Dynamics Of China's Energy Diplomacy Chi Zhang, 2015-09-17 Since the beginning of the 21st century China's energy diplomacy has been expanding rapidly and the country is searching for energy resources worldwide This movement has not only improved China's energy security and international relations but also enabled the Chinese national oil companies NOCs to access new investment markets and implement development strategies The Chinese government and the NOCs need each other's support to realise their respective interests The interaction between the government and the NOCs will have a critical influence on China's energy diplomacy The Domestic Dynamics of China's Energy Diplomacy explores the long neglected domestic dynamics of China's energy diplomacy in particular the interaction of national and corporate interests It argues that the convergence of national and corporate interests is the key momentum of China's energy diplomacy It observes that the government NOC relationship has been evolving with China's economic and enterprise reform Finally it tests the empirical evidence of the domestic dynamics of China's energy diplomacy against the three mainstream international political economy theories showing their merits and shortcomings in explaining the phenomenon before providing an alternative conceptualisation of the movement

The Politics of Economic Liberalization in Indonesia Andrew Rosser, 2013-07-04 This book examines the dynamics shaping the economic process of economic liberalisation in Indonesia since the mid 1980 s Much writing on the process of economic liberalisation in developing countries views economic liberalisation as the victory of economic rationality over political and social interests In contrast this book argues that economic liberalisation should not be understood in these terms but rather in the way that political social interests shape processes of economic reform in both a positive and negative sense Specifically Rosser argues that economic liberalisation needs to be understood in terms of the extent to which economic crises shift the balance of power and influence within society away from coalitions opposed to reform and towards those in favour of reform In the Indonesian context the main coalitions that need to be examined in this respect are the politico bureaucrats and the conglomerates who have generally opposed reform and mobile capitalists who have generally supported reform Based on extensive original research and providing much new material the book considers the politics of economic policy making in Indonesia in a range of sectors including the capital market intellectual property law the banking industry and the trade and investment sectors Analysing why the nature of economic policy in Indonesia has varied over time this study argues that there is nothing inevitable about a transition to a fully fledged liberal market order in Indonesia and outlines possible future scenarios for the country's political economy first century is characterized by extremes of poverty and wealth of scarcity and abundance The vast inequalities of wealth distribution between the developed west and the impoverished developing world is a complex problem This book recognises that Africa in particular has manifested this global disgrace and symbolizes the nature of poverty to the western world In order to truly emancipate the poverty stricken around the world we must necessarily understand the reasons for its existence In a departure from traditional critical realist theory Gruffydd Jones argues the benefits of reassessing the relevance of objective inquiry and emphasizes its primacy over normative theory in the battle to truly understand the reasons for the African crisis This approach brings us a book of real relevance for inequality in the modern world and gives us an important platform from which to move forwards in the fight against poverty
