Contemporary Poetry Lucile Kelling, 2018-03-22 Excerpt from Contemporary Poetry Second Series For anyone who wishes to keep abreast of modern poetry New Poems is important Portraits and brief biographical notes are included About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Columbia Granger's Guide to Poetry Anthologies William A. Katz, Linda Sternberg Katz, Esther Crain, 1994 Reference guide to poetry anthologies with descriptions and evaluations of each anthology Women Poets, Male Publishers Lise Jaillant, 2025-03-17 We are often told that the women's movement of the 1960s and 1970s led to the rediscovery of forgotten women writers Without feminist presses such as Virago these women would have sunk into obscurity Thanks to Carmen Callil and other trailblazing feminist publishers a canon of women's literature emerged and living writers managed to survive and sometimes thrive in a literary marketplace that had so far been dominated by men Although obstacles remained the story is one of the triumphs over a misogynistic publishing industry a sector that had once sought to erase women writers of the past marginalise living authors and close the doors to any future legacy There are two problems with this oft repeated story First it focuses mainly on fiction rather than poetry founded in 1973 Virago did not start publishing poetry until the early 1980s Second it neglects the major role that conservative male publishers played in re-discovering women poets in post 1960s Britain With the growing influence of the Women's Liberation movement these publishers realised that there was a growing market for poetry by women At the same time the Arts Council of Great Britain started pushing for more diversity nudging its clients to make more room for women and ethnic minorities Drawing on extensive archival work and oral history interviews this open access book pushes the boundaries of a scholarship that has focused mainly on women's poetry in relation to women's presses Archival documents show the influence of the Arts Council and the market in pushing conservative publishers towards more diversity This evolution has had long term consequences on the canon of women's poetry a canon that was largely shaped by conservative publishing houses rather than radical feminist presses Readings in Contemporary Poetry Vincent Katz, 2017-01-01 Culled from Dia Art Foundation's Readings in Contemporary Poetry series this anthology includes ninety four poets who have participated in the reading series from 2010 to 2016 Edited by poet and author Vincent Katz the book stresses the experimental aspects of contemporary poetic practice highlighting commonalities among poets and placing their diverse voices in conversation with one another      Between Anthropology and Literature Rose De Angelis, 2003-08-27 This collection addresses the ways in which the language of social science fuses with that of the literary imagination The essays fit excellently with the current interest in interdisciplinary studies      Conversations with Kentucky Writers Linda Elisabeth LaPinta, 2021-11-21 Kentucky and Kentuckians are full of stories which may be why so many present day writers have Kentucky roots Whether they left and returned like Wendell Berry and Bobbie Ann Mason or adopted Kentucky as home like James Still and Jim Wayne Miller or grew up and left for good like Michael Dorris and Barbara Kingsolver they have one connection Kentucky has influenced their writing and their lives L Elisabeth Beattie explores this influence in twenty intimate interviews Conversations with Kentucky Writers was more than three years in the making as Beattie traveled across the state and beyond to capture oral histories on tape Her exhaustive knowledge of these authors helped her draw out personal revelations about their work their lives and the nature of writing When Still concludes his interview with I believe I've told you more than anybody he could be speaking for any of Beattie's subjects Aspiring writers will learn that Mason submitted twenty stories to the New Yorker before one was accepted and that Still wrote articles for Sunday school magazines There's plenty of advice Dorris tells budding authors to get real jobs keep journals and read everything even cereal boxes and Marsha Norman reminds playwrights that it is not the business of the theater to provide writers with a living Kingsolver advises Read good stuff and write bad stuff until eventually what you're writing begins to approximate what you're reading Beattie's collection includes striking self-portraits of such writers as Sue Grafton Leon Driskell James Baker Hall Fenton Johnson George Ella Lyon Taylor McCafferty Ed McClanahan Sena Naslund Chris Offutt Lee Pennington and Betty Layman Receveur What most distinguishes these moving conversations from other author interviews is their focus on creativity on the teaching of writing and on the authors' strong sense of place As Wade Hall writes in his foreword all twenty writers recognize that their works have been significantly influenced by their Kentucky experience This collection offers insights into Kentucky's rich and flowering literary