Contemporary Citizenship Now:

Citizenship in Contemporary Times Gorky Chakraborty, 2022-12-23 This book engages with evolving definitions of borders and citizenship in the public discourse in the South Asia region The traditional understanding of citizenship and belonging in the Indian context has been fraying in recent decades The book offers an analysis of discussions on India's contested zones the anxieties around identity and the implications of and reactions to the National Register of Citizens and the Citizenship Amendment Act CAA in different regions in the country It interrogates the concepts of belonging ownership and dissent through an analysis of the anti CAA protests the Namasudra movements the life of Tibetan refugees in India and the precarious lives of many communities in India who are identified as stateless refugees migrants or outsiders Interdisciplinary and topical this book will be of interest to students and researchers of sociology political science law refugee studies borderland studies migration studies public policy social policy and development studies

Citizens and borderwork in contemporary Europe Chris Rumford, 2013-10-31 The extent to which ordinary people can construct shift and dismantle borders is seriously neglected in the existing literature The book explores the ability of citizens to participate in the making of borders and the empowerment that can result from this bordering and debordering activity Borderwork is the name given to the ways in which ordinary people can make and unmake borders Borderwork is no longer only the business of nation states it is also the business of citizens and indeed non citizens This study of borderwork extends the recent interest in forms of bordering which do not necessarily occur at the state's external borders However the changing nature of borders cannot be reduced to a shift from the edges to the interior of a polity To date little research has been conducted on the role of ordinary people in envisioning constructing maintaining shifting and erasing borders creating borders which facilitate mobility for some while creating barriers to mobility for others appropriating the political resources which bordering offers contesting the legitimacy of or undermining the borders imposed by others This book makes an original contribution to the literature and stands to set the agenda for a new dimension of border studies This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity

Citizenship in Contemporary Europe Michael Lister, 2008-05-12 This book seeks to analyse the impact of globalisation European integration mass migration changing patterns of political participation and welfare state provision upon citizenship in Europe Uniting theory with empirical examples the central theme of the book is that how we view such changes is dependent upon how we view citizenship theoretically The authors analyse the three main theoretical approaches to citizenship 1 classical positions liberal communitarian and republican primarily concerned with questions of rights and responsibilities 2 multiculturalist and feminist theories concerned with the question of difference and 3 postnational or cosmopolitan theories which emphasise how citizen rights and behaviours are increasingly located beyond the nation state Using these theoretical perspectives the second section of the book assesses four key social economic and political developments which pose challenges for citizenship in Europe migration political participation the w The History and Theory of Children's Citizenship in Contemporary Societies Brian Milne, 2013-04-15 This book examines the notion of children having full citizenship It does so historically through intellectual discourse beliefs and moral and ideological positions on children It looks at the status and extent of knowledge of the position of children covering about 2500 years The book takes European and other cultures traditions and beliefs into consideration It reflects on the topic from a variety of disciplines including social sciences theology and philosophy The book places children's citizenship in the centre of children's rights discourse Part of the work is a critical appraisal of children's participation because it diverts attention away from children as members of society toward being a separable group The book moves on from child participation using a children's rights based argument toward examination of the relationship of the child with the state i e as potentially full member citizens Education for Values: Morals, Ethics and Citizenship in Contemporary Teaching Jo Cairns, Roy Gardner, Denis Lawton, 2013-05-13 Values in education in terms of both how they are taught and of the ethics of teaching itself are an area of lively debate This text provides a resource of ideas issues and practice for all those with an interest in this area of education Participatory Citizenship and Crisis in Contemporary Brazil Valesca Lima, 2019-07-19 This book discusses the issues of citizen rights governance and political crisis in Brazil The project has a focus on citizenship in times of crisis i e seeking to understand how citizenship rights have changed since the Brazilian political and economic crisis that started in 2014 Building on theories of citizenship and governance the author examines policy based evidence on the retractions of participatory rights which are consequence of a stagnant economic scenario and the re organization of conservative sectors This work will appeal to scholarly audiences interested in citizenship Brazilian politics and Latin American policy and governance Citizenship and Education in Contemporary China Yeow-Tong Chia, Zhenzhou Zhao, 2023-05-31 A key objective of education in China is to cultivate one's moral values with the ultimate objective of becoming fully human Unlike the West which regards moral cultivation as related to but separate from citizenship cultivation East Asia including China views moral and citizenship cultivation as synonymous The essays in this book offer various perspectives on and understandings of Chinese citizenship and education by a group of scholars of Chinese heritage situated inside and outside of China They offer compelling evidence and rich theoretical discussions about the practice of teaching citizenship in the state education the interplay between citizenship and China's cultural and religious traditions and the construction of citizenship from the groups from marginal positions The book uses citizenship as a lens to examine the pressing issues of identity democracy religion and cosmopolitanism and sheds new light on China's ongoing social and educational changes Thinking through citizenship and citizenship education may act as an important driving force to transform the culture and paradigms of governance in China and the new meanings of becoming fully human This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of Education Politics Sociology and Public Policy The chapters in this book were originally published in various Routledge journals Edinburgh Companion to Contemporary Liberalism Mark

