Harrow, Eunice E. Omonzeje, 2017-05-11 That Africa is at a crossroads in an increasingly globalised world is indisputable Equally unassailable is the fact that the humanities as a broad field of intellection research and learning in Africa appears to have been pigeonholed in debates of relevance in the development aspirations of many African nations Historical experiences and contemporary research outputs indicate however that the humanities in its various shades is critical to Africa's capacity to respond effectively to such problems as security corruption political ineptitude poverty superstition and HIV AIDS among many other mounting challenges which confront the people of Africa The vibrancy and resilience of Africa's cultures against these and other odds of globalisation episodes in the course of our history demand the focused attention of academia to exploit their relevance to contemporary issues This collection provides a comprehensive overview of issues in the humanities at the turn of the 21st century which create a veritable platform for the global redefinition and understanding of Africa's rich cultures and traditions Such areas covered include ruminations in metaphysics and psychology pathos and ethos cinematic and literary connections and historical conceptualisations African Catholicism and Hermeneutics of Culture Joseph Ogbonnaya, 2014-08-05 The study of Christianity in the non Western world reveals a demographic shift in the center of Christianity from the Northern Hemisphere to the South But the contradictory aspect of the massive African conversion to Christian faith is the grinding poverty level in Africa This condition raises important theological and ecclesiological questions that demand urgent answers Therefore the research objectives of this book are to examine African Catholicism's involvement in human promotion and to seek a new way of theologizing Christianity that moves sub Saharan African peoples to action against the massive injustices that keep them poor Drawing on Africae Munus the Post Synodal Apostolic Exhortation of the Second African Synod 2011 and Bernard Lonergan's notion of culture African Catholicism and Hermeneutics of Culture argues that to truly be the spiritual lung of humanity African Catholicism must appropriate the Christian message to transform African attitudes and personhood and so foster a self reliant commitment to integral African development

BOYHOOD RITUALS IN AN AFRICAN SOCIETY (cl) Simon Ottenberg, 1989 African American Single Mothers Bette Dickerson, 1995-01-17 The African American single parent family has tended to be a scapegoat for a variety of social problems ranging from poverty to drug abuse As a result there exists much misinformation about this family form In this collection the African American matriarchal family is re evaluated to present a more informed picture of its actual structure and functioning From an Afrocentric feminist perspective contributors examine the history legal dilemmas media images and religious values of these families The roles of children grandparents fathers other support figures and the government are reviewed This insider view of these households concludes with suggestions of more effective and sensitive policy approaches to this t The Human Factor in Changing Africa Melville J. Herskovits, 2013-11-05 Focussing on the problems of change and resistance to change that mark the African sub continent this book examines Africa's place in the world from earliest times It considers the nature of its peoples in their prehistoric development the ways in which their cultures were oriented and the ways in which these cultures guided their reactions to European ideas It also assesses the human responses to industrial technological and economic changes and the re discovery by the Africans of African culture Originally published in 1962

The Slave Trade and Culture in the Bight of Biafra G. Ugo Nwokeji, 2010-09-13 The Slave Trade and Culture in the Bight of Biafra dissects and explains the structure dramatic expansion and manifold effects of the slave trade in the Bight of Biafra By showing that the rise of the Aro merchant group was the key factor in trade expansion G Ugo Nwokeji reinterprets why and how such large scale commerce developed in the absence of large scale centralized states The result is the first study to link the structure and trajectory of the slave trade in a major exporting region to the expansion of a specific African merchant group among other fresh insights into Atlantic Africa's involvement in the trade and the most comprehensive treatment of Atlantic slave trade in the Bight of Biafra The fundamental role of culture in the organization of trade is highlighted transcending the usual economic explanations in a way that complicates traditional generalizations about work domestic slavery and gender in pre colonial Africa

Questions of Tradition Mark Salber Phillips, Mark Phillips, Gordon J. Schochet, 2004-01-01 Tradition is a central concern for a wide range of academic disciplines interested in problems of transmitting culture across generations Yet the concept itself has received remarkably little analysis A substantial literature has grown up around the notion of invented tradition but no clear concept of tradition is to be found in these writings since the very notion of invented tradition presupposes a prior concept of tradition and is empty without one this debunking usage has done as much to obscure the idea as to clarify it In the absence of a shared concept the various disciplines have created their own vocabularies to address the subject Useful as they are these specialized vocabularies of which the best known include hybridity canonicity diaspora paradigm and contact zones separate the disciplines and therefore necessarily create only a collection of parochial and disjointed approaches Until now there has been no concerted attempt to put the various disciplines in conversation with one another around the problem of tradition Combining discussions of the idea of tradition by major scholars from a variety of disciplines with synoptic synthesizing essays Questions of Tradition will initiate a renewal of interest in this vital subject

Slave Religion Albert J. Raboteau, 2004-10-07 Twenty five years after its original publication Slave Religion remains a classic in the study of African American history and religion In a new chapter in this anniversary edition author Albert J Raboteau reflects upon the origins of the book the reactions to it over the past twenty five years and how he would write it differently today Using a variety of first and second hand sources some objective some personal all riveting Raboteau analyzes the transformation of the African religions into evangelical Christianity He presents the narratives of the slaves themselves as well as missionary reports travel accounts folklore black autobiographies and the journals of white observers to describe the day to day religious life in the slave communities Slave Religion is a must read for Steiner, 2010-05-17 The second edition of Perspectives on Africa: A Reader in Culture History and Representation is both an introduction to the cultures of Africa and a history of the interpretations of those cultures. Key essays explore the major issues and debates through a combination of classic articles and the newest research in the field. Explores the dynamic processes by and through which scholars have described and understood African history and culture. Includes selections from anthropologists, historians, philosophers, and critics who collectively reveal the interpenetration of ideas and concepts within and across disciplines, regions, and historical periods. Offers a combined focus on ethnography and theory, giving students the means to link theory with data and perspective with practice. Newly revised and updated edition of this popular text with 14 brand new chapters and two new sections: Conflict and Violent Transformations and Development, Governance, and Globalization.

Honoring Ancestors in Sacred Space Grace Turner, 2023-10-10 The Anglican Church established St Matthew's Parish on the eastern side of Nassau to accommodate a population increase after British Loyalists migrated to the Bahamas in the 1780s. The parish had three separate cemeteries: the churchyard cemetery and Centre Burial Ground were for whites, but the Northern Burial Ground was officially consecrated for nonwhites in 1826 by the Bishop of Jamaica. In Honoring Ancestors in Sacred Space, Grace Turner posits that the African Bahamian community intentionally established this separate cemetery in order to observe non-European burial customs. Analyzing the landscape and artifacts found at the site, Turner shows how the community used this space to maintain a sense of social and cultural belonging despite the power of white planters and the colonial government. Although the Northern Burial Ground was covered by storm surges in the 1920s and later a sidewalk was built through the site, Turner's fieldwork reveals a wealth of material culture. She points to the cemetery's location near water, trees planted at the heads of graves, personal items left with the dead, and remnants of food offerings as evidence of mortuary practices originating in West and Central Africa. According to Turner, these African-influenced ways of memorializing the dead illustrate W. E. B. Du Bois's idea of double consciousness: the experience of existing in two irreconcilable cultures at the same time. Comparing the burial ground with others in Great Britain and the American colonies, Turner demonstrates how Africans in the Atlantic diaspora did not always adopt European customs but often created a separate parallel world for themselves.
