Nationalism and Minority Identities in Islamic Societies Maya Shatzmiller, 2005 The movement of nation building in Islamic societies away from the secular or Pan Arab models of the early twentieth century toward a variety of nationalisms was accompanied by growing antagonism between the Muslim majority and ethnic or religious minorities The papers in Nationalism and Minority Identities in Islamic Societies offer a comparative analysis of how these minorities developed their own distinctive identities within the modern Islamic nation state The essays focus on identity formation in five minority groups Copts in Egypt Baha is and Christians in Pakistan Berbers in Algeria and Morocco and Kurds in Turkey and Iraq While every minority community is distinctive the experiences of each show that a state s authoritarian rule uncompromising attitude towards expressions of particularism and failure to offer tools for inclusion are all responsible for the politicization and radicalization of minority identities The place of Islam in this process is complex while its initial pluralistic role was transformed through the creation of the modern nation state the radicalization of society in turn radicalized and politicized minority identities Minority groups though at times possessing a measure of political autonomy remain intensely vulnerable Contributors include Juan R I Cole University of Michigan David L Crawford Fairfield University Michael Gunter Tennessee Technological University Azzedine Layachi St John s University Richard C Martin Emory University Paul S Rowe University of Western Ontario Maya Shatzmiller University of Western Ontario Charles D Smith University of Arizona Pieterella van Doorn Harder Valparaiso University the late Linda S Walbridge University of Oklahoma and M Hakan Yavuz University of Utah Announcing the series Studies in Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict General Editors Sid Noel and Richard Vernon co directors of University of Western Ontario s Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict Research Group Studies in Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict is a series that examines the political dimensions of nationality in the contemporary world The series includes both scholarly monographs and edited volumes which consider the varied sources and political expressions of national identities the politics of multiple loyalty the domestic and international effects of competing identities within a single state and the causes of and political responses to conflict between ethnic and religious groups The volumes are designed for use by university students scholars and interested general readers

Youth Identity, Politics and Change in Contemporary Kurdistan Shivan Fazil, Bahar Baser, 2021-09-01 Today s youth are challenging the older political class around the world and are forming new political generations Examples from South Africa and elsewhere where peace processes were deemed to be successful show signs of youth disapproval of the current post conflict conditions Moreover the Arab Spring witnessed numerous youth movements emerge in authoritarian and illiberal contexts This book was prepared in light of these discussions and aims to contribute to these ongoing debates on youth politics by presenting the situation of youth in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq KRI as a case study It will be the first book that specifically focuses on the Iraqi Kurdish youth and their political social and economic participation in Kurdistan The contemporary history of the KRI is marked by conflict war and ethnic cleansing under Saddam Hussein and the tyranny of the Ba ath regime significantly affecting the political situation of the Kurds in the Middle East Most of the recent academic literature has focused on the broader picture or in other words the macro politics of the Kurdish conundrum within Iraq and beyond There is little scholarship about the Kurdish population and their socio economic conditions after 2003 and almost none about the younger generation of Kurds who came of age during autonomous Kurdish rule This is a generation that unlike their forebears has no direct memory of the decades long campaigns of repression Studying and examining the rise of this generation of Kurdish young millennials Generation 2000 who came of age in the aftermath of the United States invasion of Iraq offers a unique approach to understand the dynamics in a region that underwent a substantial socio political transformation after 2003 as well as the impact of these developments on the youth population Pursuing different themes and lines of inquiry the contributors of the book analyze the challenges and opportunities for young men and women to fulfil their needs and desires and contribute to the ongoing quest for nationhood and nation building In this book our aim is to bring together a variety of perspectives from local and foreign academics who have been working on pressing issues in Kurdistan and beyond The chapters focus on an array of themes particularly including political participation political situation and change religiosity and extremism Taken together the chapters provide us with an introduction to youth politics in Kurdistan This book is just the first attempt to open academic and nonacademic debate on this subject at a time when protests around youth related issues are becoming a more prevalent method of political engagement in the region Our hope is that more research follows and supplements what has not been addressed in this book especially through the introduction of first hand youth perspectives to the core of this analysis and giving them a voice in nonviolent platforms typology of nationalism thus facilitating communication between different branches of nationalism studies Hroch ends the