Contemporary Chinese Ink Painting:

Ink Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),2013 Featuring 70 works in various media paintings calligraphy photographs woodblock prints video and sculpture that were created during the past three decades Ink Art Past as Present in Contemporary China will demonstrate how China's ancient pattern of seeking cultural renewal through the reinterpretation of past models remains a viable creative path Although all of the artists have transformed their sources through new modes of expression visitors will recognize thematic aesthetic or technical attributes in their creations that have meaningful links to China's artistic past The exhibition will be organized thematically into four parts and will include such highlights as Xu Bing's dramatic Book from the Sky ca 1988 an installation that will fill an entire gallery Family Tree 2000 a set of vivid photographs documenting a performance by Zhang Huan in which his facial features and his identity are obscured gradually by physiognomic texts that are inscribed directly onto his face and Map of China 2006 by Ai Weiwei which is constructed entirely of wood salvaged from demolished Qing dynasty temples

Ink Worlds Richard Vinograd, Ellen Huang, 2018-05-29 Ink arts have flourished in China for more than two millennia Once primarily associated with elite culture ink painting is now undergoing a popular resurgence Ink Worlds explores the modern evolution of this art form from scrolls and panel paintings to photographic and video forms and documents how Chinese ink arts speak to present day concerns while simultaneously referencing deeply historical materials themes and techniques Presenting the work of some two dozen artists from China Taiwan Hong Kong and the United States in more than 100 full color reproductions the book spans pioneering abstract work from the late 1960s through twenty first century technological innovations Nine illustrated essays build a compelling case for understanding the modern form as a distinct genre fusing art and science history and technology painting and film into an accessible theory of

Kuo, 2010 Text by Jason C Kuo Jizi and His Art in Contemporary China David Adam Brubaker, Chunchen Wang, 2015-02-12 This interdisciplinary study promotes the thesis that some contemporary Chinese ink artists succeed in using principles of traditional Chinese aesthetics to convey the union of self with nature others and the universe The investigation is a case study of the writings and paintings of Jizi an ink wash artist in Beijing who combines images of icy mountains Tibetan landscapes cosmic vistas and enclosures of personal existence Jizi's success in expressing the unification of these dimensions is confirmed by developing and applying an interpretation of Jing Hao's classic description of the authentic image which resonates with the vitality of nature To find words for resonance with visible nature the inquiry extends to such writers as Li Zehou Arthur Danto and Maurice Merleau Ponty In short an account of authenticity in Chinese ink painting is offered experimentally as a means for assessing whether contemporary Chinese artworks are expressive of Chinese philosophy and culture The text includes stylistic comparisons with artists such as E C Escher Guo Xi Jia Youfu Liu Guosong Rene Magritte Piet Mondrian and Xu Bing The result is an appreciation of the healing influence of Chinese ink art in a global culture that is vibrant complex diverse and affirming of the present In this rigorous far reaching and original analysis of contemporary ink art painting Brubaker and Wang focus our attention on the work of one independent painter Jizi whose work exemplifies an uncanny marriage between ink art and contemporary concerns In the central chapters Brubaker persuasively argues that in this work Jizi captures principles essential to traditional Chinese aesthetics articulated in terms of wholeness emptiness and visibility that enable the works to express the unification of the self with nature and the universe as a whole It does this through forms that are innovative and part of artistic practices and discourses that are becoming increasingly global Mary Wiseman The City University of New York This important publication focuses on the evocative ink wash paintings of an artist who has over the course of decades demonstrated an unwavering commitment to exploring the technical formal philosophical and experiential dimensions of his chosen medium The essays commentaries and critical reflections collected in this volume present unique perspectives on Jizi's practice significantly contributing to the growing body of scholarship on the continuing vitality of the ink wash tradition in the global contemporary Dr Wenny Teo The Courtauld Institute of Art Through an in depth study of the ink painting practice of contemporary Chinese artist Jizi the authors discover Chinese ink painting's philosophical perspectives cosmic foundations and contemporary possibilities They also uncovered a way to enter into the artist's rich and profound spiritual world through Jizi's expansive visual patterning and refined spiritual imagery he activates a long and great cultural tradition Yu Yang Central Academy of Fine Arts Traditional and Contemporary

Chinese Brush Painting Cheng Yan, 2004-07 This fascinating easy to follow guide captures all the freshness beauty and spontaneity of Chinese brush painting Using step by step photographs and his own evocative pictures the author explains all the techniques bringing to life animals birds fish and insects creating atmosphere in landscapes and transforming flowers and plants into wonderful works of art Cover Festival of Contemporary Chinese Ink Painting Celia Huang, 1982

Contemporary Chinese Ink Painting Bera Nordal, 1998 廖亦男 Lucy Lim, James Cahill, 1983 Fresh Ink Hao Sheng, Joseph Scheier-Dolberg, Yan Yang, 2010 Contemporary Chinese society has been called a culture at the crossroads of the past and the future and nowhere is this tension more apparent than in Chinese ink painting today Artists working in this highly traditional medium draw from a wealth of ancient themes but must resolve them within contemporary Chinese culture In Fresh Ink ten of China's leading contemporary artists engage directly with the past by creating ten new works in response to older masterpieces ranging from classical Chinese scrolls to a scholar's rock to a drip painting by Jackson Pollock Their personal visions reflect diverse concerns and influences whether Xu Bing's play on the absurdly monumental Qin Feng's system of communicative signs or the keen eye for society evident in the work of Li Jin Yu Hong and Liu Xiaodong An adventurous pairing of contemporary artworks with their forbears Fresh Ink blurs the boundaries between traditional and contemporary East and West The Poet's Brush Jason C. Kuo, 2016-09-23 This volume of 300 tables by Lo Ching shows how selective borrowing from the Chinese classical canon and from Western cultures enabled this artist to make work that is relevant to his own society as well as to an increasingly globalized world Lo Ching is one of China's foremost contemporary poet painters Despite the differences in their circumstances many contemporary Chinese painters share one common trait they have been stimulated by contact with contemporary Western art but they did not merely imitate it instead they have rediscovered the abstract and expressionistic possibilities in their own tradition Lo Ching has internalized such conflicting state of tradition and modernity in his work The Chinese tradition takes a not so subtle turn in the Taiwanese environment The rise of industrialization post industrialization and curious issue of Taiwan's cultural identity created a nurturing and controversial ground for creative talents Industrialization and post industrialization are subjects of Lo Ching's work Certainly there is an oddity in Lo Ching's depiction of alien saucers and floating rocks and mountains yet Lo Ching's work presents a fresh curiosity that had not been explored in the practice of ink painting precisely for that reason Lo Ching's work has a heightened sense of awareness in its presentation of any subject in this matter and that Lo Ching's work is very conscious of the environment that its content was derived from Urbanity interestingly enough would be an idea that is in opposition to the tradition of Chinese literati landscape painting for it means the destruction of nature Parallel Lines JONNY. YARKER, 2017 China Lorenzo Sassoli de Bianchi, 2005 China The New Contemporary Painting presents the works of 18 artists working in the medium today Some of the paintings shown in this volume provide insight into China's current cultural social and political climate while drawing on methods and styles of traditional Chinese art delicate and intricate ink painting calligraphy etc Conversely others choose not to draw from the past but relate instead to Western ideas and interpretations Contains paintings by Zhang Xiaogang Feng Zhenjie Zhou Thiehai Yang Quian Zhang Xiaotao He Sen Shi Xinning Li Songsong Li Dafang Wang Xingwei Fu Hong Zheng Hao Zheng Fanzhi Wei Guangqing Wu Yiming Ma Liuming and Jam Qimsong
