Consuming Passions The Anthropology Of E:

Consuming Passions and Patterns of Consumption Preston T. Miracle, Nicki Milner, Nicky Milner, 2002 This volume outlines and illustrates the importance of considering social contexts of food consumption in interpretations of past and present human societies giving a new twist to the old adage You are what you eat What we eat how we eat are and always have been fundamental to the structuring of social life both in the past and in the present The remains of food are also among the most common archaeological finds The papers in this volume explore and develop ways of using food to write social history they move beyond taphonomic and economic properties of subsistence resources to examine the social background and cultural contexts of food preparation and consumption Contributions break new ground in method and interpretation in case studies spanning the Palaeolithic to the Present and from the Amazon to the Arctic This volume will thus be essential reading for all archaeologists anthropologists and social historians interested in the prehistory and history of food consumption

The Maecenas and the Madrigalist Anthony M. Cummings, 2004 Musicologists are increasingly focusing upon less formal private institutions and traditions of patronage informal acad and soc the activities of individuals and convivial aristocratic co Early 16th cent Florence was characterized by the practices of a series of these vital institutions Such informal institutions had considerable virtues as agents of patronage their less routinized practices freed them to engage in experimentation that the more formal institutions would not support This study reconstructs the memberships cultural activities and musical exper of these informal Florentine institutions and relates them to the emergence of the madrigal the foremost musical genre of early modern Europe Richly illus with visual materials and musical examples

Saharan Frontiers James McDougall, Judith Scheele, 2021-12-22 Makes a compelling case for the importance of Saharan history both in its own right and in its articulations with the histories of other regions American Ethnologist The Sahara has long been portrayed as a barrier that divides the Mediterranean world from Africa proper and isolates the countries of the Maghrib from their southern and eastern neighbors Rather than viewing the desert as an isolating barrier this volume takes up historian Fernand Braudel s description of the Sahara as the second face of the Mediterranean The essays recast the history of the region with the Sahara at its center uncovering a story of densely interdependent networks that span the desert s vast expanse They explore the relationship between the desert s islands and shores and the connections and commonalities that unite the region Contributors draw on extensive ethnographic and historical research to address topics such as trade and migration local notions of place territoriality and movement Saharan cities and the links among ecological regional and world historical approaches to understanding the Sahara Contributions by Dida Badi Julien Brachet Armelle Chopin Charles Gr mont Peregrine Horden Olivier Leservoisier Laurence Marfaing E Ann McDougall Abderrahmane Moussaoui Mohamed Oudada Fatma Oussedik and Katia Sch rle A compilation of coherent well structured case studies addressing highly significant issues for the contemporary Sahara a groundbreaking study Social Anthropology Altogether this book is highly recommendable Its key contribution is in teaching us to conceive of the Sahara not as a region clearly defined by natural features but as a space that exists extends and expands according to its vibrant human interconnectedness Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott, Warren Belasco, Peter Jackson, 2013-10-10 This handbook is essential reference for scholars needing a comprehensive overview into research on the social political economic psychological geographical and historical aspects of food Community Health Psychology Victor De La Cancela, Jean Lau Chin, Yvonne Jenkins, 2016-01-28 As the number of people of color rapidly grows within the US population health providers in these communities have become increasingly aware of the need to address the concerns and problems particular to each group It s also become clear that as the delivery of our health care systems evolve a new approach must be summoned to build systems both cost effective and socially responsible Community Health Psychology offers a new and different perspective for redressing the gaps in our systems of care The authors contend that in order to begin an attempt at eradicating the more intractable societal problems health providers need to tailor themselves to a more culturally competent approach which addresses all members of a community they claim to serve Global Sikhs Opinderjit Kaur Takhar, Doris R. Jakobsh, 2023-03-13 This book brings a broad holistic approach to the study of the phenomena of the global Sikh community referred to collectively as the Panth With contributions by an interdisciplinary range of experts the volume provides insight into current debates and discussions around Sikh identity in the twenty first century It examines the terms Sikh Sikhism and Sikhi and considers how those outside of the margins fit into larger definitions of the wider Panth Both the secular and religious dimensions of being a Sikh are explored and lived experience is a central theme throughout The chapters engage with issues of authority and diversity as well as representation as Sikhs become increasingly settled and active within their diasporic locales The book includes a variety of case studies and makes a valuable contribution to the growing field of Sikh studies Ceramics in Circumpolar Prehistory Peter Jordan, Kevin Gibbs, 2019-03-07 Sheds light on the motivations that lay behind the adoption of pottery the challenges that had to be overcome Spectacles of Death in Ancient Rome Donald G. Kyle, 2012-11-12 The elaborate and inventive slaughter of humans and animals in the arena fed an insatiable desire for violent spectacle among the Roman people Donald G Kyle combines the words of ancient authors with current scholarly research and cross cultural perspectives as he explores the origins and historical development of the games who the victims were and why they were chosen how the Romans disposed of the thousands of resulting corpses the complex religious and ritual aspects of institutionalised violence the particularly savage treatment given to defiant Christians This lively and original work provides compelling sometimes controversial perspectives on the bloody entertainments of ancient Rome which continue to fascinate us to this day Andean Foodways John E. Staller, 2020-12-01 There is widespread acknowledgement among anthropologists archaeologists ethnobotanists as well as researchers in related disciplines that specific foods and cuisines are linked very strongly to the formation and maintenance of cultural identity and ethnicity Strong associations of foodways with culture are particularly characteristic of South American Andean cultures Food and drink convey complex social and cultural meanings that can provide insights into regional interactions social complexity cultural hybridization and ethnogenesis This edited volume presents novel and creative anthropological archaeological historical and iconographic research on Andean food and culture from diverse temporal periods and spatial settings The breadth and scope of the contributions provides original insights into a diversity of topics such as the role of food in Andean political economies the transformation of foodways and cuisines through time and ancient iconographic representations of plants and animals that were used as food Thus this volume is distinguished from most of the published literature in that specific foods cuisines and culinary practices are the primary subject matter through which aspects of Andean culture are interpreted Around the Tuscan Table Carole Counihan, 2004 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company New Directions in Biocultural Anthropology Molly K. Zuckerman, Debra L. Martin, 2016-10-17 Biocultural or biosocial anthropology is a research approach that views biology and culture as dialectically and inextricably intertwined explicitly emphasizing the dynamic interaction between humans and their larger social cultural and physical environments The biocultural approach emerged in anthropology in the 1960s matured in the 1980s and is now one of the dominant paradigms in anthropology particularly within biological anthropology This volume gathers contributions from the top scholars in biocultural anthropology focusing on six of the most influential productive and important areas of research within biocultural anthropology These are critical and synthetic approaches within biocultural anthropology biocultural approaches to identity including race and racism health diet and nutrition infectious disease from antiquity to the modern era epidemiologic transitions and population dynamics and inequality and violence studies Focusing on these six major areas of burgeoning research within biocultural anthropology makes the proposed volume timely widely applicable and useful to scholars engaging in biocultural research and students interested in the biocultural approach and synthetic in its coverage of contemporary scholarship in biocultural anthropology Students will be able to grasp the history of the biocultural approach and how that history continues to impact scholarship as well as the scope of current research within the approach and the foci of biocultural research into the future Importantly contributions in the text follow a consistent format of a discussion of method and theory relative to a particular aspect of the above six topics followed by a case study applying the surveyed method and theory This structure will engage students by providing real world examples of anthropological issues and demonstrating how biocultural method and theory can be used to elucidate and resolve them Key features include Contributions which span the breadth of approaches and topics within biological anthropology from the insights granted through work with ancient human remains to those granted through collaborative research with contemporary peoples Comprehensive treatment of diverse topics within biocultural anthropology from human variation and adaptability to recent disease pandemics the embodied effects of race and racism industrialization and the rise of allergy and autoimmune diseases and the sociopolitics of slavery and torture Contributions and sections united by thematically cohesive threads Clear jargon free language in a text that is designed to be pedagogically flexible contributions are written to be both understandable and engaging to both undergraduate and graduate students Provision of synthetic theory method and data in each contribution The use of richly contextualized case studies driven by empirical data Through case study driven contributions each chapter demonstrates how biocultural approaches can be used to better understand and resolve real world problems and anthropological issues

