John Donne's Physics Elizabeth D. Harvey, Timothy M. Harrison, 2024-05-10 A reimagining of Devotions upon Emergent Occasions as an original treatment of human life shaped by innovations in seventeenth century science and medicine In 1624 poet and preacher John Donne published Devotions upon Emergent Occasions a book that recorded his near death experience during a deadly epidemic in London Four hundred years later in the aftermath of our own pandemic Harvey and Harrison show how Devotions crystalizes the power beauty and enduring strangeness of Donne's thinking Arguing that Donne saw human life in light of emergent ideas in the study of nature physics and the study of the body physick John Donne s Physics reveals Devotions as a culminating achievement a radically new literary form that uses poetic techniques to depict Donne s encounter with death in a world transformed by new discoveries and knowledge systems The Temple of the Mind John R. Mulder, 1969 Poets, Players, and Preachers Anne James, 2016-01-01 On the night of November 4th 1605 the English authorities uncovered an alleged plot by a group of discontented Catholics to blow up the Houses of Parliament with the lords princes queen and king in attendance The failure of the plot is celebrated to this day and is known as Guy Fawkes Day In Poets Players and Preachers Anne James explores the literary responses to the discovery of the Gunpowder Plot in poetry drama and sermons This book is the first full length study of the literary repercussions of the conspiracy By analyzing the genres of poems plays and sermons produced between 1605 and 1688 the author argues that not only did the continuous reinterpretation of the conspiracy serve religious and political purposes but that such literary reinterpretations produced generic changes The Oxford Handbook of English Prose 1500-1640 Andrew Hadfield, 2013-07-04 The Oxford Handbook of English Prose 1500 1640 is the only available overview of early modern English prose writing It considers the range and variety of the substance and types of English prose and also analyses the forms and styles of writing adopted in the early modern period Self and Symbolism in the Poetry of Michelangelo, John Donne and Agrippa D'Aubigne A.B. Altizer, Alma B. Altizer, 1973-07-31 Alienation ecstasy death rebirth in the poetry of Michelangelo Donne and d Aubigne these archetypal themes make possible the ultimate formulation of new poetic symbolizations of self and world As their poetry evolves from a primarily rhetorical towards a fully symbolic mode images of loss of self in ecstasy or in alienation of death and rebirth recur with increasing frequency and intensity Whether the context is love poetry or religious poetry the basic problem remains the same love is the link between the two kinds of poetry And love is indeed a problem for these three poets since it involves the self in relation to the other the other being either God or another human being Increasingly the work of each poet centers on a need to analyze or abolish the gulf separating subject and object self and other The dominant mode of most of the three poets work is neither rhetorical nor symbolic but expressive This transitional mode reveals the individual poet s most urgent concerns and conflicts his sense of self in Its most isolated or burdensome affirmative or struggling state Under lying most of their poems is a profound self consciousness a heightened awareness of self as a powerful separate entity with a corresponding objectification of all reality outside of self The Renaissance in general is a time of increasing individualism and 1 self consciousness Confessions of Faith in Early Modern England Brooke Conti, 2014-01-18 As seventeenth century England wrestled with the aftereffects of the Reformation the personal frequently conflicted with the political In speeches political pamphlets and other works of religious controversy writers from the reign of James I to that of James II unexpectedly erupt into autobiography John Milton famously interrupts his arguments against episcopacy with autobiographical accounts of his poetic hopes and dreams while John Donne's attempts to describe his conversion from Catholicism wind up obscuring rather than explaining Similar moments appear in the works of Thomas Browne John Bunyan and the two King Jameses themselves These autobiographies are familiar enough that their peculiarities have frequently been overlooked in scholarship but as Brooke Conti notes they sit uneasily within their surrounding material as well as within the conventions of confessional literature that preceded them Confessions of Faith in Early Modern England positions works such as Milton's political tracts Donne's polemical and devotional prose Browne's Religio Medici and Bunyan's Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners as products of the era's tense political climate illuminating how the pressures of public self declaration and allegiance led to autobiographical writings that often concealed more than they revealed For these authors autobiography was less a genre than a device to negotiate competing political personal and psychological demands The complex works Conti explores provide a privileged window into the pressures placed on early modern religious identity underscoring that it was no simple matter for these authors to tell the truth of their interior life even to themselves French Pulpit Oratory, 1598-1650 Peter Bayley, 2011-08-11 This 1980 text was the first full length study of seventeenth century pulpit oratory since 1863 and the first to treat both Catholic and Protestant preaching The first part opens with a general discussion on the sermon as a literary form followed by a survey of ideas on preaching and the practical arts of preaching circulating in late Renaissance Europe Of the central chapters on the sermons themselves two are concerned with the style and complex formal structures of the sermons while two examine in turn the major themes of illusion and nature and the imagery associated with them The second part is a descriptive catalogue of extant sermons and some funeral orations of the period which provided a great deal of information never previously collected The book made a significant contribution both to the study of a neglected period of French literature the Baroque and to comparative studies of the sermon John Donne's Articulations of the Feminine H. L. Meakin, 1998 This book is a historical