The Social Analysis of Class Structure Frank Parkin,2018-05-11 Originally published in 1974 The Social Analysis of Class Structure is an edited collection addressing class formation and class relations in industrial society The range and variety of the contributions provide a useful guide to the central concerns of British sociology in the 1970s Encompassing general theorizing and empirical investigation the book examines the treatment of crucial issues of the day such as the relationships between race and class formation and sexual subordination as well addressing historical questions such as the Victorian labour aristocracy and the incorporation of the working class Contemporary Portugal Lawrence S. Graham,Harry M. Makler,2014-07-03 Despite worldwide interest in the Portuguese Revolution of 1974 Portugal remained for most people a little known and poorly understood country neglected for years by social scientists Editors Graham and Makler brought together for the first time in one substantive volume most of the leading social science experts on Portugal The contributors highly original research represents the best work generated by the International Conference Group on Modern Portugal at its two major conferences held in 1973 and 1976 The result is a comprehensive collection of essays discussing in detail the events leading up to the revolution the causes of the military coup and the movement of a society on the brink of revolutionary upheaval toward open democratic parliamentary elections As the first interdisciplinary study to span fifty years of Portuguese history from the Estado Novo of 1926 to the eventual social democratic republic this book stands alone in its field The specialist as well as the general reader will find insights into the dynamics of Portugal's people politics and economics Inclusions and Exclusions in European Societies Martin Kohli,Alison Woodward,2004-01-14 European social development over the last century has been characterized by an increasing inclusiveness of people into the ever larger collectives of the nation state the European Union and categories of welfare entitlement Yet recent empirical data suggests that income gaps are growing and that within the physical borders of Europe there is a greater cultural and ethnic heterogeneity than ever before Effectively many of the processes of inclusion are accompanied by exclusion and the creation of new borders identities and rights Inclusions and Exclusions in European Societies features eminent contributors from across Europe addressing the problems of inclusion and exclusion as they affect European societies today Amongst the topics addressed are to what extent classical theory provides useful ways of reframing European societies which inequalities in work and welfare persist today and in what ways they have been transformed in processes of European integration how considerations of new identities and the pressure of globalisation affect the forms of inclusion and exclusion in Europe This book constitutes a unique stock taking of many of the central issues in European social integration or disintegration today

Love in a Changing Greek Climate, and Other Essays Roger Just, 2019-01-22 This book comprises eight essays concerned with the ethnography of Greece and in particular of the village of Spartokhori on the small Ionian island of Meganisi Lefkadha where between 1977 and 1980 the author conducted anthropological fieldwork For the most part the essays focus on aspects of family kinship and gender as they were to be found in what was in the 1970s a remote rural community Greek society has of course undergone profound changes over the last forty years and these essays thus serve to document a way of life that has now virtually disappeared Importantly however they also deal with the transformation of rural Greek society as it was occurring at the time The book will appeal to social anthropologists sociologists and historians of Modern Greece and to anyone interested in rural Mediterranean society

Conditions of Happiness R. Veenhoven, 2013-11-27 This book is about the degree to which people take pleasure in life in short happiness It tries to identify conditions that favor a positive appreciation of life Thus it hopes to shed more light on a longstanding and intriguing question and possibly to guide attempts to improve the human lot During the preceding decades a growing number of investigations have dealt with this issue As a result there is now a sizable body of data Yet it is quite difficult to make sense of it There is a muddle of theories concepts and indicators and many of the findings seem to be contradictory This book attempts to bring some order into the field The study draws on an inventory of empirical investigations which involved valid indicators of happiness 245 studies are involved which together yield some 4000 observations for the main part correlational ones These results are presented in full detail in the simultaneously published Databook of Happiness Veenhoven 1984 The present volume distils conclusions from that wealth of data It tries to assess the reality value of the findings and the degree to which correlations reflect the conditions of happiness rather than the consequences of it It then attempts to place the scattered findings in context As such this work is not a typical study of literature on happiness

Area Handbook for Spain Eugene K. Keefe, 1976 Manual descriptivo de España

A Social and Economic History of Twentieth-century Europe Gerold Ambrosius, William H. Hubbard, 1989 This comprehensive single volume source of information on the social and economic transformations in Europe over the past hundred years fills a critical gap in our knowledge. It examines population trends, social structures and economic structures and offers an integrative overview of changes in both the organization of the economy and the role of the state in economic management. Cultural Sociology from Concern to Distance Lilli Zeuner, 2003. In her book Zeuner gives the answers involving the question of how sociological understanding of culture has changed over time. Her analyses encompass the most important classical authors of cultural analysis in sociology: Emile Durkheim, Max Weber and Georg Simmel and some outstanding contemporary contributors: Margaret Archer, Robert Wuthnow and Pierre Bourdieu. The Mediterranean City in Transition Lila Leontidou, 1990-04-26. Postwar capitalist development has involved a transition from polarization toward diffuse urbanization and flexibility. The timing and form of this transition and its effects on spatial structures have varied as is especially evident in the case of Mediterranean Europe. Focusing upon Greater Athens between 1948 and 1981, the crucial period of the transition, Lila Leontidou explores the role of social classes in urban development. The New Criminology Ian Taylor, Ian Taylor, M.B., Paul Walton, Jock Young, 2002-11.