Feasting & Fasting in Opera Pierpaolo Polzonetti, 2021-11-11 Feasting and Fasting in Operashows that the consumption of food and drink is an essential component of opera both on and off stage In this book opera scholar Pierpaolo Polzonetti explores how convivial culture shaped the birth of opera and opera going rituals until the mid nineteenth century when eating and drinking at the opera house were still common Through analyses of convivial scenes in operas the book also shows how the consumption of food and drink and sharing or the refusal to do so define characters identity and relationships Feasting and Fasting in Opera moves chronologically from around 1480 to the middle of the nineteenth century when Wagner s operatic reforms banished refreshments during the performance and mandated a darkened auditorium and absorbed listening The book focuses on questions of comedy pleasure embodiment and indulgence looking at fasting poisoning food disorders body types diet and social ethnic and gender identities in both tragic and comic operas from Monteverdi to Puccini Polzonetti also sheds new light on the diet Maria Callas underwent in preparation for her famous performance as Violetta the consumptive heroine of Verdi s La traviata Neither food lovers nor opera scholars will want to miss Polzonetti s page turning and imaginative book

The Bakers of Paris and the Bread Question, 1700-1775 Steven L. Kaplan,1996-06-19 Because the bakers and their bread were central to Parisian daily life Kaplan s study is also a comprehensive meditation on an entire society its government and its capacity to endure

Food Culture, Consumption and Society Paolo Corvo,2016-04-29 This book analyses how consumer food choices have undergone profound changes in the context of the economic crisis including the rediscovery of local products and the diffusion of multi ethnic food Corvo argues that a new ecological relationship between food and the environment is needed to reduce food problems such as food waste and obesity

Failure and Nerve in the Academic Study of Religion William E. Arnal,Willi Braun,Russell T. McCutcheon,2014-09-11 Failure and Nerve in the Academic Study of Religion presents a provocative critique of the unwillingness of modern scholars to publically distinguish research into comparative religion from confessional studies written within denominationally affiliated institutions The book offers the 19th Century founders of the study of religion as a bracing corrective to contemporary timidity The issue was analysed and documented by Wiebe a quarter of a century ago Here marking Wiebe s work a wide range of contributors reassess the methodology and ambition of contemporary religious research The book argues that conceptualizing religion as part of the world of human action and experience is the first requirement of the study of religion

The Future of the Nation-State Sverker Gustavsson,Leif Lewin,2005-09-30 The tension between culture politics and economy has become one the dominant anxieties of modern society On the one hand people endeavour to maintain and develop their cultural identity on the other there are many forces for international integration How to understand and explain this fundamental issue is illuminated in nine essays by eminent scholars

Food, Science and Society P.S. Belton,Teresa Belton,2013-06-29 There is widespread concern amongst consumers about the safety and acceptability of food and there are clearly communication gaps between consumers many food professionals and food industry This book offers accounts of the two way nature of this difficult communication process and steps that can be made to bridge these communication gaps in a variety of social and cultural environments Individual chapters of the book analyze the roles of science culture and risk perception and of mass media and attitudes towards eating An additional section describes the interface between scientists and lay people with regard to policy making and agricultural practice
