Examining Education, Media, and Dialogue under Occupation Ilham Nasser, Lawrence N. Berlin, Shelley Wong, 2011-08-24 This book is an in depth examination of education and media under occupation The contributors to this volume engage dialogue to explore these domains and their roles and functioning under occupation while keeping an eye toward resolution using the on going conflict between Palestine and Israel as the focus The uniqueness of this collection is not limited to the willingness of its authors to investigate topics that have often been left out of the mainstream but that they actually enter into dialogue with one another Education and media are exemplified as domains that can either maintain the status quo of oppression when used by policymakers and governments to do so or can be utilized as mechanisms for change and peacemaking These contradictory roles are highlighted throughout this book by multiple voices

Multiliteracies in World Language Education Yuri Kumagai, Ana López-Sánchez, Sujane Wu, 2015-10-05 Putting a multiliteracies framework at the center of the world language curriculum this volume brings together college level curricular innovations and classroom projects that address differences in meaning and worldviews expressed in learners primary and target languages Offering a rich understanding of languages genres and modalities as socioculturally situated semiotic systems it advocates an effective pedagogy for developing learners abilities to operate between languages Chapters showcase curricula that draw on a multiliteracies framework and present various classroom projects that develop aspects of multiliteracies for language learners A discussion of the theoretical background and historical development of the pedagogy of multiliteracies and its relevance to the field of world language education positions this book within the broader literature on foreign language education As developments in globalization accountability and austerity challenge contemporary academia and the current structure of world language programs this book shows how the implementation of a multiliteracies based approach brings coherence to language programs and how the framework can help to accomplish the goals of higher education in general and of language education in particular

Doing Critical Literacy Hilary Janks, Kerry Dixon, Ana Ferreira, Stella Granville, Denise Newfield, 2013-07-18 Compelling and highly engaging this text shows teachers at all levels how to do critical literacy in the classroom and provides models for practice that can be adapted to any context Integrating social theory and classroom practice it brings critical literacy to life as a socio cultural orientation to the teaching of literacy that takes seriously the relationship between language and power and orients readers to the social effects of texts Students and teachers are drawn into the key questions critical readers need to pose of texts Whose interests are served who benefits who is disadvantaged who is included and who is excluded The practical activities help readers grasp complex issues Extending the theoretical framework in Hilary Janks Literacy and Power with a rich range of completely new up to date activities that translate theory into practice Doing Critical Literacy is powerful relevant and useful for both pre and in service teacher education and for use in schools Doing Youth Participatory Action Research Nicole Mirra, Antero Garcia, Ernest Morrell, 2015-10-23 Doing Youth Participatory Action Research offers an unprecedented in depth exploration of the pragmatics and possibilities of youth driven research Drawing upon multiple years of experience engaging youth in rigorous critical inquiry about the conditions impacting their lives the authors examine how YPAR encourages the educational community to re imagine the capabilities of young people and the purposes of teaching learning and research itself Much more than a how to guide for those interested in creating their own YPAR projects this book draws upon the voices of students and educators as well as the multiple historical traditions of critical research to describe how youth inquiry transforms each step of the traditional research process From identifying research questions to collecting data and disseminating findings each chapter details how YPAR revolutionizes traditional conceptions of who produces knowledge how it is produced and for what purposes The book weaves together research policy and practice to offer YPAR as a practice with the power to challenge entrenched social and educational inequalities empower critically aware youth and revolutionize pedagogy in classrooms and communities For researchers educators community members and youth who want to connect question and transform the world collectively Doing Youth Participatory Action Research is a rich source of both pragmatic methodological guidance and inspiration Negotiating Critical Literacies with Young Children Vivian Maria Vasquez, 2014-02-05 In this innovative and engaging text Vivian Maria Vasquez draws on her own classroom experience to demonstrate how issues raised from everyday conversations with pre kindergarten children can be used to create an integrated critical literacy curriculum over the course of one school year The strategies presented are solidly grounded in relevant theory and research The author describes how she and her students negotiated a critical literacy curriculum shows how they dealt with particular social and cultural issues and themes and shares the insights she gained as she attempted to understand what it means to frame ones teaching from a critical literacy perspective New in the 10th Anniversary Edition New section Getting Beyond Prescriptive Curricula the Mandated Curriculum and Core Standards New feature Critical Reflections and Pedagogical Suggestions at the end of the demonstration chapters New Appendices Resources for Negotiating Critical Literacies and Alternate Possibilities for Conducting an Audit Trail Companion Website narratives of ways in which the audit trail has been used as a tool for teaching and learning resources on critical literacy including links to other websites and blogs podcast focused on critical literacy and young children Re-framing Literacy Richard Andrews, 2010-09-13 Imaginative and attractive cutting edge in its conception this text explicates a model for the integration of language arts and literacy education based on the notion of framing The act of framing not frames in themselves provides a creative and critical approach to English as a subject Re framing Literacy breaks new ground in the language arts literacy field integrating arts based and sociologically based conceptions of the subject The theory of rhetoric the book describes and which provides its overarching theory is dialogic political and liberating Pedagogically the text works inductively from examples up toward theory starting with visuals and moving back and forth between text and image exploring multimodality and engaging in the transformations of text and image that are at the heart of learning in English and the language arts Structured like a teaching course it is designed to excite and involve readers and lead them toward high level and useful theory in the field Offering an authoritative clear guide to a complex field it is widely appropriate for pre service and in service courses globally in English and language arts education Literacy and Power Hilary

Janks,2009-10-16 Hilary Janks addresses key questions about literacy and power in this landmark text that is both engaging and accessible Her central argument is that competing orientations to critical literacy education domination power access diversity design foreground one over the other but are crucially interdependent and need to work together to create possibilities for redesign and social action that serve a social justice agenda She examines the theory underpinning each orientation and develops new theory in the argument for interdependence and integration Sitting at the interface between theory and practice constantly moving from one to the other the text is rich with examples of how to use these orientations in real teaching contexts and how to use them to counterbalance one another In the groundbreaking final chapter Janks considers how the rationalist underpinning of critical literacy tends to exclude the non rational shows ways of working beyond reason pleasure and play desire and the unconscious and makes the case that these need to be taken seriously given their power to cut across the work of critical literacy educators working from any orientation Cultural Validity in

Assessment María del Rosario Bastera,Elise Trumbull,Guillermo Solano-Flores,2011-04-12 This guide for educators looks at major issues in language testing and provides knowledge techniques and strategies to design and implement assessments for use in classrooms that maximize fairness and validity for all students Discourse and Conflict Innocent
