Contemporary Literature Of Asia:

Contemporary Literature of Asia Arthur W. Biddle, Gloria Bien, Vinay Dharwadker, 1996 Edited by regional experts this anthology of contemporary Asian literature offers a broad selection of recent fiction drama and poetry in the best translations many otherwise unavailable in English in North America It focuses on the contemporary literature from India Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka Bangladesh Indonesia Malaysia Singapore the Philippines China Hong Kong Taiwan Korea Japan and Vietnam focuses on post colonial writing with most selections written since 1960 that reveals the cultural social and political concerns of today s emerging and newly independent nations and provides introductory essays for each major section written by regional experts who chose the selections that offer brief histories cultural information and literary background essential in understanding the works

The Columbia Companion to Modern East Asian Literature Joshua S. Mostow, 2003 This extraordinary one volume guide to the modern literatures of China Japan and Korea is the definitive reference work on the subject in the English language With more than one hundred articles that show how a host of authors and literary movements have contributed to the general literary development of their respective countries this companion is an essential starting point for the study of East Asian literatures Comprehensive thematic essays introduce each geographical section with historical overviews and surveys of persistent themes in the literature examined including nationalism gender family relations and sexuality Following the thematic essays are the individual entries over forty for China over fifty for Japan and almost thirty for Korea featuring everything from detailed analyses of the works of Tanizaki Jun ichiro and Murakami Haruki to far ranging explorations of avant garde fiction in China and postwar novels in Korea Arrayed chronologically each entry is self contained though extensive cross referencing affords readers the opportunity to gain a more synoptic view of the work author or movement The unrivaled opportunities for comparative analysis alone make this unique companion an indispensable reference for anyone interested in the burgeoning field of Asian literature Although the literatures of China Japan and Korea are each allotted separate sections the editors constantly kept an eye open to those writers works and movements that transcend national boundaries This includes for example Chinese authors who lived and wrote in Japan Japanese authors who wrote in classical Chinese and Korean authors who write in Japanese whether under the colonial occupation or because they are resident in Japan The waves of modernization can be seen as reaching each of these countries in a staggered fashion with eddies and back flows between them then complicating the picture further This volume provides a vivid sense of this dynamic interplay

