Contested Land In Eastern And Southern Africa Oxfam Working Papers Series:

Contested Lands in Southern and Eastern Africa Robin H. Palmer, 1997 Questions of land tenure and land reform and their impact on poor and vulnerable communities are of vital importance throughout Southern and Eastern Africa From the vast literature on the subject Robin Palmer has selected and summarized more than 300 recent books articles academic theses and reports of conferences and workshops This survey includes studies of Angola Botswana Kenya Lesotho Malawi Mozambique Namibia Rwanda South Africa Swaziland Tanzania Uganda Zambia and Zimbabwe In addition to major sections on economic and legal issues special sections feature studies of Land and Pastoralism and Land and Women Eastern and Southern Africa Debby Potts, T.A.S. Bowyer-Bower, 2016-02-04 A unique and comprehensive introduction to contemporary development issues in East and Southern Africa and represents a significant departure from the often descriptive approach adopted by existing regional and development texts on African regions Each contribution is carefully chosen to highlight the theoretical basis to development issues and the practical problems of implementing development plans in this vital subregion Overall this produces comprehensive and balanced coverage of historical economic political and social issues The twin issues of globalisation and modernisation give the book a clear focus Land, People, and Forests in Eastern and Southern Africa at the Beginning of the 21st Century Liz Wily, Sue Mbaya, 2001 NGOs & Land Advocacy in Eastern and Southern Africa, 1999 Women's Land Rights & Privatization in Eastern Africa Birgit Englert, Elizabeth Daley, 2008 This collection examines women's land rights in East Africa in the context of land tenure reforms and privatization Land Reform in Zimbabwe: Constraints and Prospects Colin Stoneman, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2000 Drs Tanya Bowyer Bower and Colin Stoneman compile the views of top researchers members of Government civil society NGOs funders and Zimbabwe's three farmers unions The history of land reform in Zimbabwe is addressed and the current proposed reform policies comparison between programmes elsewhere in Southern Africa and implications including for rural and urban welfare the economy the environment the law and for women The result is an invaluable overview of this crucial and contentious issue including constructive suggestions for consensual ways forward Contesting Inequality in Access to Forests International Institute for Environment and Development, 1998 Competing Jurisdictions Sandra Evers, Marja Spierenburg, Harry Wels, 2005 Includes bibliographical references Land Reform Under Structural Adjustment in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, 2000 This study represents a first systematic effort to document Zimbabwe's new land uses during the years of economic crisis the role of the state in promoting them the differentiation associated with them not only between black and white farmers but also among them and the implications of all these for the political economy of the Zimbabwean land question The fact that some of the new land uses avoid redistribution of clearly under utilised large scale commercial farms suggests that the Zimbabwean land question will remain a live political issue for a long time Africa, 1999 Includes Proceedings of the Executive council and List of members also section Review of books Style Guide for Notes,

References, and Bibliographies Oxfam Policy and Practice Communications Team, Power in the Village Horacio Morales, 2001 Afriche e orienti, 2007 The African Affairs Reader Nic Cheeseman, Lindsay Whitfield, Carl Death, 2017-05-19 African Affairs is the top journal in African Studies and has been for some time This book draws together some of the most influential important and thought provoking articles published in its pages over the last decade In doing so it collates essential cutting edge research on Africa and makes it easily available for students teachers and researchers alike The African Affairs Reader is broken down into four sections that cover some of the biggest themes and questions facing the continent today including the African State the Political Economy of Development Africa's Relationship with the World and Elections Representation Democracy Within each section articles deal with some of the most significant recent trends and events such as the prospects for democratization in Ghana and Nigeria the factors underpinning Rwanda's economic success the rise of political corruption in South Africa the spread of the drugs trade the struggle against gender based violence and the growing influence of China Each section is introduced by a new purpose written essay by the journal's editors that explains the evolution of the wider debate highlights key contributions and suggests new ways in which the discussion can be taken forward Taken together the essays and articles included in the volume provide both a coherent introduction to the study of Africa and a compelling commentary on the current state of play on the continent Land Issues in East and Southern Africa: Southern Africa Sue Mbaya, 2001 The Gender-Energy Nexus in Eastern and Southern Africa Mihyo, Paschal B., Mukuna, Truphena E., 2016-07-25 The Regional Economic Communities RECs in Eastern and Southern Africa have been at the forefront to developing new energy policies and programmes aimed at reaching the UN goal of Ensuring Access to Clean Energy for All by 2030 In the year 2006 the East African Community passed the EAC Strategy to Scale Up Access to Modern Energy Services committing its Member States to reach the UN goal of access to all by 2030 The Inter governmental Authority for Development adopted its Environmental and Natural Resources Policy in 2007 which includes issues of renewable energy The Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa launched its Model Energy Programme in 2012 followed the same year by its comprehensive baselines database on renewable resources covering all its Member States In the year 2009 the African Union General Assembly at its 12th Ordinary Session adopted the Policy on Scaling Up Renewable Energy in Africa The regional policies have been domesticated by Member States of the RECs Although their targets are very ambitious implementation programmes launched at national level are robust and producing results Both in the policies and implementation programmes gender issues have however not featured prominently Noting this deficit the Organisation for Social Science Research in Eastern and Southern Africa called for researchers to assess the extent to which energy policies in Eastern and Southern Africa have taken gender issues on board This book is the product of that project It has ten chapters that investigated the gender energy nexus in Zimbabwe Ethiopia Tanzania Swaziland Sudan and Kenya The book will prove useful to all policy makers researchers and analysts who may be interested in strengthening the gender content of the programmes as we move towards 2030 We believe it triggers and helps policy makers and researchers to create platforms to use its findings and those of others to see how in gender terms those at the bottom of the energy access pyramid can be factored into these programmes to make sure they are not left behind Can Negotiated Land Reforms Deliver? Samuel M. Kariuki,2004 Property Law in Namibia (2nd edition) Samuel K. Amoo,2024-01-31 Property Law in Namibia provides an autochthonous discussion of property law in Namibia It does not only capture the constitutional statutory and common law sources of property law in Namibia but it also covers currently topical subjects such as property rights of women and land reform in Namibia The publication is meant to be utilised by law academics property law lecturers legal practitioners and conveyancers law students students pursuing specialised land related programmes such as land use planning and officials in government ministries Property Law in Namibia contains chapters on traditional concepts of property law such as the scope and nature of the law of property classifications of things real rights and personal rights ownership and possession Chapter 9 is devoted entirely to remedies which is a departure from the norm but where relevant appropriate remedies are indicated in the specific parts of the text In order to give prominence to Namibian property jurisprudence topics on the genesis of the land tenure systems of Namibia land reform and property rights of women in Namibia have either been dealt with in separate chapters or been included as parts of other chapters This publication is meant to be utilised by law academics property law lecturers legal practitioners and conveyancers law students students pursuing specialised land related programmes such as land use planning and officials The Political Economy of Urban and Peri-urban Agriculture in Eastern and Southern Africa ,2001 Biennial Conference ,1998
