Victorian voices introduce the key literary contexts of poetry's production and poetic innovations of the period such as the dramatic monologue are highlighted. At the heart of the book is a focus on the importance of attentive close reading with original readings offered of well known texts alongside those that have recently received renewed attention within scholarship. The book also offers an overview of critical approaches to several key texts and discussion of how Victorian poetry has remained influential in the twentieth and twenty first centuries. Kojo Laing, Robert Browning and Affiliative Literature Joseph Hankinson, 2022-12-13 This book compares the Victorian British poet Robert Browning and the twentieth century Ghanaian poet and novelist Kojo Laing, two writers whose texts frequently foreground multi-scalar transregional cartographies, points of connection and translation and imaginative kinships between different linguistic and cultural communities. Starting from the numerous and surprising points of connection and resemblance between both authors' texts, this book puts pressure on critical practices that would keep writers like Laing and Browning separate, positing instead the importance of paying attention to the transnational, cross-cultural and cross-temporal imaginative relationships texts themselves generate. By comparing two writers whose texts represent different points of view on a number of shared and congruent contexts, this book seeks an original way of understanding the relationship between texts and post-colonial contexts. Texts and other texts: Browning's and Laing's shared tendency to foreground trans- and post-national cartographies of relation and difference and their similarly translational aesthetics both demand a probing of the disciplinary separation between English Literature and Comparative Literature as well as literature and comparison and a fresh awareness of the ways in which literature itself makes comparisons and affiliations. It also involves a version of world literature intent on accentuating the relational world's linguistic, imaginative, ethical that texts themselves generate, a criticism sensitive to the ways in which writers from different times and places can still be seen to overlap.

The Shelleys and the Brownings Rieko Suzuki, 2022-01-13 This book is about the intertextual relationships between the works of the Shelleys and the Brownings. While a lot of research has been done on the relationship between Percy Bysshe Shelley and Robert Browning, virtually nothing has been said about the links between Mary Shelley and Robert Browning and very little on the connections between the Shelleys and Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Rieko Suzuki seeks to address this blind spot by focusing on three areas in particular: firstly, the way that Browning's later poems reflect back on and re-engage with Shelley's work; secondly, Mary Shelley's influence on Browning's early poems; and thirdly, Shelley's presence in and influence on Elizabeth Barrett Browning's writing. In mapping out the various ways in which texts relate to other texts, the book also identifies a number of important thematic threads that run throughout the work of all four writers. These include theories of history and historical consciousness, providing a further dimension to the question of influence. They also include ideas about exile, gender, liberal politics and cultural heritage, central to almost all the texts discussed here as the Shelleys and the Brownings in different ways and in varying contexts tried to negotiate the possibility of a more tolerant and resilient social political and cultural environment

Shelley and the Apprehension of Life Ross Wilson, 2013-08-15 Percy Bysshe Shelley in the essay On Life 1819 stated We live on and in living we lose the apprehension of life Ross Wilson uses this statement as a starting point to explore Shelley's fundamental beliefs about life and the significance of poetry Drawing on a wide range of Shelley's own writing and on philosophical thinking from Plato to the present this book offers a timely intervention in the debate about what Romantic poets understood by life For Shelley it demonstrates poetry is emphatically living melody which stands in resolute contrast to a world in which life does not live Wilson argues that Shelley's concern with the opposition between living and the apprehension of life is fundamental to his work and lies at the heart of Romantic era thought Julia Wedgwood, The Unexpected Victorian Sue Brown, 2022-03-08 Though Julia Wedgwood is still remembered as a commentator on the work of her uncle Charles Darwin and for her brief but intense friendship with Browning her contemporary standing as a writer the thoughtful woman par excellence has been obscured as has her role in the pioneering days of women's higher education and the first campaigns for female suffrage Based on her extensive correspondence and unusually wide ranging work this biography unites the private person and the public writer It also looks at her many relationships with leading Victorian cultural figures including not only Darwin and Browning but George Eliot Mrs Gaskell Harriet Martineau Frances Power Cobbe F D Maurice Richard Hutton Arthur Munby and the young E M Forster It considers the challenges facing a single deaf Victorian woman in establishing her own independent but unconventional life List of Foreign Office Records to 1878 Preserved in the Public Record Office Great Britain.