Islam in Contemporary Literature John C. Hawley,2021-04-06 Suitable for the classroom but completely accessible to the general reader this volume presents many of the most interesting authors writing today from an Islamic background Kamel Daoud Yasmine el Rashidi Hisham Matar Tahar Djaout Mohsin Hamid Hanif Kureishi Edward Said Driss Chaibi Kamila Shamsie Tahar ben Jelloun Leila Aboulela Abdellah Ta a Ayaan Hirsi Ali Hisham Matar Eboo Patel Reza Aslan and Tamim Ansary among others who embody the various strains of Islamic interpretation and conflict This study discusses an ongoing Reformation in Islam focusing on the Arab Spring the role of women and sexuality the clash of civilizations assimilation and cosmopolitanism jihad pluralism across cultures free speech and apostasy In an atmosphere of political and religious awakening these authors search for a voice for individual rights while nations seek to restore a disrupted destiny Questions of de Arabization of the religion ecumenicism comparative modernities and the role of literature thread themselves throughout the chapters of the book The Jin Yong Phenomenon Ann Huss,Jianmei Liu,2007 This pioneering book is the first English language collection of academic articles on Jin Yong s works It introduces an important dissenting voice in Chinese literature to the English speaking audience Jin Yong is hailed as the most influential martial arts novelist in twentieth century Chinese literary history His novels are regarded by readers and critics as the common language of Chinese around the world because of their international circulation and various adaptations film television serials comic books video games Not only has the public affirmed the popularity and literary value of his novels but the academic world has finally begun to notice his achievement as well The significance of this book lies in its interpretation of Jin Yong s novels through the larger lens of twentieth century Chinese literature It considers the important theoretical issues arising from such terms as modernity gender nationalism East West conflict and high literature versus low culture The contributors of the articles are all eminent scholars including famous exiled scholar philosopher and writer Liu Zaifu Asian American Literature in Transition, 1996-2020: Volume 4 Betsy Huang,Victor Román Mendoza,2021-06-17 This volume examines the concerns political literary and identity based of contemporary Asian American literatures in neoliberal times Beginning Ethnic American Literatures Helena Grice,2001-06-23 This text is designed to introduce students not only to ethnic American writers but also to the cultural contexts and literary traditions in which their work is situated Contemporary Pakistani Fiction in English Cara N. Cilano,2013-04-12 Looking at a wide selection of Pakistani novels in English this book explores how literary texts imaginatively probe the past convey the present and project a future in terms that facilitate a sense of collective belonging The novels discussed cover a range of historical movements and developments including pre 20th century Islamic history the 1947 partition the 1971 Pakistani war the Zia years and post 9 11 Pakistan as well as pervasive themes including ethnonationalist tensions the zamindari system and conspiracy thinking The book offers a range of representations of how and whether collective belonging takes shape and illustrates how the Pakistani novel in English often overshadowed by the proliferation of the Indian novel in English complements Pakistani multi lingual literary imaginaries by presenting alternatives to standard versions of history and by highlighting the issues English language literary production bring to the fore in a broader Pakistani context It goes on to look at the literary devices and themes used to portray idea nation and state as a foundation for collective belonging The book illustrates the distinct contributions the Pakistani novel in English makes to the larger fields of postcolonial and South Asian literary and cultural studies Representations of Precarity in South Asian Literature in English Om Prakash Dwivedi,2022-10-15 This book analyzes precarious conditions and their manifestations in recent South Asian literature in English Themes of disability rural urban division caste terrorism poverty gender necropolitics and uneven globalization are discussed in this book by established and emerging international scholars Drawing their arguments from literary works rooted in the neoliberal period the chapters show how the extractive ideology of neoliberalism invades the cultural political economic and social spheres of postcolonial South Asia The book explores different forms of precarity to investigate the vulnerable and insecure life conditions embodied in the everyday life of South Asia enabling the reader to see through the rhetoric of rising Asia A Subject Index to Current Literature Australian Public Affairs Information Service, British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy,Wai-chew Sim,2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism. Additionally, the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations. If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration, it is also the case that the diverse trans-cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed. Addressing difference, commensurability, and form-related notions of truth and content, these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose.

Working as academics and critics from Singapore, a useful vantage point, Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case, but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia, for example Japan, Hong Kong, and Malaysia. This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s: Salman Rushdie, Timothy Mo, Kazuo Ishiguro, as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal, Romesh Gunasekera, Monica Ali, Hari Kunzru, Ooi Yang May, and second, a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo's Sour Sweet (1982) and Tariq Ali's A Sultan in Palermo (2005), the fourth volume in his Islam quintet.

The Comparative Study of Traditional Asian Literatures, Vladimir Braginsky, 2013-10-11. This book represents the first ever published introduction to the comparative study of traditional Asian literatures embracing three vast literary zones: Arab, Islamic, Indo-South East Asian, and Sino-Far Eastern. The aim of the book is to outline the main properties of Asian literatures in the period of reflective traditionalism, the early centuries CE to the first half of the 19th century, when the creation of a vast body of aesthetically significant works was coupled with the emergence of literary self-awareness, when the nature of the creative process, the poetics and functions of the literary works, and the ways of their influence on the reader were thoroughly comprehended and committed to writing for the first time. The book is intended for specialists in Asian literatures, comparative literature, and literary theory, and for students of these topics.

East Asian Literatures, 2006. This volume discusses the past, present, and future perspectives of literature in Japan, China, and South Korea, and its interface with India. Since this being a largely unexplored area, an attempt has been made to present a true picture of the literature and cultural milieu of the East Asian countries to the readers through well-researched, thought-provoking, and enlightening papers contributed by eminent scholars from India, Japan, China, and Korea. It is a historical fact that India maintained strong cultural ties with East Asian countries, directly or indirectly, through religion and culture since ancient times. This cultural bond has become all the more significant and meaningful in this age of information technology and globalization. In this context, literature has a great role to play. To be precise, it is only through literature that this existing bond of cultural affinity among India and East Asian countries could be nurtured and strengthened. This book gives a vivid picture of the state of the past and present literary trends in Japan China and South Korea the influence of Indian literary trends and thought on their literatures and the general perception and assimilation of East Asian literatures in India This book would be a unique and comprehensive reference material for teachers researchers students writers and literary critics of Indian and East Asian literatures Routledge
