Contested Terrain R. Edwards, 1985      The Power of Place Dolores Hayden, 1997-02-24 Based on her extensive experience in the urban communities of Los Angeles historian and architect Dolores Hayden proposes new perspectives on gender race and ethnicity to broaden the practice of public history and public art enlarge urban preservation and reorient the writing of urban history to spatial struggles In the first part of The Power of Place Hayden outlines the elements of a social history of urban space to connect people's lives and livelihoods to the urban landscape as it changes over time She then explores how communities and professionals can tap the power of historic urban landscapes to nurture public memory The second part documents a decade of research and practice by The Power of Place a nonprofit organization Hayden founded in downtown Los Angeles Through public meetings walking tours artists's books and permanent public sculpture as well as architectural preservation teams of historians designers planners and artists worked together to understand preserve and commemorate urban landscape history as African American Latina and Asian American families have experienced it One project celebrates the urban homestead of Biddy Mason an African American ex slave and midwife active between 1856 and 1891 Another reinterprets the Embassy Theater where Rose Pesotta Luisa Moreno and Josefina Fierro de Bright organized Latina dressmakers and cannery workers in the 1930s and 1940s A third chapter tells the story of a historic district where Japanese American family businesses flourished from the 1890s to the 1940s Each project deals with bitter memories slavery repatriation internment but shows how citizens survived and persevered to build an urban life for themselves their families and their communities Drawing on many similar efforts around the United States from New York to Charleston Seattle to Cincinnati Hayden finds a broad new movement across urban preservation public history and public art to accept American diversity at the heart of the vernacular urban landscape She provides dozens of models for creative urban history projects in cities and towns across the country      Women Under Attack Committee for Abortion Rights and Against Sterilization Abuse (New York, N.Y.), 1988 Provides an examination of sexual and reproductive liberation a summary of right wing attacks an analysis of the social cultural constraints on the use of contraception and a call for organizing for reproductive rights within a political program of women's liberation      Changing Chinese Foodways in Asia David Y. H. Wu, Chee-Beng Tan, 2001 Through the lens of Chinese food the authors address recent theories in social science concerning cultural identity ethnicity boundary formation consumerism and globalization and the invention of local cuisine in the context of rapid culture change in East and Southeast Asia      Out of Play Michael A. Messner, 2010-03-25 2008 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title From beer ads in the Sports Illustrated swimsuit issue to four year old boys and girls playing soccer from male athletes sexual violence against women to homophobia and racism in sport Out of Play analyzes connections between gender and sport from the 1980s to the present The book illuminates a wide range of contemporary issues in popular culture children's sports and women's and men's college and professional sports Each chapter is preceded by a short introduction that lays out the context in which the piece was written Drawing on his own memories as a former athlete informal observations of his children s sports activities and more formal research such as life history interviews with athletes and content analyses of sports media Michael A Messner presents a multifaceted picture of gender constructed through an array of personalities institutions cultural symbols and everyday interactions

Contested Terrain D. A. Gray, 2017-10 CONTESTED TERRAIN captures the myriad identities inside a veteran shaped by birth geography and later a set of experiences that belie any hand me down wisdom Cave Country sees the green fertile surface give way as the illusion collapses beneath the speaker s feet in Desert Skies a barrage of war images hit faster than the speaker can process them and Returning to the Hill Country shows the altered landscape both physical and mental that awaits his return The final section A Handful of Dust shifts from the individual to the culture of fear that has become a new uncomfortable normal Gray s speakers still believe that beauty exists often in an uneasy coexistence with tension hypervigilance and an ever changing consciousness

