on Rational Suicide James L. Werth, 2013-06-17 This text brings together spokespersons from several different disciplines who can present their arguments for or against rational suicide as a viable concept and consequently a realistic option The pros and cons of the discussion format bring the readers to search for their beliefs and the final decision of acceptance or rejection of the concept is left to each individual reader Contemporary Perspectives on Rational Suicide James

Werth, 2013 This text brings together spokespersons from several different disciplines who can present their arguments for or against rational suicide as a viable concept and consequently a realistic option The pros and cons of the discussion format bring the readers to search for their beliefs and the final decision of acceptance or rejection of the concept is left to each individual reader Contemporary Perspectives of Rational Suicide Werth, 1997-09-30 Health Education Donald A.

Read, 1997 For students of health education this volume advocates a combined cognitive behavioral approach which aims to identify unhealthy behaviors and their cognitive support and then design and implement learning experiences that will help effect change Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR To Die in Cuba Louis A. Pérez Jr., 2012-12-01 For much of the nineteenth century and all of the twentieth the per capita rate of suicide in Cuba was the highest in Latin America and among the highest in the world a condition made all the more extraordinary in light of Cuba's historic ties to the Catholic church In this richly illustrated social and cultural history of suicide in Cuba Louis A Perez Jr explores the way suicide passed from the unthinkable to the unremarkable in Cuban society In a study that spans the experiences of enslaved Africans and indentured Chinese in the colony nationalists of the twentieth century republic and emigrants from Cuba to Florida following the 1959 revolution Perez finds that the act of suicide was loaded with meanings that changed over time Analyzing the social context of suicide he argues that in addition to confirming despair suicide sometimes served as a way to consecrate patriotism affirm personal agency or protest injustice The act was often seen by suicidal persons and their contemporaries as an entirely reasonable response to circumstances of affliction whether economic political or social Bringing an important historical perspective to the study of suicide Perez offers a valuable new understanding of the strategies with which vast numbers of people made their way through life if only to choose to end it To Die in Cuba ultimately tells as much about Cubans lives culture and society as it does about their self inflicted deaths Handbook of Social Justice in Loss and Grief Darcy L. Harris, Tashel C. Bordere, 2016-02-05 The Handbook of Social Justice in Loss and Grief is a scholarly work of social criticism richly grounded in personal experience evocative case studies and current multicultural and sociocultural theories and research It is also consistently practical and reflective challenging readers to think through responses to ethically complex scenarios in which social justice is undermined by radically uneven opportunity structures hierarchies of voice and privilege personal and professional power and unconscious assumptions at the very junctures when people are most vulnerable at points of serious illness confrontation with end of life decision making and in the throes of grief and bereavement Harris and Bordere give the reader an active and engaged take on the field enticing readers to interrogate their own assumptions and practices while increasing chapter after chapter their cultural literacy regarding important groups and contexts The Handbook of Social Justice in Loss and Grief deeply and uniquely addresses a hot topic in the helping professions and social sciences and does so with uncommon readability Parenting After the Death of a Child Jennifer L. Buckle, Stephen J. Fleming, 2011-01-19 The death of a child has a tremendous and overwhelming impact on parents and siblings completely altering the psychological landscape of the family In the aftermath of such a tragedy parents face the challenge of not only dealing with their own grief but also that of their surviving children How can someone attempt to cease parenting a deceased child while maintaining this role with his her other children Is it possible for a mother or father to effectively deal with feelings of grief and loss while simultaneously helping their surviving children Parenting After the Death of a Child A Practitioner s Guide addresses this complex and daunting dilemma Following on the heels of a qualitative research study that involved interviewing bereaved parents both fathers and mothers Buckle and Fleming have put together several different stories of loss and recovery to create an invaluable resource for clinicians students and grieving parents The authors present the experience of losing a child and its subsequent impact on a family in a novel and effective way demonstrating the strength and importance of their book for the counseling field Techniques of Grief Therapy Robert A. Neimeyer, 2015-09-25 Techniques of Grief Therapy Assessment and Intervention continues where the acclaimed Techniques of Grief Therapy Creative Practices for Counseling the Bereaved left off offering a whole new set of innovative approaches to grief therapy to address the needs of the bereaved This new volume includes a variety of specific and practical therapeutic techniques each conveyed in concrete detail and anchored in an illustrative case study Techniques of Grief Therapy Assessment and Intervention also features an entire new section on assessment of various challenges in coping with loss with inclusion of the actual scales and scoring keys to facilitate their use by practitioners and researchers Providing both an orientation to bereavement work and an indispensable toolkit for counseling survivors of losses of many kinds this book belongs on the shelf of both experienced clinicians and those just beginning to delve into the field of grief therapy Suicide and the Self Dariusz Galasiński, Justyna Ziółkowska, 2025-07-28 This book centres on self accounts of suicidal behavior using a Critical Discourse Analysis CDA approach to offer a qualitative perspective within current suicidology and suicide prevention research Suicide and the Self A Discourse Analysis Approach to Self Narratives of Suicide is the first qualitative study to explore suicide through the eyes of the person experiencing it The volume is grounded in foundational CDA concepts which view social reality as constructed through language and draw on data from real people's writings, interviews, visual representations and farewell letters to understand the discursive resources and linguistic patterns in these narratives from varied temporal perspectives. By focusing on how individuals construct their own stories, Galasi ski and Zi kowska show how a discourse analytic approach can enrich suicidological research and inform suicide prevention efforts. This book is essential reading for scholars in suicidology, medical humanities, allied health and discourse analysis.

