The Archaeology of Late Antique 'Paganism' Luke

Lavan, Michael Mulryan, 2011-06-22 Papers from the conference The Archaeology of Late Antique Paganism held in 2005 in Leuven Women, Islam, and Abbasid Identity Nadia Maria El Cheikh, 2015-10-06 When the Abbasids overthrew the

Umayyads in 750 CE and ushered in Islam's Golden Age ideas about gender and sexuality were central to the process by which the caliphate achieved self definition and articulated its systems of power and thought Nadia Maria El Cheikh's study reveals the importance of women to the writing of early Islamic history Theory and Practice in Late Antique Archaeology

Luke A. Lavan, William Bowden, 2003 An exploration of theoretical frameworks methodology and field practice suited to the late antique Mediterranean Broad themes such as long term change topography the economy and social life are covered but in terms of the issues and problems being tackled by scholars of late antiquity From the Later Roman Empire to Late

Antiquity and Beyond Averil Cameron, 2023-05-23 Averil Cameron is one of the leading historians of late antiquity and Byzantium This collection Cameron's third in the Variorum series discusses the changing approach among historians of the later Roman empire from the 1960s to the present and the articles reproduced have been chosen to reflect both these wider changes in treatments of the subject as well as Cameron's own development as a historian over many decades It provides a revealing and important survey of some profound historiographical changes Her volume contains fundamental papers and reviews that tell a story in which she has played a leading part They move from her early days as an ancient historian to her important contribution in the establishment of the field of late antiquity and point to her later work as a Byzantinist a trajectory rivalled by few other scholars The book will be important for scholars and students of the later Roman empire and late antiquity and for anyone interested in the inheritance of Edward Gibbon the perennial questions about the end of the Roman empire and its supposed decline or the emergence of Islam in the early seventh century and its relation to the late antique world CS 1113 Gender in Late Medieval and Early Modern Europe Marianna Muravyeva, Raisa Maria

Toivo, 2013 This project is an attempt to challenge the canonical gender concept while trying to specify what gender was in the medieval and early modern world Despite the emphasis on individual identity and difference that past research claims much of this history still focuses on hierarchical or dichotomous pairing of masculinity and femininity or male and female The emphasis on differences has been largely based on the research of such topics as premarital sex religious deviance rape and violence these are topics that were in the early modern society criminal or at least easily marginalizing The central focus of the book is to test verify and challenge the methodology and use the concepts of gender specifically applicable to the period of great change and transition The volume contains two theoretical sections supplemented by case studies of gender through specific practices such as mysticism witchcraft crime and legal behaviour The first section Concepts analyzes certain useful notions such as patriarchy and morality The second section Identities seeks to deepen this analysis into the studies of female identities in various situations cultures and dimensions and to show the fluidity and flexibility of what is called femininity nowadays The third part Practises seeks to rethink the bigger narratives through the case studies coming from Northern Europe to see how conventional ideas of gender did not work in this particular region The case studies also challenge the established narratives in such well researched historiographies as witchcraft and sexual offences and at the same time suggest new insights for the developing fields of study such as history of homicide

Coptic Identity and Ayyubid Politics in Egypt 1218-1250 Kurt J. Werthmuller, 2010-05-01 Using the life and writings of Cyril III Ibn Laqlaq 75th patriarch of the Coptic Orthodox Church along with a variety of Christian and Muslim chroniclers this study explores the identity and context of the Christian community of Egypt and its relations with the leadership of the Ayyubid dynasty in the early thirteenth century Kurt Werthmuller introduces new scholarship that illuminates the varied relationships between medieval Christians of Egypt and their Muslim neighbors Demonstrating that the Coptic community was neither passive nor static the author discusses the active role played by the Copts in the formation and evolution of their own identity within the wider political and societal context of this period In particular he examines the boundaries between Copts and the wider Egyptian society in the Ayyubid period in three in between spaces patriarchal authority religious conversion and monasticism