and theoretical study of some of John Donne's less frequently discussed poetry and prose it interrogates various trends that have dominated Donne criticism such as the widely divergent views about his attitudes towards women the focus on the Songs and Sonets to the exclusion of his other works and the tendency to separate discussions of his poetry and prose On a broader scale it joins a small but growing number of feminist re readings of Donne s works Using the cultural criticism of French feminist philosopher Luce Irigaray Meakin explores works throughout Donne's career from his earliest verse letters to sermons preached while Divinity Reader at Lincoln's Inn and Dean of St Paul's in London American Notes Queries, 2007 A quarterly journal of short articles notes and reviews Travel Literature and the Evolution of the Novel Percy G. Adams, 2014-07-15 Although much has been written about how the novel relates to the epic the drama or autobiography no one has clearly analyzed the complex connections between prose fiction as it evolved before 1800 and the literature of travel which by that date had a long and colorful history Percy Adams skilfully portrays the emergence of the novel in the fiction of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and traces in rich detail the history of travel literature from its beginnings to the time of James Cook contemporary of Richardson and Fielding And since the recit de voyage and the novel were then so international he deals throughout with all the literatures of Western Europe one of the book s chief themes being the close literary ties among European nations Equally important in the present study is its demonstration that just as early travel accounts were often a combination of reporting and fabrication so prose fiction is not a dichotomy to be divided into the adult novel on the one hand and the childish romance on the other but an ambivalence the marriage of realism and romanticism Travel Literature and the Evolution of the Novel not only shows the novel to be amorphous and changing it also proves impossible the task of defining the recit de voyage with its thousand forms and faces Often the two types of literature are almost indistinguishable even before Don Quixote Adams writes many travel accounts could have been advertised as having the endless fascination of a wonderfully observed novel This study by Percy Adams will both modify opinions about the novel and its history and provide an excellent introduction to the travel account a form of literature too little known to students of belles lettres Telling Tears in the English Renaissance Marjory E. Lange, 2021-12-06 Tears and weeping are at once human universals and socially constrained phenomena This volume explores the interface between those two viewpoints by examining medical literature sermons and lyric poetry of the 16th and 17th centuries to see how dominant paradigms regarded who could who must and who must not weep These paradigms shifted in some cases radically during these centuries Without a clear understanding of how the Renaissance read tears it is difficult to avoid using our own preconceptions often quite different and very misleading There are five chapters one on medical and scientific material two on sermons and two on different types of lyric Rhetoric and the Familiar in Francis Bacon and John Donne Daniel Derrin, 2013-03-08 Rhetoric and the Familiar examines the writing and oratory of Francis Bacon and John Donne from the perspective of the faculty psychology they both inherited Both writers inherited the resources of the classical rhetorical tradition through their university education The book traces from within that tradition the sources of Bacon and Donne's ideas about the processes of mental image making reasoning and passionate feeling It analyzes how knowledge about those mental processes underlies the rhetorical planning of texts by Bacon such as New Atlantis Essayes or Counsels Novum Organum and the parliamentary speeches and of texts by Donne such as the Verse Letters Essayes in Divinity Holy Sonnets and the sermons The book argues that their rhetorical practices reflect a common appropriation of ideas about mental process from faculty psychology and that they deploy it in divergent ways depending on their rhetorical contexts It demonstrates the vital importance in early modern thinking about rhetoric of considering what familiar remembered material will occur to a given audience how that differs according to context and the problems the Dictionary of International Biography Geoffrey Handley-Taylor, Ernest Kay, 1971 A biographical record of contemporary achievement together with a key to the location of the original biographical notes Sharon Cadman Seelig, 1996 In Generating Texts Sharon Cadman Seelig tests traditional notions of genre by analyzing parallels between works that confound existing categories Seelig pairs three seventeenth century prose works with three other works each of a later century Burton s Anatomy of Melancholy with Sterne s Tristram Shandy Browne s Religio Medici with Thoreau s Walden and Donne s Devotions upon Emergent Occasions with Eliot s Four Quartets Proceeding from her authors similarities in method and common sets of assumptions such as concern with process and discovery time and eternity or the nature of the self she uncovers parallels showing that genre is not simply a set of formal features but rather a particular way of seeing the world that grows out of authorial attitude impulse and occasion In addition to its obvious appeal to students and scholars interested in Sterne Thoreau Eliot or seventeenth century literature Generating Texts should interest literary scholars and students more generally particularly those concerned with the interconnections between literary periods and genres Seelig has written an original and accessible contribution to the field of genre study Literary Culture in Jacobean England P. Salzman, 2002-09-06 This book offers an unparalleled depth of historical research by surveying the extraordinary richness of literary culture in a single year Paul Salzman examines what is written published performed and in some cases even spoken during 1621 in Britain Well known works by writers such as Donne Burton Middleton and Ralegh are examined alongside hitherto unknown works in a huge variety of genres plays poems romances advice books sermons histories parliamentary speeches royal proclamations.