Retribution or Reality? Michael S. Moore, 2023-11-09. The book of Job is one of the greatest if not the greatest literary accomplishments of the ancient world yet in many ways it is just as relevant today as it was then. This book examines Job from a comparative theological perspective in order to help contemporary readers access it, learn from it and apply its insights to contemporary life.

The Spiritual Lives of Bereaved Parents Dennis Klass, 2013-11-12. This book describes how parents lose, find or relocate spiritual anchors after the death of their child. It describes how ordinary people reconstruct their lives after their foundations have shifted and how they make sense of their world after one of their centers of meaning has been removed. Klass grounds his descriptions of spirituality in his scholarly study of comparative religions and in his two decades studying the lives of bereaved parents. He argues that continuing bonds with their dead children can give parents a new transcendent reality. Deceased children like saints or bodhisattvas can offer a bridge between the profane and sacred worlds, support parents as they find meaning in a world made forever poorer and bind together a community adequate to parents' grief. The book reports Klass's clinical practice and his work as advisor to a bereaved parents self-help support group.

Bereavement Care for Families David W. Kissane, Francine Parnes, 2014-01-03. Grief is a family affair. When a loved one dies, the distress reverberates throughout the immediate and extended family. Family therapy has long attended to issues of loss and grief yet not as the dominant therapeutic paradigm. Bereavement Care for Families changes that: it is a practical resource for the clinician, one that draws upon the evidence supporting family approaches to bereavement care and also provides clinically oriented strategic guidance on how to incorporate family approaches into other models. Subsequent chapters set forth a detailed research-based therapeutic model that clinicians can use to facilitate therapy, engage the ambivalent, deal with uncertainty, manage family conflict, develop realistic goals and more. Any clinician sensitive to the roles family members play in bereavement care need look no further than this groundbreaking text.

The Case Against Assisted Suicide Kathleen M. Foley, Herbert Hendin, 2002-03-07. Annotation: Few issues are as volatile or misunderstood as physician-assisted suicide and euthanasia. In The Case Against Assisted Suicide: For the Right to End of Life Care, Drs. Foley and Hendin unravel why such principles as patient autonomy, compassion and ratio.

Music of the Soul Joy S. Berger, 2012-10-12. Music of the Soul guides the reader through principles, techniques and exercises for incorporating music into grief counseling with the end goal of further empowering the grieving person. Music has a unique ability to elicit a whole range of powerful emotional responses in people even so far as altering or enhancing one's mood as well as physical.

reactions This interdisciplinary text draws in equal parts from contemporary grief loss theory music therapy research historical examples of powerful music case studies and both self reflecting and teaching exercises Music is as much about beginnings as endings and thus the book moves through life's losses into its new beginnings using musical expression to help the bereaved find meaning in loss and hurt and move forward with their lives With numerous exercises and examples for implementing the use of music in grief counseling the book offers a practical and flexible approach to a broad spectrum of mental health practitioners from thanatologists to hospice staff at all levels of professional training and settings Assisted Suicide and Euthanasia Craig Paterson, 2017-09-29 As medical technology advances and severely injured or ill people can be kept alive and functioning long beyond what was previously medically possible the debate surrounding the ethics of end of life care and quality of life issues has grown more urgent In this lucid and vigorous new book Craig Paterson discusses assisted suicide and euthanasia from a fully fledged but non dogmatic secular natural law perspective He rehabilitates and revitalises the natural law approach to moral reasoning by developing a pluralistic account of just why we are required by practical rationality to respect and not violate key demands generated by the primary goods of persons especially human life Important issues that shape the moral quality of an action are explained and analysed intention foresight action omission action consequences killing letting die innocence non innocence and person non person Paterson defends the central normative proposition that it is always a serious moral wrong to intentionally kill an innocent human person whether self or another notwithstanding any further appeal to consequences or motive The Value of Suicide Eric v.d. Luft, 2012-12-05

The Art of Grief J. Earl Rogers, 2011-02-10 Art and other expressive therapies are increasingly used in grief counseling not only among children and adolescents but throughout the developmental spectrum Creative activities are commonly used in group and individual psychotherapy programs but it is only relatively recently that these expressive modalities have been employed within the context of clinical grief work in structured settings These forms of nonverbal communication are often more natural ways to express thoughts and feelings that are difficult to discuss particularly when it comes to issues surrounding grief and loss Packed with pictures and instructional detail this book includes an eight session curriculum for use with grief support groups as well as alternative modalities of grief art therapy Grieving Beyond Gender Kenneth J. Doka, Terry L. Martin, 2011-01-19 Grieving Beyond Gender Understanding the Ways Men and Women Mourn is a revision of Men Don't Cry Women Do Transcending Gender Stereotypes of Grief In this work Doka and Martin elaborate on their conceptual model of styles or patterns of grieving a model that has generated both research and acceptance since the publication of the first edition in 1999 In that book as well as in this revision Doka and Martin explore the different ways that individuals grieve noting that gender is only one factor that affects an individual's style or pattern of grief The book differentiates intuitive grievers where the pattern is more affective from instrumental grievers who grieve in a more cognitive and behavioral way while noting other patterns that might be more blended or dissonant The model is firmly grounded in social science theory and research A particular strength of the work is the emphasis placed on the clinical implications of the model on the ways that different types of grievors might best be supported through individual counseling or group support Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris,2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience
