Writers NA NA, 2015-12-25 Analyzing Literature-to-Film Adaptations Mary H. Snyder, 2011-01-20 This is a wise and wonderful book which among other things provides a novelist's eloquent insider's perspective on the transformation of one of her books into a film Thirty years ago Stanley Cavell published The World Viewed Reflections on the Ontology of Film which opened up an intellectual highway between philosophy and cinema Now at long last Mary Snyder's book accomplishes a parallel clearing of the way between film making the art of the novel and literary and critical theory Every page is bubbling with creative theoretical and pedagogical insights Her intertextual readings of a score of literature to film adaptations are priceless in themselves I only wish that the title of the book had been taken from her chapter The Fascination Never Ends Michael Payne Professor of English Emeritus Bucknell University Critical questions specific to film adaptations need to be not only developed but established These questions or approaches must be accessible to students including those students who are not yet educationally sophisticated enough to digest purely theoretical material Analyzing Literature to Film Adaptations A Novelist's Exploration and Guide demonstrates an exploration into film adaptation from a novelist's perspective comprising a study of literary creation as well as the process product of adaptation and moving into the author's collaboration with a screenwriter which ultimately becomes a journey to understand and identify the implications of literature to film adaptation and the complexities and problems it raises Drawing from both classic and contemporary film adaptations Frankenstein The Hours The Constant Gardener Children of Men The Lovely Bones Away from Her the book puts forth an understanding of film and film analysis as well as addresses literary analysis The crux of the book however lies in its introduction to an academic means for critical analysis of film adaptations Approaches to World Literature Joachim Küpper, 2013-12-20 The present volume introduces new considerations on the topic of World Literature penned by leading representatives of the discipline from the United States India Japan the Middle East England France and Germany The essays revolve around the question of what specifically in today's rapidly globalizing world may be the productive implications of the concept of World Literature which was first developed in the 18th century and then elaborated on by Goethe The discussions include problems such as different script systems with varying literary functions as well as questions addressing the relationship between ethnic self description and cultural belonging The contributions result from a conference that took place at the Dahlem Humanities Center Freie Universität Berlin in 2012 Romance Readers and Romance Writers