volume with his own commentary on the various contributions This book was published as a special issue of Nationalities Papers Histories of Nationalism beyond Europe Jan Záhorký, Antonio M. Morone, 2022-07-08 This edited collection explores varying shapes of nationalism in different regional and historical settings in order to analyse the important role that nationalism has played in shaping the contemporary world Taking a global approach the collection includes case studies from the Middle East Africa Asia and North America Unique not only in its wide range of geographically diverse case studies this book is also innovative due to its comparative approach that combines different perspectives on how nations have been understood and how they came into being highlighting the transnational connections between various countries The authors examine what is meant by the concepts of nation and national identity discussing themes such as citizenship ethnicity historical symbols and the role of elites By exploring these entangled categories of nationalism the authors argue that throughout history elites have created artificial versions of nationalism through symbolism and mythology which has led to nationalism being understood through social constructivist or primordialist lenses This diverse collection will appeal to researchers studying nationalism including historians political scientists and anthropologists Nationalism in the Vernacular Raluha Puia, 2023-08-24 Examines how oral culture provided a platform to people in shaping the discourse of Mizo nationalism Nationalism and Self-Government Scott L. Greer, 2012-02-01 Scotland and Catalonia both ancient nations with strong nationalisms within larger states are exemplars of the management of ethnic conflict in multinational democracies and of global trends toward regional government Focusing on these two countries Scott L Greer explores why nationalist mobilization arose when it did and why it stopped at autonomy rather than statehood He challenges the notion that national identity or institutional design explains their relative success as stable multinational democracies and argues that the key is their strong regional societies and their regional organizations preferences for autonomy and environmental stability Enlightenment, Nationalism, Orthodoxy Paschalis M. Kitromilides, 2024-10-28 The first section of this volume aims to examine various aspects of the impact of Enlightenment thought in the Balkans in the 18th and 19th centuries Particular topics include the idea of modernization with respect to the role of science or the position of women and the growth of new forms of political consciousness but Professor Kitromilides is throughout concerned with the conflict between these incoming political cultural and religious ideas and the traditions of Orthodoxy which had dominated the region under the Ottomans Of the articles a number focus specifically on the Greek world both before and after the creation of an independent Greek world and extend the coverage to include Greek communities beyond Europe Similarly the second part of the volume on dilemmas of nationalism looks also at Greek irredentism in Asia Minor and Cyprus The final item combines bibliographical additions with the author's further reflections on the subjects covered here and their historiography Ethno-symbolism and Nationalism Anthony D. Smith, 2009-02-02 Anthony D Smith is Emeritus Professor of Nationalism and Ethnicity at the London School of Economics and is considered one of the founders of the interdisciplinary field of nationalism studies Anthony Smith has developed an approach to the study of nations and nationalism called ethno symbolism which is concerned with the nature of ethnic groups and nations and the need to consider their symbolic dimensions This text provides a concise statement of an ethno symbolic approach to the study of nations and nationalism and at the same time embodies a general statement of Anthony Smith s contribution to this approach and its application to the central issues of nations and nationalism The text sets out the theoretical background of the emergence of ethno symbolism in a sustained and systematic argument explains its analysis of the formation of nations their persistence and change and the role of nationalism demonstrates that an ethno symbolic approach provides an important supplement and corrective to past and present intellectual orthodoxies in the field and addresses the main theoretical criticisms levelled at an ethno symbolic approach Drawing together and developing earlier brief resumes of Anthony Smith s approach this book represents a summary of the theoretical aspects of his work in the field since 1986 It will be useful to students and to all those who are interested in the issues raised by a study of ethnicity nations and nationalism Reading The Shape Of The World Henry Schwarz,1996-05-23 This collection extends the boundaries of cultural studies beyond its current Euro American emphasis It takes readers on a wide ranging journey from the stock market to Islamic law from the African household to the Soviet apartment from the nuances of nationalism to the rude noises of capitalistic rhetoric introducing readers to the social and historical forces that shape textual practice The essays are richly imaginative and empirically detailed ingeniously connecting regional debates and local dynamics to universal global issues Finally Reading The Shape of the World reconfigures cultural studies theories and methodologies resulting in a fresh and empowering approach to this dynamic field of inquiry At the heart of this study is the optimistic belief that reading still matters that the world can be shaped by reading and that critical practices of reading can transform the contours of social life