Tertullian the African David E. Wilhite, 2011-06-24 Who was Tertullian and what can we know about him This work explores his social identities focusing on his North African milieu Theories from the discipline of social cultural anthropology including kinship class and ethnicity are accommodated and applied to selections of Tertullian's writings In light of postcolonial concerns this study utilizes the categories of Roman colonizers indigenous Africans and new elites The third category new elites is actually intended to destabilize the other two denying any essential Roman or African identity Thereafter samples from Tertullian's writings serve to illustrate comparisons of his own identities and the identities of his rhetorical opponents The overall study finds Tertullian's identities to be manifold complex and discursive Additionally his writings are understood to reflect antagonism toward Romans including Christian Romans which is significant for his so called Montanism and Romanized Africans While Tertullian accommodates much from Graeco Roman literature laws and customs he nevertheless retains a strongly stated non Roman ness and an African ity which is highlighted in the present monograph

Literature and Society in the Fourth Century AD Lieve Van Hoof, Peter Van Nuffelen, 2014-10-23 Late Antiquity is often assumed to have witnessed the demise of literature as a social force and its retreat into the school and the private reading room whereas the sophists of the Second Sophistic were influential social players their late antique counterparts are thought to have been overshadowed by bishops Literature and Society in the Fourth Century AD argues that this presumed difference should be attributed less to a fundamental change in the role of literature than to different scholarly methodologies with which Greek and Latin texts from the second and the fourth century are being studied Focusing on performance the literary construction of reality and self presentation this volume highlights how literature continued to play an important role in fourth century elite society

Imperial Rome AD 284 to 363 Jill Harries, 2012-03-07 This book is about the reinvention of the Roman Empire during the eighty years between the accession of Diocletian and the death of Julian How had it changed The emperors were still warriors and expected to take the field Rome was still the capital at least symbolically There was still a Roman senate though with new rules brought in by Constantine There were still provincial governors but more now and with fewer duties in smaller areas and military command was increasingly separated from civil jurisdiction and administration The neighbours in Persia Germania and on the Danube were more assertive and better organised which had a knock on effect on Roman institutions The achievement of Diocletian and his successors down to Julian was to create a viable apparatus of control which allowed a large and at times unstable area to be policed defended and exploited The book offers a different perspective on the development often taken to be the distinctive feature of these years namely the rise of Christianity Imperial endorsement and patronage of the Christian god and the expanded social role of the Church are a significant prelude to the Byzantine state The author argues that the reigns of the Christian supporting Constantine and his sons were a foretaste of what was to come but not a complete or coherent statement of how Church and State were to react with each other

Leadership, Social Cohesion, and Identity in Late Antique Spain and Gaul (500-700) Dolores Castro, Fernando Ruchesi, 2025-10-01 The replacement of the Roman Empire in the West with emerging kingdoms like Visigothic Spain and Merovingian Gaul resulted in new societies but without major population displacement Societies changed because identities shifted and new points of cohesion formed under different leaders and leadership structures This volume examines two kingdoms in the post Roman west to understand how this process took shape Though exhibiting striking continuities with the Roman past Gaul and Spain emerged as distinctive but not isolated political entities that forged different strategies and drew upon different resources to strengthen their unity shape social ties and consolidate their political status

Plato in the Third Sophistic Ryan C. Fowler, 2014-10-09 Plato in the Third Sophistic examines the influence and impact of Plato and Platonism in the era of Byzantine and Christian rhetoric The volume brings together specially commissioned articles from leading scholars of late antique philosophy and literature Their examinations show that Plato is the single most important and influential literary figure used to frame the literature of this time Plato in the Third Sophistic will help scholars and students from a wide range of disciplines to better understand the development of Christian literature in this era as an essential link in the history of Platonism as well as that of Christianity      Religious Identity in Late Antiquity Elizabeth Digeser, Robert Frakes, 2006-01-08 Explore the different aspects of religious identity as it evolved from the third century onward from multiple contributors and different methodological approaches      Gender, Memory, and Identity in the Roman World Jussi Rantala, 2025-10-01 This volume approaches three key concepts in Roman history gender memory and identity and demonstrates the significance of their interaction in all social levels and during all periods of Imperial Rome When societies as well as individuals form their identities remembrance and references to the past play a significant role The aim of Gender Memory and Identity in the Roman World is to cast light on the constructing and the maintaining of both public and private identities in the Roman Empire through memory and to highlight in particular the role of gender in that process While approaching this subject the contributors to this volume scrutinise both the literature and material sources pointing out how widespread the close relationship between gender memory and identity was A major aim of Gender Memory and Identity in the Roman World as a whole is to point out the significance of the interaction between these three concepts in both the upper and lower levels of Roman society and how it remained an important question through the period from Augustus right into Late Antiquity