Seven Social Movements That Changed America Linda Gordon, 2025-03-04 A brilliantly conceived and provocative work from an award winning historian that examines how seven twentieth century social movements transformed America How do social movements arise wield power and bring about meaningful change Renowned scholar Linda Gordon investigates these and other salient questions in this visionary cautionary timely and utterly necessary book Nicole Eustace narrating how some of America s most influential twentieth century social movements transformed the nation Beginning with the turn of the century settlement house movement the book compares Chicago s celebrated Hull House begun by privileged women to a much less well known African American project Cleveland s Phillis Wheatley House begun by a former sharecropper Expanding her highly praised book The Second Coming of the KKK the second chapter shows how a northern Klan became a mass movement in the 1920s Contrary to what many Klan opponents thought this KKK was a middle class organization its members primarily urban and well educated In the 1930s the KKK gave birth to dozens of American fascist groups small but extremely violent Profiles of two other 1930s movements follow the Townsend campaign for old age insurance named for its charismatic leader Dr Francis Townsend It created the public pressure that brought us Social Security which was considered radical at the time as was the movement to bring about federal unemployment aid for millions Proceeding to the 1955 1956 Montgomery bus boycott which jump started the career of Martin Luther King Jr the narrative shows how the city s entire Black population refused to ride segregated buses initiated by Black women their years long hard fought victory inspired the civil rights movement Gordon then examines the 1970s farmworkers struggle led by Cesar Chavez and made possible by the work of tens of thousands of the primarily Mexican American farmworkers Together they built the United Farm Workers Union winning better wages and working conditions for some of the country s poorest workers The book concludes with the dramatic stories of two Boston socialist feminist groups Bread and Roses and the Combahee River Collective which influenced the whole women s liberation movement Throughout the work Gordon concentrates not on ideologies but on how millions of grassroots activists strategized and changed the United States Separately and together these seven narratives bring to life the creativity and hard work of social movements and in doing so reveal how they have been central to American history in stories that reverberate with today's political activism The Quantified Worker Ifeoma Ajunwa, 2023-05-11 This book argues that technological developments in the workplace have quantified the modern worker to the detriment of social equality

Globalization and the Changing Role of the State Rumki Basu, 2008 Contributed seminar papers presented at national seminar held on 4th 6th Dec 2007 Dept of Political Science Jamia Millia Islamia Crown Jewel Wilderness

Lauren Danner, 2021-06-18 Remote rugged and spectacularly majestic with stunning alpine meadows and jagged peaks that soar beyond ten thousand feet North Cascades National Park is one of the Pacific Northwest's crown jewels Now in the first full length account Lauren Danner chronicles its creation just in time for the park's fiftieth anniversary in 2018 The North Cascades range benefited from geographic isolation that shielded its mountains from extensive resource extraction and development Efforts to establish a park began as early as 1892 but gained traction after World War II as economic affluence sparked national interest in wilderness preservation and growing concerns about the impact of harvesting timber to meet escalating postwar housing demands As the environmental movement matured a 1950s Glacier Peak study mobilized conservationists to seek establishment of a national park that prioritized wilderness Concerned about the National Park Service's policy favoring development for tourism and the United States Forest Service's policy promoting logging in the national forests conservationists leveraged a changing political environment and the evolving environmental values of the natural resource agencies to achieve the goal of permanent wilderness protection Their grassroots activism became increasingly sophisticated eventually leading to the compromise that resulted in the 1968 creation of Washington's magnificent third national park Century of the Leisured Masses David George Surdam, 2015 American living standards improved rapidly during the twentieth century The rise of leisure both in terms of time allotted and in terms of consumption of leisure goods and services was astounding When social critic Thorstein Veblen penned Theory of the Leisured Class Americans were just beginning to enjoy more and better leisure In Century of the Leisured Masses David George Surdam explores the growing role played by leisure in the daily lives of Americans and what factors contributed to this change

Body Factory Kaitlin Pericak, 2025-01-10 This book provides an ethnography of an athletic training center in the athletics department of an NCAA Division I University in the United States The author argues that the organizational orientation towards profit leads staff to use social structures to promote control and surveillance over individual care or empowerment Between Melting Pot and Mosaic Andrés Torres, 1995 Author note Andr's Torres is Associate Professor and Director of the Center for Labor Research at the University of Massachusetts Boston Gender, Development, and Humanitarian Work Caroline Sweetman, 2001 While the difficulties of integrating gender equity goals into interventions are acknowledged the authors argue that gender blind responses can further endanger the survival of women and their families and their long term position in society and also deny them the opportunity of exercising their potential as peace builders

Politics and Power in the Multinational Corporation Christoph Dörrenbächer, Mike Geppert, 2011-04-14
This book was first published in 2011 The current financial and economic crisis has negatively underlined the vital role of multinational companies MNCs in our daily lives The breakdown and crisis of flagship MNCs such as Enron WorldCom Lehman Brothers Toyota and General Motors does not merely reveal the problems of corporate malfeasance and market dysfunction It also raises important questions both for the public and the academic community about the use and misuse of power by MNCs in the wider society as well as the exercise of power by key actors within internationally operating firms This book examines how issues of power and politics affect MNCs at three different levels the macro level the meso level and the micro level This wide ranging analysis shows not only that power matters but also how and why it matters pointing to the political interactions of key power holders and actors within the MNC both managers and employees

