Contrary Winds Essays On Newfoundland Society In Crisis

Raymond Benjamin Blake

Contrary Winds Essays On Newfoundland Society In Crisis:

Contrary Winds Rex Clark, 1986 Twentieth-century Newfoundland James Hiller, Peter Neary, 1994 Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations brings together ten papers by eight well known historians of Newfoundland and Labrador The papers address a wide variety of subject matter and open many avenues for further research The book concludes with an extensive bibliography on the Newfoundland and Labrador in the Twentieth century This bibliography is organized by topic and will serve the needs of the general reader and specialists alike Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations highlight the scope and complexity of present day writing about the history of Newfoundland and Labrador James Hiller Professor of History at Memorial University and author of a number of articles on Newfoundland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Peter Neary Professor of History at the University of Western Ontario and the author of Newfoundland in the North Atlantic World 1929 1949 1998 Urban and community development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 , 1993-01-01 This book offers the first comprehensive overview of community development for the Atlantic Provinces The authors take a collaborative approach to their research question and contribute more than just a survey on urban development They also create a framework for understanding the relationship between the development of towns and cities in Atlantic Canada and in other parts of the country Published in English Canada's Rights Revolution Dominique Clément, 2009-01-01 In the first major study of postwar social movement organizations in Canada Dominique Clément provides a history of the human rights movement as seen through the eyes of two generations of activists Drawing on newly acquired archival sources extensive interviews and materials released through access to information applications Clément explores the history of four organizations that emerged in the sixties and evolved into powerful lobbies for human rights despite bitter internal disputes and intense rivalries This book offers a unique perspective on infamous human rights controversies and argues that the idea of human rights has historically been highly statist while grassroots activism has been at the heart of the most profound human rights advances Canadians at Last Raymond Benjamin Blake, 1994-01-01 By beginning with the 1949 Confederation rather than the activities leading up to it and by thoroughly documenting areas of agreement contention and neglect Blake writes a solid contemporary history of Newfoundland's integration into Canada

Between History and Tomorrow Gerald M. Sider, 2003-01-01 This is what anthropology should be and the way ethnography should be done Gavin Smith University of Toronto Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism , 2001

Urban and Community Development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 Carleton University. History Collaborative, Canadian Museum of Civilization, 1993 This book which arose from a graduate seminar in Maritime history in 1991 92 offers the first systematic and comparative overview of community development for the entire Atlantic region The book assesses the published census returns from Confederation to the present to track the growth and development of each town and city in the region and surveys aspects of the region's political economy since Confederation paying close attention to the rise and fall of an industrial core and the emergent dependencies that were being reshaped by the expanding of government in determining the fate of Atlantic Canada A typology of community experiences is followed by a reflection on the consequences for the contemporary urban scene of political and economic transformation Journal D'histoire Et de Politique ,1992 Joey Smallwood Ray Argyle,2012-08-25 Known as the only living Father of Confederation in his lifetime Joey Smallwood was an entertaining crafty and controversial politician in Canada for decades Born in Gambo Newfoundland Joseph Joey Smallwood 1900 1991 spent his life championing the worth and potential of his native province Although he was a successful journalist and radio personality Smallwood is best known for his role in bringing Newfoundland into Confederation with Canada in 1949 believing that such an action would secure an average standard of living for Newfoundlanders He was rightfully dubbed the only living Father of Confederation in his lifetime and was premier of the province for twenty three years During much of the last part of the twentieth century Smallwood remained a prominent player in the story of Newfoundland and Labrador s growth as a province Later in life he put himself in debt in order to complete his Encyclopedia of Newfoundland and Labrador the only project of its kind in Canada up to that point In Joey Smallwood Schemer and Dreamer Ray Argyle reexamines the life of this incredible figure in light of Newfoundland s progress in recent years and measures his vision against its new position as a province of prosperity rather than poverty Nation and Society Margaret Conrad,Alvin Finkel,2004 Designed to accompany the two volume History of the Canadian Peoples and the one volume synthesis Canada A National History This book can also supplement any survey of Canadian history text or serve as a stand alone text Nation and Society Readings in Post Confederation Canadian History offers students a sample of some of the best recent scholarship on the history of Canada since Confederation The readings are grouped in a combination of time periods and themes that are commonly used in studies of the post Confederation period Inventing Canada 1867 1914 Economy and Society in the Industrial Age 1867 1918 Transitional Years Canada 1919 1945 Reinventing Canada 1945 1975 and Post Modern Canada Ethnology ,2005 How Ottawa Spends, 1988-1989 Katherine A.H. Graham,1988-06-15 This is the ninth edition of How Ottawa Spends As in years past this volume focuses largely on national priorities federal spending and taxing However it also deals with the less visible underside of federal regulatory law and non discretionary expenditures such as the federal share of the Canada Assistance Plan This is appropriate in terms of the theme of this volume Heading Into the Stretch It is likely that this will be the last edition of How Ottawa Spends before the next federal election Informed discussion and debate about the various federal responsibilities covered in this review are intended to spark public interest and help in consideration of the government record It is hoped that the examination of the February 1988 budget and 1988 89 Estimates contained in this volume will also be illuminating Nationalism in Stateless Nations Robert C. Thomsen,2010 Nationalism in Stateless Nations explores national identities and nationalist movements since 1967 using the examples of Scotland and Newfoundland Adding to the debate about globalisation and the future of the nation state the book argues that ethnically rooted nationalism in modern liberal democracies need not as argued by theories of classic nationalist movements strive for full independence In fact nationalist movements are adapting to circumstances by becoming autonomist rather than separatist pragmatic rather than dogmatic and the book illustrates how Scotland and Newfoundland both previously independent countries are excellent examples of this Building on theories of national identity formation and nationalism it traces the development of cultural and political nationalism and changing images of the national self With a focus on important fomenting factors and actors intellectuals political parties and the media the book combines historical sociological political and media studies analyses in an interdisciplinary investigation providing a comprehensive account of the waxing and waning of nationalism

Making a World of Difference James Overton, Memorial University of Newfoundland. Institute of Social and Economic Research, 1996 Tourism is a major cultural and economic force in the world Many people in Newfoundland are embracing tourism as a possible way out of the province s economic difficulties How is the world of difference as Newfoundland is described in a far reaching tourism promotion campaign affected by the policies and programmes designed to exploit this trend Overton examines specific tourism related initiatives within Newfoundland and Labrador as starting points for a broad discussion of culture and development

Violence and Public Anxiety Elliott Leyton, William O'Grady, James Overton, Memorial University of Newfoundland. Institute of Social and Economic Research, 1992 The central question posed in this book is whether or not Newfoundland is becoming more violent Three different papers examine various dimensions of crime and violence in the province from an historical perspective illustrating how public perceptions of crime are formed The first paper by William O Grady discusses how violence is defined and measured Based on examination of how official statistics are compiled and used he assesses their ability to accurately record the incidence of violence The next paper by Elliott Leyton investigates the role played by the press and by various interest groups in the period since the mid 1970s in shaping and sustaining the idea that Newfoundland is in the midst of a wave of crime and violence Overton s paper is an historical case study which examines the complex relationships between violence questions of popular protest public order and economic and political conditions in Newfoundland in the 1930s