Evans,2019-07-29 This is the premier collection of material on a comprehensive range of topics in contemporary liberalism It shows how liberalism can tackle wide ranging practical concerns that urgently demand attention in twenty first century politics

Changing Notions of Citizenship Education in Contemporary Nation-states ,2007-01-01 This book offers an examination into the meanings of citizenship in the contemporary world and trends that are forcing a rethinking of the concept in today s nation states These changing meanings in turn give rise to new understandings of and approaches to citizenship education The underlying values of participation deliberation and loyalty or patriotism that define different notions of citizenship are under strain in a world increasingly defined by global processes by the rise of transnational or supranational institutions and by interconnections that bring different cultures and value systems into closer contact with each other What does this new citizen look like What does this new citizen need to know or need to be able to do To whom and to what is this new citizen loyal One way to think about this new citizen is as a cosmopolitan a citizen of the world more than of any particular nation state another way to think about it is in terms of different kinds or levels of affiliation existing simultaneously to nation and to regional alliance such as the European Union for example These conditions of citizenship and of citizenship education are rapidly changing and diverse and in some instances they come into conflict This collection of essays an outstanding international group of scholars examines the tensions between national transnational and postnational conceptions of citizenship brought back always to the grounded question of citizenship education and how to go about it The authors illuminate the complexity and subtlety of these issues and offer helpful guidance for rethinking the meanings and values that inform our educational endeavours

Latin America and Contemporary Modernity José Maurício Domingues,2008-01-21 In this book renowned author Jos Maur cio Domingues places Latin America within the third phase of global modern civilization and offers a general theoretical approach to contemporary Latin America He sees modernity as configured by episodic modernizing moves which when counting on strong identity and organization as well as clear cut projects may assume the aspect of modernizing offensives Highlighting subjects as law rights and justice as well as globalization and development Dominguez places Latin America in the uneven combined and contradictory development of modern civilization and offers a final assessment of its possibilities and limits The book will be of interest to researchers and students of modernity globalization Latin America sociological theory and its key concepts

