Control But Verify York Centre for International and Strategic Studies,1994 Treaty Compliance: Some Concerns and Remedies The Markland Group,Canadian Council on International Law,2024-01-15 The Markland Group is a Canadian non governmental organization founded in 1987 by Douglas Scott It is composed of lawyers academics and other professionals with a special interest in the compliance aspects of disarmament treaties The Canadian Council on International Law was founded in 1972 to represent Canadian international law practitioners and academics and to facilitate and promote the study of international legal problems by scholars and professionals These two organizations joined forces in March 1995 to conduct a workshop on compliance a topic which they felt had received insufficient attention from the international legal community Thirty eight experts from Canada the United States and Great Britain were assembled for a series of meetings at the University of Toronto under the chairmanship of Walter Dorn and Christine Elwell Five of the papers presented at the workshop have since been edited expanded and updated for publication in this volume The papers analyse compliance measures under various treaties with particular attention being given to The Biological Weapons Convention the Chemical Weapons Convention the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty Safeguards Trade and Environment Compliance Measures and International Humanitarian Law Compliance and Enforcement Mechanisms and their potential impact on Arms Control and Disarmament Treaties The Markland Group and the CCIL believe that the study of treaty compliance methodology is still in its infancy The development of effective reliable and acceptable compliance systems is imperative particularly for treaties dealing with disarmament It is hoped that this volume will provide an impetus for enhanced study of this crucial issue Weapons Proliferation and World Order Brad Roberts,2023-09-29 With the end of the Cold War the subject of weapons proliferation has acquired new interest and prominence So too have questions about the nature of the world order that will succeed the structure of the last fifty years This study explores the connections among these topics It describes the prevailing conceptual model of nuclear proliferation evaluates proliferation s changing technical features considers economic and political factors bearing on its future rate and character and speculates about proliferation s implications on the post cold war world order It also considers the role of international public policy in meeting proliferation s challenges Arguing that updated approaches are needed the analysis emphasizes cooperative over coercive approaches to order It concludes with an assessment of progress to date in meeting these new challenges arguing that the new agenda is only slowly coming into focus The Weapons State David Mutimer,2000 The proliferation of all kinds of weapons is a focal point for international security This work shows how both the language used to talk about weapons proliferation and the practices adopted to respond to it serve to define the problem in ways that promote policy responses doomed to failure Changing Face of War Allan Douglas English,1998-06-02 Part I deals with the evolution of military strategy and doctrine from the Napoleonic Wars to today Contributors look at the influence of great military thinkers such as Carl von Clausewitz

on the armed forces of the Western world and examine how previous military leaders dealt with issues similar to those faced today such as the effects of technology on strategy the significance of the operational level of war and ways of restructuring the armed forces in times of uncertainty and change Part II examines warfare at the end of this century Examples of the development of revolutionary warfare in Asia from Mao to Giap are used to underscore the cultural and situational influences on doctrines of revolutionary war Part III looks at the future of conflict in the twenty first century Contributors investigate diverse issues including the impact of computers on warfare the effect of media coverage on strategy space policy arms control in the post Cold War era political systems and their relationship to the probability of war and the prospects of stealth technology In an era when armed forces around the world have come under increasing scrutiny and criticism this collection of essays provides valuable lessons that may avert future military mistakes

Critical Security Studies Keith Krause,Michael C. Williams,2002-09-11 This text takes issue with arguments that security studies is a discipline of limited use in making sense of the post Cold War world It argues that many of the most interesting theoretical issues in international relations can most usefully be studied through a prism labelled security studies The book combines chapters which provide a variety of critical perspectives on the discipline and address a diverse range of theoretical concerns with chapters that examine such substantive issues as weapons proliferation and the changing meaning of security for actors in the erstwhile conflict between East and West

Confidence Building in the Arms Control Process James Macintosh,Canada. Non-Proliferation, Arms Control and Disarmament Division,1996 Confidence building as an approach to international security management has traditionally focused on developing agreements featuring well known confidence building measures as opposed to the activity of confidence building itself This report begins with a critical review of traditional confidence building ideas which highlights some problems that continue to undermine conventional treatments of confidence building It then discusses in some detail the essential elements that comprise the transformation view of confidence building That view shifts attention away from operational measures towards the processes associated with their development and application According to that view confidence building is a distinct activity undertaken by policy makers with the minimum intention of improving some aspects of a traditionally antagonistic security relationship through security policy co ordination and co operation It requires interaction among officials and experts from participating states when conditions are supportive of change