Human Rights Due Diligence and Labour Governance Ingrid Landau, 2024-02-20 This book critically examines human rights due diligence as a tool of transnational labour law It explores how the concept of HRDD has been received and institutionalised and what the concept's ascension means for the protection and promotion of workers rights in global supply chains

Mobilizing Transnational Gender Politics in Post-Genocide Rwanda Rirhandu Mageza-Barthel, 2016-03-03 Mageza Barthel provides a context sensitive analysis of how Rwanda's women's movement used the United Nations UN gender norms in its efforts to insert gender specific demands in the post genocide period The overall goal of these women and their supporters has been to further gender equality and equity in Rwanda This study details which political processes could be engendered It further illustrates why certain gender norms were adopted and adapted whereas others were not The study addresses issues of global governance in gender politics through such international frameworks as CEDAW the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action as well as Resolution 1325 These instruments have been brought forth by a transnational women's movement to benefit women and women's rights across the globe It shows how these gender norms were introduced adapted and contested locally at a crucial time of the transformation process underway Concerned with the interplay of domestic and international politics it also alludes to the unique circumstances in Rwanda that have led to unprecedented levels of women's political representation Which tools have been the most significant in women's mobilisation and how these relate to precedents set within international relations is of interest to a wide community of scholars and policy makers alike

Land and Agrarian Reform in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, Walter Chambati, 2013 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme implemented during the 2000s in Zimbabwe represents the only instance of radical redistributive land reforms since the end of the Cold War It reversed the racially skewed agrarian structure and discriminatory land tenures inherited from colonial rule The land reform also radicalised the state towards a nationalist introverted accumulation strategy against a broad array of unilateral Western sanctions Indeed Zimbabwe's land reform in its social and political dynamics must be compared to the leading land reforms of the twentieth century which include those of Mexico Russia China Japan South Korea Taiwan Cuba and Mozambique The fact that the Zimbabwe case has not been recognised as vanguard nationalism has much to do with the intellectual structural adjustment which has accompanied neoliberalism and a hostile media campaign This has entailed dubious theories of neopatrimonialism which reduce African politics and the state to endemic corruption patronage and tribalism while overstating the virtues of neoliberal good governance Under this racist repertoire it has been impossible to see class politics mass mobilisation and resistance let alone believe that something progressive can occur in Africa This book comes to a conclusion that the Zimbabwe land reform represents a new form of resistance with distinct and innovative characteristics when compared to other cases of radicalisation reform and resistance The process of reform and resistance has entailed the deliberate creation of a tri modal agrarian structure to accommodate and balance the interests of various domestic classes the progressive restructuring of labour relations and agrarian markets the continuing pressures for radical reforms through the indigenisation of mining and other sectors and the rise of extensive albeit relatively weak producer cooperative structures The book also highlights some of the resonances between the Zimbabwean land struggles and those on the continent as well as in the South in general arguing that there are some convergences and divergences worthy of intellectual attention The book thus calls for greater endogenous empirical research which overcomes the pre occupation with failed interpretations of the nature of the state and agency in Africa

Science Education from People for People

Wolff-Michael Roth, 2009-06-10 Contributing to the social justice agenda of redefining what science is and what it means in the lives of real people this book takes up the challenge of building an approach to science education from the standpoint of the learner With this orientation to science and scientific literacy science educators can begin to make inroads into the currently widespread irrelevance of science in the everyday lives of people

Global Citizenship in Foreign Language Education

Christiane Lütge, Thorsten Merse, Petra Rauschert, 2022-11-01 In light of increasing globalization this collection makes the case for global citizenship education as a way forward for transforming foreign language learning and teaching to better address current and future global challenges in times of unprecedented change The volume maps a multi dimensional approach within foreign language pedagogy to take up the challenge of educating the global citizen Drawing on sociocultural pedagogical cosmopolitan digital and civic minded perspectives the book explores the challenges in constructing epistemological frameworks in increasingly global environments the need for developing context sensitive educational practices the potential of linking up with work from related disciplines and the impact of these considerations on different educational settings The collection reflects an international range of voices attuned to global and local nuances to offer a holistic compilation of conceptual innovations to showcase the relevance of global citizenship issues in foreign language education and encourage future research This book will be of interest to scholars in intercultural education foreign language education and language teaching as well as policymakers and foreign language teachers The Open Access version of this
