Contemporary History And Theory The Linguistic Turn And Beyond:

Organizations in Time Marcelo Bucheli, R. Daniel Wadhvani, 2014 This book brings together leading organization scholars and business historians to examine the opportunities and challenges of incorporating historical research into the study of firms and markets

From History to Theory Kerwin Lee Klein, 2011-05-19 From History to Theory describes major changes in the conceptual language of the humanities particularly in the discourse of history In seven beautifully written closely related essays Kerwin Lee Klein traces the development of academic vocabularies through the dynamically shifting cultural political and linguistic landscapes of the twentieth century He considers the rise and fall of philosophy of history and discusses past attempts to imbue historical discourse with scientific precision He explores the development of the meta narrative and the post Marxist view of history and shows how the present resurgence of old words such as memory in new contexts is providing a way to address marginalized peoples In analyzing linguistic changes in the North American academy From History to Theory innovatively ties semantic shifts in academic discourse to key trends in American society culture and politics

Beyond the Great Story Robert F. Berkhofer, 1995 What legitimate form can history take when faced by the severe challenges issued in recent years by literary rhetorical multiculturalist and feminist theories That is the question considered in this pathbreaking book Robert Berkhofer addresses the essential practical concern of contemporary historians

The Limits of Literary Historicism Allen Dunn, Thomas Haddox, 2012-02-28 The Limits of Literary Historicism is a collection of essays arguing that historicism which has come to dominate the professional study of literature in recent decades has become ossified By drawing attention to the limits of historicism its blind spots overreach and reluctance to acknowledge its commitments this provocative new book seeks a clearer understanding of what historicism can and cannot teach us about literary narrative Editors Allen Dunn and Thomas F Haddox have gathered contributions from leading scholars that challenge the dominance of contemporary historicism These pieces critique historicism as it is generally practiced propose alternative historicist models that transcend mere formula and suggest alternatives to historicism altogether The volume begins with the editors extended introduction The Enigma of Critical Distance or Why Historicists Need Convictions and then is divided into three sections The Limits of Historicism Engagements with History and Alternatives to History Defying convention The Limits of Literary Historicism shakes up established modes to move beyond the claustrophobic analyses of contemporary historicism and to ask larger questions that envision more fulfilling and more responsible possibilities in the practice of literary scholarship

Beyond Biblical Theology Timo Eskola, 2013-10-02 Reading Heikki Rissanen's hermeneutics in context Timo Eskola explores the development of Western New Testament interpretation Reclaiming a Wredean approach to the Scriptures Rissanen focuses on tradition and interpretation He builds on Weberian sociology adopted through Peter Berger's theories and substitutes sacralized culturalism for biblical theology After examining fourteenth century Quran criticism and its impact on Reimarus Eskola discusses the genesis of the revised history of religion theory that R is then developed when investigating the Quran's relationship to the Bible Sociology then becomes a link between standard historicism and poststructuralism as R is then reinterprets Berger's sociology of knowledge R is then sacralized culturalism finally becomes the theory from which his magnum opus The Rise of Christian Beliefs has been written

Beyond the Fascist Century Constantin Iordachi, Aristotle Kallis, 2020-11-11 This book evaluates the current and future state of fascism studies reflecting on the first hundred years of fascism and looking ahead to a new era in which fascism studies increasingly faces fresh questions concerning its relevance and the potential reappearance of fascism This wide ranging work celebrates Roger Griffin's contributions to fascism studies in conceptual and definitional terms but also in advancing our understanding of fascism which have informed related research in a number of fields and directions since the 1990s Bringing together three generations of fascism scholars the book offers a combination of broad conceptual essays and contributions focusing on particular themes and facets of fascism The book features chapters which although diverse in their approaches explore Griffin's work while also engaging critically with other schools of thought As such it identifies new avenues of research in fascism studies placing Griffin's work within the context of new and emerging voices in the field

A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers, Q. Edward Wang, Supriya Mukherjee, 2016-09-01 The first book on historiography to adopt a global and comparative perspective on the topic A Global History of Modern Historiography looks not just at developments in the West but also at the other great historiographical traditions in Asia the Middle East and elsewhere around the world over the course of the past two and a half centuries This second edition contains fully updated sections on Latin American and African historiography discussion of the development of global history environmental history and feminist and gender history in recent years and new coverage of Russian historical practices Beginning in the mid eighteenth century the authors analyse historical currents in a changing political social and cultural context examining both the adaptation and modification of the Western influence on historiography and how societies outside Europe and America found their own ways in the face of modernization and globalization Supported by online resources including a selection of excerpts from key historiographical texts this book offers an up to date account of the status of historical writing in the global era and is essential reading for all students of modern historiography

McMahon, Samuel Moyn, 2014-03 This book is a collection of essays by leading practitioners of modern European intellectual history reflecting on the theoretical and methodological underpinnings of the field The essays each attempt to assess their respective disciplines giving an account of their development and theoretical evolution while also reflecting on current problems challenges and possibilities

