The Medicine Line Beth LaDow,2013-10-18 Along the border between Montana and Saskatchewan lies one hundred miles of hard and desolate terrain a remote place where Native and new American nations came together in a contest for land wealth and survival Following explorers Lewis and Clark and Alexander Mackenzie both Americans and Canadians launched the process of empire along the 49th parallel disrupting the lives of Native peoples who began to traverse this imaginary line in search of refuge In this evocative and beautifully rendered portrait Beth LaDow recreates the unstable world along this harsh frontier capturing the complex history of a borderland known as the medicine line to the Indians who lived there When Sitting Bull crossed the boundary for the last time in 1881 weary of pursuit by the U S cavalry and the constant threat of starvation the region opened up to railroad men and settlers determined to make a living But the unforgiving landscape would resist repeated attempts to subdue it from the schemes of powerful railroad magnate James J Hill to the exploits of Canadian Mountie James Walsh to the misguided dreams of ranchers and homesteaders whose difficult existence is best captured in Wallace Stegner s plaintive accounts of a boyhood spent in this stark place Drawing on little known diaries letters and memories as well as interviews with the descendants of settlers and native peoples The Medicine Line reveals how national interests were transformed by the powerful alchemy of mingling peoples and the place they shared With a historian s insight and a storyteller s gift LaDow questions some of our deepest assumptions about a nationalist frontier past and finds in this least known place a new historical and emotional heart land of the North American West A colorful history of the most desolate terrain in America one hundred miles between Canada Montana where three nations fought over land wealth ultimately survival A Thousand Blunders Frank

Leonard,2011-11-01 During the first two decades of this century the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway played an important part in the development of the north central corridor of British Columbia The GTP which ran from Winnipeg via the Yellowhead Pass and Edmonton to Prince Rupert on the northwest coast was built to supplant the Canadian Pacific line to Vancouver The B C line was the most expensive and least remunerative of its sections and contributed ultimately to the company s collapse in 1919 In A Thousand Blunders Frank Leonard looks at why the Road of a Thousand Wonders failed to live up to the expectations forecast by company president Charles M Hays and other senior managers Not only was the railway built through a sparsely settled region which generated little immediate traffic but its economic difficulties were also compounded by the numerous mistakes made by managers at all levels for example their failure to respond adequately to labour shortages caused serious delays and prevented the company from proving Prince Rupert as an effective alternative harbour before World War I broke out For this book Frank Leonard had access to a wealth of original documents among them the GTP legal department files providing him with insights into the decisions that formed the basis for policies in townsites and on Indian reserves A Thousand Blunders is a provocative account of one of the greatest failures in Canadian entrepreneurial history

Richly detailed and thoroughly documented it makes an important contribution to the fields of railway and business history as well as to the study of the history of northern British Columbia U.S. Geological Survey Professional Paper, 1976

Count d'Esterhazy and the Esterhaz-Kaposvar Hungarian Colony in Western Canada Joseph G. Nagy, 2024-09-03
Throughout the late 1800s waves of immigrants came over from Europe to North America their arrival serving a dual purpose On the one hand the immigrants were seeking a better life for themselves and their families On the other hand the Canadian federal provincial and territorial governments were seeking to populate their territory in a bid to maintain sovereignty over the land and to develop it for agriculture Among these immigrants were the Hungarian and Western Slavic settlers who founded the Esterhaz Colony which later became known as the Kaposvar and Kolin districts in southeastern Saskatchewan A key figure in the founding of this colony was the enigmatic Count Paul O d Esterhazy a k a Janos Baptiste Packh As an immigration agent for the Canadian and American governments he worked tirelessly not only to promote immigration to the Kaposvar and Kolin districts but also to improve the lives of the immigrants who settled there Although d Esterhazy was not without his detractors this book takes pains to emphasize the sincerity of his vision of a Little Hungary on the Canadian Prairies and the many challenges that he and other proponents of the colony faced as they sought to see that vision fulfilled Meticulously researched and documented this book offers a treasure trove of insight into not only the Esterhaz colony and surrounding area but also the myriad and often conflicting forces involved in the founding of Canada as a nation

Policing the Great Plains Andrew R. Graybill, 2007-11-01 In the late nineteenth century the Texas Rangers and Canada's North West Mounted Police were formed to bring the resource rich hinterlands at either end of the Great Plains under governmental control Native and rural peoples often found themselves squarely in the path of this westward expansion and the law enforcement agents that led the way Though separated by nearly two thousand miles the Rangers and Mounties performed nearly identical functions including subjugating Indigenous groups dispossessing peoples of mixed ancestry defending the property of big cattlemen and policing industrial disputes Yet the means by which the two forces achieved these ends sharply diverged while the Rangers often relied on violence the Mounties usually exercised restraint a fact that highlights some of the fundamental differences between the U S and Canadian Wests Policing the Great Plains presents the first comparative history of the two most famous constabularies in the world Library List National Agricultural Library (U.S.), 1948 Business & Industry Gregory P. Marchildon, 2012 This fourth volume of the History of the Prairie West Series contains fifteen articles examining the rich history of business and early industry in Canada's Prairie Provinces prior to the Great Depression Without denying the central importance of agriculture in the development and growth of the early Prairie West the essays in Business and Industry explore the lesser known history of some of the earliest businesses in the region As we enter the second decade of the twenty first century a time when the three Prairie Provinces comprise the fastest growing and perhaps the most dynamic economic regions in Canada it may be worthwhile to cast our gaze back to an earlier and simpler era In these essays we can glimpse the origins of the entrepreneurial spirit and business ethos that have come to define the business culture of the Prairie West Naming Edmonton Merrily K.
