The Writer in Petrograd and the House of Arts Martha Weitzel

Hickey,2009-06-16 Founded by Maksim Gorky and Kornei Chukovsky in 1919 and disbanded in 1922 the Petrograd House of Arts occupied a crucial moment in Russia's cultural history By chronicling the rise and fall of this literary landmark this book conveys in greater depth and detail than ever before a significant but little studied period in Soviet literature Poised between Russian culture's past and her Soviet future between pre and post Revolutionary generations this once lavish private home on the Nevsky Prospekt housed as many as fifty six poets novelists critics and artists at one time during a period of great social and political turbulence And as such Hickey contends the House of Arts served as a crucible for a literature in transition Hickey shows how the House of Arts though virtually ignored by Soviet era cultural historians played a critical role in shaping the lively literature of the next decade a literature often straddling the border between fiction and non fiction Considering prose writers such as Yevgeny Zamyatin Olga Forsh the Serapion Brothers group Viktor Shklovsky Boris Eikhenbaum as well as poets including Alexander Blok Nikolay Gumilev Anna Radlova Osip Mandelstam and Vladislav Khodasevich she traces the comings and goings at the House of Arts the meetings and readings and lectures and most of all the powerful influence of these interactions on those who briefly lived and worked there In her work the Petrograd House of Arts appears for the first time in all its complexity and importance as a focal point for the social and cultural ferment of the day and a turning point in the direction of Russian literature and criticism "Objectivists" 1927-1934 Tom Sharp,1982

George Herbert Mead's Concept of Society Jean-François Côté,2015-12-03 This book offers a new look at Mead's concept of society in an attempt to reconstruct its significance for sociological theory Chapter 1 offers a critical genealogical reading of writings from early articles to the latest books where Mead articulates his views on social reform social psychology and the gradual theorization of self and society Chapter 2 pays attention to the phylogenetic and ontogenetic processes at work in both the self and society by comparing Mead's social psychology with Freudian and Lacanian psychoanalysis Chapter 3 brings together all the elements that are part of the structures of self and society within a topological and dialectical schematization of their respective and mutual relations Chapter 4 is devoted to the passage of Mead's views from social psychology to sociology with a critical look at Herbert Blumer's developments in symbolic interactionism as the presumed main legitimate heir of Mead's social psychology Chapter 5 examines how Mead's general philosophical views fit within the new epistemological context of contemporary society based on communication and debates on postmodernity Recovering the Later Georg Lukács Matthew J. Smetona,2023-04-25 New resources for the critique of capitalism in culture from the late writings of Georg Lukács one of the first authors in the tradition of Western Marxism The Hungarian literary critic philosopher and Marxist social theorist Georg Lukács is best known for his 1923 History and Class Consciousness in which he offered an influential critique of reification from the standpoint of a dialectical conception of totality While Lukács's early works have been central to the study of Marxist thought his later works have often been dismissed as political accommodations to Stalinism In this new study Matthew Smetona argues for a revisionist interpretation of Lukács's later writings on topics as diverse as aesthetics politics and ontology Smetona demonstrates that these writings reveal a methodological unity that follows directly from History and Class Consciousness in which realism in both literary and extraliterary senses becomes the basis for the critique of reification As Luk cs had demonstrated reification is that process by which the social relations between persons seem to take on the character of a thing Rooted in Marx s concept of commodity fetishism the critique of reification proved in Luk cs s hands to be a flexible tool capable of clarifying all manner of obfuscations that arise within the social relations that capitalism produces To recover the later work of Luk cs is to open up new horizons for Marxist cultural criticism The Bible & Literature Elizabeth Boyle ,Carol Dempsey,2015-05-01

A Counter-History of Composition Byron Hawk,2007-11-25 A Counter History of Composition contests the foundational disciplinary assumption that vitalism and contemporary rhetoric represent opposing disconnected poles in the writing tradition Vitalism has been historically linked to expressivism and concurrently dismissed as innate intuitive and unteachable whereas rhetoric is seen as a rational teachable method for producing argumentative texts Counter to this Byron Hawk identifies vitalism as the ground for producing rhetorical texts the product of complex material relations rather than the product of chance Through insightful historical analysis ranging from classical Greek rhetoric to contemporary complexity theory Hawk defines three forms of vitalism oppositional investigative and complex and argues for their application in the environments where students write and think today Hawk proposes that complex vitalism will prove a useful tool in formulating post dialectical pedagogies most notably in the context of emerging digital media He relates two specific examples of applying complex vitalism in the classroom and calls for the reexamination and reinvention of current self limiting pedagogies to incorporate vitalism and complexity theory
