Abstract

The “Islamisation” of Indonesia has exerted a transformative force on every aspect of Indonesian society. That process continues today. It has created streams of change and continuity in thoughts, ideologies and practices, of enormous complexity. Strict doctrinal interpretation of Koranic text is not a new phenomenon, contrary to what some reports in the mass media might suggest. Its roots stretch back at least as far as the 1800s with the outbreak of violent conflicts between those urging a stricter, scripturalist application of Islam, and those adhering to traditionalist and colonialist ideologies –culminating in the Padri war of West Sumatra of 1821-38. Indicating an ostensible continuity of ideology, modern extremist ideologues, such as Abu Bakar Bashir, urge their followers toward violent conflict and terrorist actions based on an ideology of strict “Middle Eastern” interpretation of fundamental Islamic tenets. This paper argues that the strategies of those carrying out radical and violent ideologies are undergoing change, as are the strategies of the authorities tasked with combating them. Radical groups have displayed a shift away from large-scale, attacks on symbolic foreign targets towards low-level violence primarily aimed at law enforcement authorities. Authorities, on the other hand, have shown a greater tendency to shoot dead those suspected of involvement with violent radical groups. This paper will examine the changing strategies of violent radical groups and the continuity, and evolution, of the underlying Islamic

Tichelman, 2012-12-06 At a fairly early stage of socialism's penetration into the Afro-Asian world a handful of European social democrats established an Indian Social Democratic Association ISDV They did so in a country Indonesia that was economically little developed and far away from any of the centres of European socialism and Asiatic radical nationalism The ISDV was soon able to bring its influence to bear on sections of the urban proletariat and to build up an Indonesian revolutionary movement This occurred in sharp competition with a nascent nationalist leadership and then without the usual intermediary role played by radicalizing groups of native intelligentsia In this way Dutch social democrats laid the foundations for one of the first communist parties in Asia and Africa a party which was destined to become one of the few communist mass parties of the Third World However in contrast to the major communist movements of China Vietnam this Indonesian party was to demonstrate a basic weakness successive and catastrophic defeats If we leave out Japan the only non-Western country where a capitalist industrial revolution occurred we see that foreign and particularly Western minorities frequently did play a dominant role in the initial and formative phases of the socialist and workers movements of the Afro-Asiatic world      Islam, Law, and Equality in Indonesia John R. Bowen, 2003-05-29 This book looks at how Muslims in Indonesia struggle to reconcile radically different sets of social norms and laws      Islam and the State in Indonesia Bahtiar

Smith, Mark Woodward, 2013-09-23 The traditional Islamic boarding schools known as pesantren are crucial centres of Muslim learning and culture within Indonesia but their cultural significance has been underexplored This book is the first to explore understandings of gender and Islam in pesantren and Sufi orders in Indonesia By considering these distinct but related Muslim gender cultures in Java Lombok and Aceh the book examines the broader function of pesantren as a force for both redefining existing modes of Muslim subjectivity and cultivating new ones It demonstrates how as Muslim women rise to positions of power and authority in this patriarchal domain they challenge and negotiate normative Muslim patriarchy while establishing their own Muslim authenticity The book goes on to question the comparison of Indonesian Islam with the Arab Middle East challenging the adoption of expatriate and diasporic Middle Eastern Muslim feminist discourses and secular western feminist analyses in Indonesian contexts Based on extensive fieldwork the book explores configurations of female leadership power feminisms and sexuality to reveal multiple Muslim selves in pesantren and Sufi orders not only as centres of learning but also as social spaces in which the interplay of gender politics status power and piety shape the course of life Islamic Post-Traditionalism in Indonesia Rumadi, 2015-09-09 Islamic Post Traditionalism in Indonesia offers a unique assessment of the development of the phenomenon of Islamic post traditionalism using Nahdlatul Ulama NU the largest mass Islamic organization in Indonesia and the world as a case study Post traditionalism is a term now widely used to describe the often controversial attempts by progressive reformers to reify and legitimize modern intellectual notions often from non Islamic sources by using reference to terminology and ideas drawn from Islamic tradition This book discusses the discourse of post traditionalist thought within Islamic thought more widely before turning to examine the emergence of new currents of progressive thought within NU in Indonesia and the factors that influence that In particular the book explores the sometimes fiery struggle between liberal and conservative thought in NU and the position of post traditionalist thought in the wider development of intellectualism in Indonesia It covers in detail new religious discourses that are being developed and offers important insights into the implications and future for post traditionalist thought among Muslims The highly influential Indonesian version of this book was originally published as Post Traditionalisme Islam Wacana Intelektualisme dalam Komunitas NU by the Fahmina Institute Indonesia 2008 Modernization, Tradition and Identity Euis Nurlaelawati, 2010 Nurlaelawati's close and contextually sensitive analysis of judicial practice in Indonesia's Islamic courts yields invaluable insights into the subtle dynamics of legal change in a modern Islamic legal system Prof Mark Cammack Professor of Law Southwestern Law School Los Angeles Extremist Islam Kumar Ramakrishna, 2021-12-01 This book shines a light on specific beliefs behaviors and policies that promote extremist terrorist activity stemming from violent interpretations of Islam in Southeast Asia Ultimately this book offers a comprehensive strategy for effectively addressing these challenges

