Construction Information Source and Reference Guide Jack W. Ward, 1981 Construction Sealants and Adhesives Julian R. Panek, John Philip Cook, 1992-04-16. Completely revised and expanded, the Third Edition covers the numerous improvements in sealant and adhesive technology since 1984. Features the latest advances in sealants, gaskets, tapes, waterproofing membranes, and silicone structural sealant glazing. Includes new chapters on insulating glass sealants, structural silicone adhesives, and membrane waterproofing. Revises and supplements existing specifications with upgraded recommendations and proposed performance requirements where standards do not exist. A guideline for architectural specifications covering sealants, fire stops, membranes, and coatings is included for the first time. As always, the latest ASTM Committee sealant standards are included. Construction Dewatering J. Patrick Powers, 1992-03-27. The control of groundwater is one of the most common and complicated problems encountered on a construction site. The Second Edition explains the physical laws governing groundwater and soils and provides practical solutions to construction dewatering problems. New chapters on groundwater computer modeling, dealing with industrial wastes and contaminated water, and operating long-term dewatering systems provide the latest information on these important topics. What Every Engineer Should Know about Engineering Information Resources Schenk, 1984-07-26 Labor Literature United States.