heritage      The Reservoir Donna Stonecipher, 2002 The poet blends narrative and lyrical forms to explore the line between the artificial and real in our society using the reservoir as a metaphor for this mystery Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series Competition Poetry      Conversations with Kentucky Writers, 1996      Saunter Joshua McKinney, 2002 Joshua McKinney's debut collection of poetry Saunter shows immense devotion to and passion for language in all its aspects He intensely attends to words and delights in the play of accidental connections and complications Such amusement and playfulness with oppositions is evidenced in lines like an opening a cello scales some stairs Risen a thought falls McKinney's awareness of the complex resonance of literary history and current issues of language comes through in his dedication to making the appearance of language not just its sound or its relative meaning an integral aspect of his poems Meanwhile the subject matter is often surprisingly mythic and mysterious championing absolute freedom and wildness His intricate verse is sincere in its observations while turning inward on itself sauntering in designed indirection      Dare Say Tod Marshall,2002 Three long poems illuminate broken and violated things using Bach Kandinsky and Botticelli as raw material for poetic musing Winner of the Contemporary Poetry Series Competition Poetry      Empty Sleeves Sidney Wade,1991 From a world tilted a fraction off its axis these poems speak of angels in Maine and Balinese dinners beneath the Kansas prairie moon Standing at the interval between the real and surreal the earthly and eternal much of Sidney Wade s poetry ponders these intervening spaces where hunger goes unabated and the air stirs with sighs of exquisite longing In this collection language seeks to replicate the world wresting the soul to all its fluent conjugations the discourse of insects on the forest floor the rhetoric of ballroom dancers the crusty inflections of brushstrokes in an Edward Hopper painting      What Animal Oni Buchanan,2003 The world in What Animal is filled with uncontainable data a rush of experiences tumbling one after the other experiences whose logic is only that they have happened or cannot be determined as having happened or not Images often spliced together in rapid succession each with a distinct complex of emotional and associative content operate in rhymes of shape sound capacity for motion texture and number Image patterns sound patterns syntactical shifts and physical spaces recur in different forms and combinations as if could we only comprehend the patterns would add up to something of galactic even infinite dimension      The Gaza of Winter Donald Revell,1988 In Donald Revell s poems the present is often little more than an instant caught between the sadness of memory and the need to face the future s blank expanse Even the best dreams recall happiness that cannot be retrieved while the worst memories bend past love into a crazy line through darkness Anything can turn furious The crazy line through wreckage that wears my face and all the faces seems not to end And on the way even the most damaged things have one surface glazed a sudden distorting mirror that I can t help finding There I look as I did stalled in hours or places it is shame to remember The Eumenides are slow vengeance meted out by anywhere love fails in the collapse and angry dealing of self love The light presses The air presses hard and no story of mine if good enough to hold out When there is escape calm in these poems it is often in thoughts of distant lands and pasts in the works of other writers and artists the bands of light and changing shadows of Cezanne s canvases the suburban desire and deep green lawns of Cheever s fiction It is art stories the urge to tell that brings hope in these lines      They are Sleeping Joanna Klink,2000 In They Are Sleeping Joanna Klink tests the limits of solitude setting her poems in places where our grip on self is loosened and blurred caves coastlines rooms in cities As her poems lead us through these sometimes beautiful sometimes appalling internal landscapes characters like the Hanged Man and the Lady of Situations reappear often locked in misunderstanding but compelling us toward a more fragile and expansive sense of self      Approximate Darling Lee Upton,1996 In her most ambitious collection of poems to date Lee Upton extends and deepens her experiments with perception and language Drawn into the orbit of her poems are multiple figurations a Dante inspired guide and a Leonardo da Vinci cartoon Hamlet s Gertrude and Lewis Carroll s Alice and Emily Dickinson Beatrix Potter Louise Bogan and Sylvia Plath While investigating elements of women's biological, emotional, and spiritual experiences that prove particularly recalcitrant to language, she draws her attention to the relentless experience of pregnancy and childbirth. Upton examines fleeting moments when objects are seen at the periphery of vision and draws upon the language we use in contemplating the psychic aftereffects of contemporary violence, dispossession, and exclusion.