The Meaning of Citizenship in Contemporary Chinese Society Sicong Chen, 2017-09-13 This book is a direct and empirical response to the mounting official interest in citizenship education increasing dynamics between state and society and growing citizenship awareness and practice in society in contemporary China Placing the focus on society the book investigates the meaning of the Chinese term gongmin equivalent to citizen in non official media discourses and in university students and migrant workers perceptions through the constructed analytical lens of Western citizenship conception By laying out the complex details of how the meaning of the term resembles and deviates in and between collective social discourses and individual citizens understandings with reference to state discourses the book makes clear that there is discrepancy in the meaning of gongmin between state and society and that the meaning varies in contemporary Chinese society Cutting across multiple topics this book is a valuable resource for students and researchers interested in Chinese citizenship East West citizenship citizenship education the media university students and migrant workers in China Urbanization and Its Impact in Contemporary China Peilin Li,2019-04-02 This book addresses a wide range of social issues in connection with urbanization which is providing new momentum for China s economic restructuring and social progress including the educational gap the middle class in urbanization consumption division of labor and social integration All chapters are based on updated nation wide sampling survey data Taken together they provide a lens for understanding various aspects of urbanization and its impacts on China s economy and society The Transformation of Contemporary Health Care Tiago Moreira,2013-05-07 The past three decades have seen enormous changes in the organisation of health care This book explores the role of knowledge production and technology on these transformations focusing on the market attempts to embed principles of economic rationality and efficient use of resources in the shaping and delivery of health care the laboratory science experiments and evidence in the management of research practice and policy and the forum the application of deliberative procedures and other forms of public consultation to health care decision making Teaching History for the Contemporary World Adele Nye,Jennifer Clark,2021-04-17 This book brings together history educators from Australia and around the world to tell their own personal stories and how they approach teaching history in the context of contemporary tensions in the classroom It encourages historians to think actively about how history in the classroom can play a role in helping students to make sense of their world and to act honourably within it The contributors come from diverse backgrounds and include experienced history educators and early career academics They showcase both a mix of approaches and democratize and decolonize the academy The book blends theory and practice It reflects on what is happening in the classroom and supports the discipline to understanding itself better to improve upon its practices and to engage in academic discussion about the responsibility of teaching in the contemporary world Contemporary Debates in Political Philosophy Thomas Christiano,John Christman,2009-03-30 This collection of 24 essays written by eminent philosophers and political theorists brings together fresh debates on some of the most fundamental questions in contemporary political philosophy including human rights equality constitutionalism the value of democracy identity and political neutrality Presents fresh debates on six of the fundamental questions in contemporary political philosophy Each question is treated by a pair of opposing essays written by eminent scholars Lively debate format sharply defines the issues invites the reader to participate in the exchange of arguments and paves the way for further discussion Will serve as an accessible introduction to the major topics in political philosophy whilst also capturing the imagination of professional philosophers Offers the unique opportunity to observe leading philosophers engaging in head to head debate The International Relations of the Contemporary Middle East Tareq Y. Ismael, Glenn E. Perry, 2013-10-01 The Middle East a few decades ago was seen to be an autonomous subsystem of the global international political system More recently the region has been subordinated to the hegemony of a singular superpower the US bolstered by an alliance with Israel and a network of Arab client states The subordination of the contemporary Middle East has resulted in large part from the disappearance of countervailing forces for example global bipolarity that for a while allowed the Arab world in particular to exercise a modicum of flexibility in shaping its international relations The aspirations of the indigenous population of the Middle East have been stifled by the dynamics of the unequal global power relationships and domestic politics of the countries of the region are regularly subordinated to the prerogatives of international markets and the strategic competition of the great powers Employing the concept of imperialism defined as a pattern of alliances between a center rulers in the Center developed country and a center client regime in the Periphery underdeveloped country as an overall framework to analyse the subordination of the region this book is essential reading for students and scholars of the Middle East International Relations and Politics in general Citizenship and Genocide Cards Natalie Brinham, 2024-10-30 This book draws on Rohingya oral histories and narratives about Myanmar's genocide and ID schemes to critique prevailing international approaches to legal identities and statelessness By centring the narratives of survivors of state crimes collected in the aftermath of the 2017 genocidal violence this book examines the multiple uses of state issued ID cards and registration documents in producing statelessness and facilitating genocide In doing so it challenges some of the international solutions put forward to resolve statelessness Rohingya narratives disrupt a simple linear understanding of documenting legal identity that marginalises experiences of these processes The richly layered accounts of the effects of citizenship laws and registration processes on the lives of Rohingya problematise the ways in which international actors have endorsed state ID schemes and by passed state led persecution of the group This book will be valuable for scholars studying global criminology state crime development studies refugee and migration studies statelessness and nationality citizenship studies and genocide studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license
