James Merrill

Country Of A Thousand Years Of Peace:

James Merrill, Postmodern Magus Evans Lansing Smith, 2008-09 One of the unique voices in our century James Merrill was known for his mastery of prosody his ability to write books that were not just collected poems but unified works in which each individual poem contributed to the whole and his astonishing evolution from the formalist lyric tradition that influenced his early work to the spiritual epics of his later career Merrill's accomplishments were recognized with a Pulitzer Prize in 1977 for Divine Comedies and a National Book Critics Circle Award in 1983 for The Changing Light at Sandover In this meticulously researched carefully argued work Evans Lansing Smith argues that the nekylia the circular Homeric narrative describing the descent into the underworld and reemergence in the same or similar place confers shape and significance upon the entirety of James Merrill's poetry Smith illustrates how pervasive this myth is in Merrill's work not just in The Changing Light at Sandover where it naturally serves as the central premise of the entire trilogy but in all of the poet's books before and after that central text By focusing on the details of versification and prosody Smith demonstrates the ingenious fusion of form and content that distinguishes Merrill as a poet Moving beyond purely literary interpretations of the poetry Smith illuminates the numerous allusions to music art theology philosophy religion and mythology found throughout Merrill's work

Recovery and Transgression Kornelia Freitag, 2015-09-04 There is no poetry without memory Recovery and Transgression Memory in American Poetry is devoted to the ways in which poetic texts shape and are shaped by personal collective and cultural memory It looks at the manifold and often transgressive techniques through which the past is recovered and repurposed in poetry T S Eliot's The Waste Land Susan Howe's THIS THAT Lyn Hejinian's Writing Is an Aid to Memory John Tranter's The Anaglyph Amiri Baraka's Somebody Blew Up America and Amy Clampitt's Nothing Stays Put are only some of the texts discussed in this volume by a group of international poetry experts They specifically focus on the effects of the cultural interaction mixture translation and hybridization of memory of in and mediated by poetry Poetic memory as becomes strikingly clear may be founded on the past but has everything to do with the cultural present of poets and readers and with their hopes and fears for the future
