

Examining the concepts of levels and standards of consumption and living...

- Four terms Stancliffe Davis (1945) used to understand consumption patterns:
 - Consumption-commodities (goods and services)
 - Living-consumption and other dimensions of life
 - Level-implies that which is actually experienced/enjoyed/suffered
 - Standard-what is "urgently desired and striven for..." (Davis, 1945)
- Level of Consumption includes:
 - The overall amount of food, fuel and other non-measurable goods consumed
 - The use of house, car, clothing
 - The use of services
- Standard of Living is:
 - The level of consumption urgently desired and strived for
 - inherently human to want more, but what "more" looks like varies based on age, gender, culture, income, etc.
 - Typically the standard is higher than the level