Muslim Legal Thought in Modern Indonesia R. Michael Feener, 2007-08-30 Indonesia has been home to some of the most vibrant and complex developments in modern Islamic thought anywhere in the world Nevertheless little is known or understood about these developments outside South East Asia By considering the work of the leading Indonesian thinkers of the twentieth century Michael Feener an intellectual authority in the area offers a cogent critique of this diverse and extensive literature and sheds light on the contemporary debates and the dynamics of Islamic reform The book highlights the openness to and creative manipulation of diverse strands of international thought that have come to define Islamic intellectualism in modern Indonesia This is an accessible and interpretive overview of the religious and social thought of the world's largest Muslim majority nation As such it will be read by scholars of Islamic law and society South East Asian studies and comparative law and jurisprudence Women and Property Rights in Indonesian Islamic Legal Contexts

, 2018-11-01 In Women and Property Rights in Indonesian Islamic Contexts eight scholars of Indonesian Islam examine women's access to property in law courts and in village settings The authors draw on fieldwork from across the archipelago to analyse how judges and ordinary people apply interpretations of law religion and gender in deliberating and deciding in property disputes that arise at moments of marriage divorce and death The chapters go beyond the world of legal and scriptural texts to ask how women in fact fare in these contexts Women's capabilities and resources in Indonesia the world's largest Muslim society and one with distinctive traditions of legal and social life provides a critical knowledge base for advancing our understanding of the social life of Islamic law Contributors Nanda Amalia John R Bowen Tutik Hamidah Abidin

Nurdin Euis Nurlaelawati Arskal Salim Rosmah Tami Atun Wardatun      Military Politics, Islam, and the State in Indonesia Marcus Mietzner, 2009 Based on a decade of research in Indonesia this book provides an in depth account of the military's struggle to adapt to the new democratic system after the downfall of Suharto's authoritarian regime in 1998 Unlike other studies of the Indonesian armed forces which focus exclusively on internal military developments Mietzner's study emphasizes the importance of conflicts among civilians in determining the extent of military involvement in political affairs Analysing disputes between Indonesia's main Muslim groups Mietzner argues that their intense rivalry between 1998 and 2004 allowed the military to extend its engagement in politics and protect its institutional interests The stabilization of the civilian polity after 2004 in contrast has led to an increasing marginalization of the armed forces from the power centre Drawing broader conclusions from these events for Indonesia's ongoing process of democratic consolidation the book shows that the future role of the armed forces in politics will largely depend on the ability of civilian leaders to maintain functioning democratic institutions and procedures      Islam in Indonesia Jajat Burhanudin, Kees van Dijk, 2013-01-31 While Muslims in Indonesia have begun to turn towards a strict adherence to Islam the reality of the socio religious environment is much more complicated than a simple shift towards fundamentalism In this volume contributors explore the multifaceted role of Islam in Indonesia from a variety of different perspectives drawing on carefully compiled case studies Topics covered include religious education the increasing number of Muslim feminists in Indonesia the role of Indonesia in the greater Muslim world social activism and the middle class and the interaction between Muslim radio and religious identity      Sharia Dynamics Timothy P. Daniels, 2017-01-12 This multidisciplinary volume explores the role of Islamic law within the dynamic processes of postcolonial transformation nation building and social reform Here eleven international scholars examine Islamic law in several contemporary sociopolitical contexts focusing specifically on Malaysia Indonesia Pakistan China Tunisia Nigeria the United States and the International Islamic Fiqh Academy IIFA of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation OIC The contributors also address the entanglement of Islamic law and ethics with the history of Muslim religious discourses shifts toward modernity gender relations and efforts to construct exclusive or plural national communities Sharia Dynamics at once enchanting and enlightening is a must read for scholars of contemporary Islam
