Contracting Colonialism Translation And Christian Conversion In Tagalog Society Under Early Spanish Rule:

Contracting Colonialism Vicente L. Rafael, 1993 In an innovative mix of history anthropology and post colonial theory Vicente L Rafael examines the role of language in the religious conversion of the Tagalogs to Catholicism and their subsequent colonization during the early period 1580 1705 of Spanish rule in the Philippines By tracing this history of communication between Spaniards and Tagalogs Rafael maps the conditions that made possible both the emergence of a colonial regime and resistance to it Originally published in 1988 this new paperback edition contains an updated preface that places the book in theoretical relation to other recent works in cultural studies and comparative colonialism Contracting Colonialism Vicente L. Translation and Christian Conversion in Tagalog Society Under Early Spanish Rule Rafael VICENTE, 1995 Strange Names of God Sangkeun Kim, 2004 One of the most precarious and daunting tasks for sixteenth century European missionaries in the cross cultural mission frontiers was translating the name of God Deus into the local language When the Italian Jesuit Matteo Ricci 1552 1610 introduced the Chinese term Shangti as the semantic equivalent of Deus he made one of the most innovative cross cultural missionary translations Ricci s employment of Shangti was neither a simple rewording of a Chinese term nor the use of a loan word but was indeed a risk taking identification of the Christian God with the Confucian Most High Shangti Strange Names of God investigates the historical progress of the semantic configuration of Shangti as the divine name of the Christian God in China by focusing on Chinese intellectuals reaction to the strangely translated Chinese name of God Thailand's International Meditation Centers Brooke Schedneck, 2015-05-15 This book explores contemporary practices within the new institution of international meditation centers in Thailand It discusses the development of the lay vipassana meditation movement in Thailand and relates Thai Buddhism to contemporary processes of commodification and globalisation Through an examination of how meditation centers are promoted internationally the author considers how Thai Buddhism is translated for and embodied within international tourists who participate in meditation retreats in Thailand Shedding new light on the decontextualization of religious practices and raising new questions concerning tourism and religion this book focuses on the nature of cultural exchange spiritual tourism and religious choice in modernity With an aim of reframing questions of religious modernity each chapter offers a new perspective on the phenomenon of spiritual seeking in Thailand Offering an analysis of why meditation practices appeal to non Buddhists this book contends that religions do not travel as whole entities but instead that partial elements resonate with different cultures and are appropriated over time

Conversion Kenneth Mills, Anthony Grafton, 2003 A historical investigation of the phenomena of religious conversion from ancient to modern times This volume explores the subject of religious conversion over broad expanses of time and space considering cases from the thirteenth through the twentieth centuries and from settings across the world Leading scholars from a variety of historical sub fields address the theme at a moment when the utility of the concept of conversion is vigorously debated The historical settings treated here stretch from thirteenth century England to sixteenth century southern India and Andean Peru from Bohemia to China during the age of the Reformations from the fifteenth century Low Countries to seventeenth century New France and from the nineteenth century Minnesota borderlands to late colonial Zimbabwe and modern India The book s broad mixture of examples and approaches will both encourage a deepening of specialist knowledge about particular places and times and spark new thinking about religious change cultural appropriations and interactive emergence across discipline and fields This book is one of two collections of essays on religious conversion drawn from the activities of the Shelby Cullum Davis Center for Historical Studies at Princeton University between 1999 and 2001 The other volume Conversion in Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages is also published by the University of Rochester Press

Counter-Hispanization in the Colonial Philippines John Blanco, 2025-10-01 In Counter Hispanization in the Colonial Philippines the author analyzes the literature and politics of spiritual conquest in order to demonstrate how it reflected the contribution of religious ministers to a protracted period of social anomie throughout the mission provinces between the 16th 18th centuries By tracking the prose of spiritual conquest with the history of the mission in official documents religious correspondence and public controversies the author shows how contrary to the general consensus in Philippine historiography the literature and pastoral politics of spiritual conquest reinforced the frontier character of the religious provinces outside Manila in the Americas as well as the Philippines by supplanting the absence of law in the name of supplementing or completing it This frontier character accounts for the modern reinvention of native custom as well as the birth of literature and theater in the Tagalog vernacular

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Religion Hephzibah Israel, 2022-12-19 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Religion is the first to bring together an extensive interdisciplinary engagement with the multiple ways in which the concepts and practices of translation and religion intersect The book engages a number of scholarly disciplines in conversation with each other including the study of translation and interpreting religion philosophy anthropology history art history and area studies A range of leading and emerging international specialists critically engage with changing understandings of the key categories translation and religion as discursive constructs thus contributing to the development of a new field of academic study translation and religion The 28 contributions divided into six parts analyze how translation constructs ideas texts or objects as sacred or for religious purposes often in competition with what is categorized as non religious The part played by faith communities is treated as integral to analyses of the role of translation and religion. It investigates how or why translation functions in re-constructing and transforming religions and for whom and examines a range of sacred texts in translation from the written to the spoken manuscript to print paper to digital architectural form to objects of sacred art intersemiotic scriptural texts and where commentary exegesis and translation interweave. This Handbook is an indispensable scholarly resource for researchers in translation studies and the study of religions. Translation and Race Corine Tachtiris, 2024-02-06. Translation and Race brings together translation studies with critical race studies for a long overdue reckoning with race and racism in translation theory and practice. This book explores the unbearable whiteness of translation in the West that excludes scholars and translators of color from the field and also upholds racial inequities more broadly. Outlining relevant concepts from critical race studies, Translation and Race demonstrates how norms of translation theory and practice in the West actually derive from ideas rooted in white supremacy and other forms of racism. Chapters explore translation's role in historical processes of racialization, racial capitalism, and intellectual property, identity politics, and Black translation praxis; the globalization of critical race studies; and ethical strategies for translating racist discourse. Beyond attempts to diversify the field of translation studies and the literary translation profession, this book ultimately calls for a radical transformation of translation theory and practice. This book is crucial reading for advanced students and scholars in translation studies, critical race, and ethnic studies and related areas, as well as for practicing translators. The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies provides a comprehensive state-of-the-art account of the complex field of translation studies. Written by leading specialists from around the world, this volume brings together authoritative original articles on pressing issues, including the current status of the field and its interdisciplinary nature, the problematic definition of the object of study, the various theoretical frameworks, the research methodologies available. The handbook also includes discussion of the most recent theoretical, descriptive, and applied research, as well as glimpses of future directions within the field and an extensive up-to-date bibliography. The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies is an indispensable resource for postgraduate students of translation studies. Everyday Life in the Philippines, 1657-1699 Norah L. A. Gharala, Marya Svetlana T. Camacho, Juan O. Mesquida, 2025-03-22. This book examines the legacy of one of the most influential members of Spanish society in the seventeenth-century Philippines, Dominican scholar Juan de Paz. Using a unique manuscript from the collections of the Archivo de la Universidad de Santo Tomás in Manila, the authors provide a window into the concerns, problems, and entanglements of people of different ethnicities, occupations, and stations in life. Paz's writings, resolving conflicts and weighing in on questions, have not previously been translated into English. The transcriptions, translations, and editorial introductions collected in this volume therefore make it an invaluable resource for students and scholars interested in the cultural and social history of the Philippines and the Spanish empire