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2002

Max Horkheimer and the Foundations of the Frankfurt School John Abromeit, 2011-10-10 This book is the first comprehensive intellectual biography of Max Horkheimer during the early and middle phases of his life 1895 1941 Drawing on unexamined new sources John Abromeit describes the critical details of Horkheimer's intellectual development This study recovers and reconstructs

the model of early Critical Theory that guided the work of the Institute for Social Research in the 1930s Horkheimer is remembered primarily as the co author of Dialectic of Enlightenment which he wrote with Theodor W Adorno in the early 1940s But few people realize that Horkheimer and Adorno did not begin working together seriously until the late 1930s or that the model of Critical Theory developed by Horkheimer and Erich Fromm in the late 1920s and early 1930s differs in crucial ways from Dialectic of Enlightenment Abromeit highlights the ways in which Horkheimer s early Critical Theory remains relevant to contemporary theoretical discussions in a wide variety of fields

Art Encounters Deleuze and Guattari S. O'Sullivan, 2005-12-16 In a series of philosophical discussions and artistic case studies this volume develops a materialist and immanent approach to modern and contemporary art The argument is made for a return to aesthetics an aesthetics of affect and for the theorization of art as an expanded and complex practice Staging a series of encounters between specific Deleuzian concepts the virtual the minor the fold etc and the work of artists that position their work outside of the gallery or outside of representation Simon O Sullivan takes Deleuze s thought into other milieus allowing these possible worlds to work back on philosophy

Deconstructing Sport History Murray G. Phillips, 2012-02-01 This groundbreaking collection challenges the accepted principles and practices of sport history and encourages sport historians to be more adventurous in their representations of the sporting past in the present Encompassing a wide range of critical approaches leading international sport historians reflect on theory practice and the future of sport history They survey the field of sport history since its inception examine the principles that have governed the production of knowledge in sport history and address the central concerns raised by the postmodern challenge to history Sharing a common desire to critique contemporary practices in sport history the contributors raise the level of critical analysis of the production of historical knowledge provide examples of approaches by those who have struggled with or adapted to the postmodern challenge and open up new avenues for future sport historians to follow

Religious Materiality in the Early Modern World Suzanna Ivanic, Mary Laven, Andrew Morrall, 2025-10-01 This collection of essays offers a comparative perspective on religious materiality across the early modern world Setting out from the premise that artefacts can provide material evidence of the nature of early modern religious practices and beliefs the volume tests and challenges conventional narratives of change based on textual sources Religious Materiality in the Early Modern World brings together scholars of Catholic Protestant Jewish Islamic and Buddhist practices from a range of fields including history art history museum curatorship and social anthropology The result is an unprecedented account of the wealth and diversity of devotional objects and environments with a strong emphasis on cultural encounters connections and exchanges

Postsocial History Miguel A. Cabrera, 2004-01-01 In Postsocial History An Introduction historian Miguel A. Cabrera points to the crisis of modernity as a locus for the collapse of social historical models Previously established theories of social change and social relations are proving insufficient calling for the emergence of a new social historical theory By arguing convincingly for the inclusion of language in that model Cabrera awakens a revolutionary new approach to historiography The book will prove indispensable to historians and to social scientists in general who are dissatisfied with the old paradigms and seek new ways of addressing the challenges of social research

Philosophical Reflections on Antiquity Paul Fairfield, 2020-09-02 Philosophical Reflections on Antiquity Historical Change addresses the question of whether there is a logic of historical change and whether the collapse of teleology should deter us from inquiring anew whether any recurring patterns and themes show themselves amid the complexity of historical life Paul Fairfield argues that if any conception of universal history remains possible it is one that rejects teleology and causal laws while identifying thematic tendencies that afford some semblance of unity including the enduring phenomena that are interlocution the struggle for predominance and the endless back and forth that play out between them This book examines the transitional periods of archaic Greece and late antiquity the ostensible birth and death of the ancient west Fairfield argues that an interpretation of the social political and intellectual history of these important turning points brings to light some philosophical understanding of the dynamics of change itself observing that the transition from archaic to classical Greece was no miracle while the end of the Roman era can no longer be conceived as a story of decline and fall Rather Fairfield posits these were not complete breaks but relative beginnings and endings in narratives that are ongoing Scholars of philosophy history and anthropology will find this book particularly useful Knowledge and Religion in Early Modern Europe ,2013-03-22 The interplay between knowledge and religion forms a pivotal component of how early modern individuals and societies understood themselves and their surroundings Knowledge of the self in pursuit of salvation humanistic knowledge within a confessional education as well as inherently subversive knowledge acquired about religion s offer instructive instances of this interplay To these are added essays on medical knowledge in its religious and social contexts the changing role of imagination in scientific thought the philosophical and political problems of representation and attempts to counter Enlightenment criteria of knowledge at the end of the period serving here as multifaceted studies of the dynamics and shifts in sensitivity and stress in the interplay between knowledge and religion within evolving early modern contexts
