There are no records whatsoever in the National Archives of Zimbabwe about the Community Development Section. Women, even though it was active in all the provinces. In the absence of other documentary sources and all other provincial officers long having emigrated or died, this account of her work fills a significant gap in the pre-independence history of Zimbabwe. The crucial focus of the Women's Section on improving the lives and skills of women in the rural areas became progressively more difficult when the civil war intensified from the early 1970s as rural people and the development workers themselves were moved into Protected Villages and as the Ministry became increasingly militarized.
