The Social Topography of a Rural Community Steve Hindle, 2023-05-11 The Social Topography of a Rural Community is a micro history of an exceptionally well documented seventeenth century English village Chilvers Coton in north eastern Warwickshire Drawing on a rich archive of sources including an occupational census detailed estate maps account books private journals and hundreds of deeds and wills and employing a novel micro spatial methodology it reconstructs the life experience of some 780 inhabitants spread across 176 households This offers a unique opportunity to visualize members of an English rural community as they responded to and in turn initiated changes in social and economic activity making their own history on their own terms In so doing the book brings to the fore the social economic and spatial lives of people who have been marginalized from conventional historical discourse and offers an unusual level of detail relating to the spatial and demographic details of local life Each of the substantive chapters focuses on the contributions and experiences of a particular household in the parish the mill the vicarage the alehouse the blacksmith s forge the hovels of the labourers and coalminers the cottages of the nail smiths and ribbon weavers the farms of the yeomen and craftsmen and the manor house of Arbury Hall itself locating them precisely on specific sites in the landscape and the built environment and sketching the evolving with significant detail and moves out to build up a subtle and innovative view of English cultural identities in the early modern period

Rural Society and Economic Change in County Durham A. T. Brown, 2015 In the middle of the fifteenth century the economy of north east England was beset by crises population was low production was stagnant and many landowners faced penury By the end of the sixteenth century however the precocious development of the coal industry and high levels of inflation provided opportunities for investment and profit in the Durham countryside This book examines the development of agrarian capitalism estate management tenure and the land market social mobility the gentrification of merchant wealth and the emergence of the yeomanry during this period in the region It looks at such questions as how the coal industry was affected by the fifteenth century recession and the effects its rapid expansion had upon landed society reassesses debates on the rise of the gentry and the crisis of the aristocracy and considers how the wholesale economic changes of this period affected the social structure of late medieval and early modern England Although this period is often seen as a transitional era this book argues that it needs to be studied as one long agrarian cycle showing the degree to which patterns of landholding fixed during the fifteenth century recession affected the distribution of profits between different types of lords and tenants in the sixteenth and early seventeenth century A T Brown is an Addison Wheeler Fellow at Durham University

Africans in East Anglia, 1467-1833 Richard Maguire, 2021 What were the lives of Africans in provincial England like during the early modern period How where and when did they arrive in rural counties How were they perceived by their contemporaries This book examines the population of Africans in Norfolk and Suffolk from 1467 the date of the first documented reference to an African in the region to 1833 when Parliament voted to abolish slavery in the British Empire It uncovers the complexity of these Africans historical experience considering the interaction of local custom class structure tradition memory and the gradual impact of the Atlantic slaving economy Richard C Maguire proposes that the initial regional response to arriving Africans during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was not defined exclusively by ideas relating to skin colour but rather by local understandings of religious status class position ideas about freedom and bondage and immediate local circumstances Arriving Africans were able to join the region s working population through baptism marriage parenthood and work This manner of response to Africans was challenged as local merchants and gentry begin doing business with the slaving economy from the mid seventeenth century onwards Although the racialised ideas underpinning Atlantic slavery changed the social circumstances of Africans in the region the book suggests that they did not completely displace older more inclusive ideas in working communities
