Political Science Herbert F. Weisberg, 1986 If at one time we thought that the movement to science would yield unification of the discipline it is now apparent that there are many roads to science Still it is important for us to consider yet again what the appropriate goals are for our scientific enterprise What works in theory building induction and deduction prediction and control the search for useful principles to guide us OCo examining these questions we can build a better science Political science has come so far as a discipline that different schools and scholars have different interpretations of science in the study of politics and that diversity is important to maintain Advances made in the study of political institutions and behavior are described in twelve essays from the 1983 annual meeting of the American Political Science Association Addressing they do not employ any single approach to the study of the science of politics Taken as a whole they illustrate the multiplicity of interpretations that are presently given to the common enterprise

two major issues What is the proper stance for theorizing about politics What are the priority projects for current political theory The contributions encompass many of the major themes concerning political theorists today including criticism as a project for current political theory dangers in the latter day disengagement of political theory from politics theorists perplexity within and about history issues of reason and the relationships among science theory and politics The viewpoints presented are diverse yet the contributors to this volume are typical of political theorists generally Almost all share inklings of actual or incipient disasters reaching from politics into theory and vice versa The Oxford Handbook of

Akwalefo Bernadette Djeudo, 2013-10 In this book the reader is introduced to the concepts of politics government political theory and political culture with reference to Cameroon Defined as human activity concerned with controversies over public questions and the resolution of those controversies politics is concerned with the affairs of government and because government action deeply affects us we take a lively interest in what governments do We form associations and organize campaigns to articulate our demands We negotiate with others and try to shape the goals that governments pursue When we disagree with the policies of the government we protest and organize demonstration to persuade our governments to change the existing laws We passionately debate the actions of our representatives In this way we look for the rationale underlying the prevalent chaos and decay and aspire to create a better world To sum up politics arises from the fact that we have different visions of what is just and desirable for us and our society Politics exist because we possess reason and the ability to reflect on government actions and communicate our innermost thoughts and desires with each other Political theory has its roots in these twin aspects of the human being Defined as a network of concepts and generalizations about political life involving ideas assumptions and statements about the nature purpose and key features of government Political theory systematically thinks about the values that inform political life values such as freedom equality justice nationalism secularism development etc It explains the meanings and significance of these and other related concepts by focusing on some major political thinkers theologians kings economists sociologists popes etc of the past and present It also examines the extent to which freedom or equality are actually present in the institutions that we participate in everyday such as schools shops buses or trains or government offices and it looks at whether existing definitions and institutions are adequate or must be modified to become more democratic The objective of political theory is to train citizens to think rationally about political questions and assess correctly the political events of our time In applying political theory some countries are more successful than others due to the variations in political culture A country's degree of success in operating a governmental system that is democratic in character depends to a very large extent upon the nature and content of the political culture of that country For democracy to work the country s political culture must be compatible with and support the very concepts of constitutionalism the rule of law and representative democracy as well as be consistent with and sustain the country s established agreed upon Constitution including the constitutionally prescribed procedures for managing and resolving controversy over public questions making and carrying out authoritative decisions on public policy protecting the rights and liberties of citizens and peacefully transferring governing authority from one group of political leaders to another In all discussions examples are drawn from Cameroon and elsewhere in the world
