Changing the Goalpost of New Testament Textual Criticism Abidan Paul Shah, 2020-10-02 Before the 1960s the goal of New Testament Textual Criticism was singular to retrieve the original text of the New Testament Since then the goalpost has incrementally shifted away from the original text to retrieving any text or many texts of the NT Some scholars have even concluded that the original text is hopelessly lost and cannot be retrieved with any confidence or accuracy Other scholars have gone a step further to claim that the idea of an original text itself is a misconception that needs to be abandoned If this new approach in NTTC is correct then the authority of Scripture is weakened or no longer valid It will be shown in this book that such is not the case Furthermore emphasis will be placed on the need to return to the traditional goalpost of NTTC i.e. to retrieve the original text Without a generally definitive text the door will be left wide open to recreate any desired text of the NT An unsettled original text will result in an unsettled biblical theology due to a lack of any authoritative and standard text Consequently it will lead to an unsettled Christian faith and practice

The Reconstruction of Resurrection Belief Peter Carnley, 2020-01-01 While its companion volume The Resurrection in Retrospect addresses the inadequacies of an approach to the Resurrection of Christ purely as an event of past historical time The Reconstruction of Resurrection Belief articulates an alternative understanding of Resurrection faith as essentially a response of trust based upon a knowledge by acquaintance with the living presence of Christ today In the hope that it may have some traction in an increasingly secular world of contemporary scientific realism Carnley demonstrates an understanding of the nature of Resurrection faith in the language of today with as much logical coherence as possible and explains how the claim that the animating Spirit of the Christian community that Saint Paul spoke of as the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus Rom 8 2 may be justifiably identified in faith today as the living presence of Jesus of Nazareth     Writing/Reading the Bible in Postcolonial Perspective Steed Vernyl Davidson,2017-10-02 Examining the legacies of European imperialism Steed Vernyl Davidson traces how the Bible reflects strong affinities with empire and provides on going justifications for empire and concentrations of power Writing Reading the Bible in Postcolonial Perspective traces the evolution of the Bible from its production in empires of antiquity to its supportive role in the development of modern imperialism The work also engages the ambiguities of the Bible as anti imperial tool Set within an examination of postcolonial studies as a revolutionary and revisionary discourse this work presses for a more vigorous postcolonializing of the Bible in Biblical Studies A description of the contemporary features and manifestation of empire forms the context within which further exploration of postcolonial biblical critical work can take place Following an assessment of previous work in the field the challenges of intersectional work with queer studies terrorism studies technology and ecological studies are laid out as future tasks     Idolatry in the Pentateuch Tracy J. McKenzie,2010-02-04 Idolatry in the Pentateuch addresses both the manner in which the Pentateuch was produced and how theological intentions can be discerned from the texts that constitute it McKenzie attempts to read the final shape of the Pentateuch while not ignoring the diachronic complexities within its pages Using a compositional approach to the Pentateuch he establishes his methodology analyzes several idolatry related texts and traces the theological intentions through an inner textual strategy Moreover McKenzie briefly considers the history of interpretation through the last few centuries and discusses the state of Old Testament studies as he understands it
