Georgia These changes include shifts in elite groups and in the relative power they hold in the overall power structure National Identity and Europe in Times of Crisis Christian Karner,Monika Kopytowska,2017-08-29 Europeanness is challenged by the multiple crises and debates happening across the continent There is long standing disagreement over Europe's boundaries and politicians and citizens continually reflect on the EU's past present and future This book analyses such reflections and political struggles in a variety of national and local contexts
