Contemporary Perspectives on Natural Law Ana Marta González, 2016-05-13 Resorting to natural law is one way of conveying the philosophical conviction that moral norms are not merely conventional rules Accordingly the notion of natural law has a clear metaphysical dimension since it involves the recognition that human beings do not conceive themselves as sheer products of society and history And yet if natural law is to be considered the fundamental law of practical reason it must show also some intrinsic relationship to history and positive law The essays in this book examine this tension between the metaphysical and the practical and how the philosophical elaboration of natural law presents this notion as a limiting concept between metaphysics and ethics between the mutable and the immutable between is and ought and in connection with the latter even the tension between politics and eschatology as a double horizon of ethics This book contributed to by scholars from Europe and America is a major contribution to the renewed interest in natural law It provides the reader with a comprehensive overview of natural law both from a historical and a systematic point of view It ranges from the mediaeval synthesis of Aquinas through the early modern elaborations of natural law up to current discussions on the very possibility and practical relevance of natural law theory for the contemporary mind      Islam & Art in the Modern World: A

Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwaa, Sutherland-Addy, Esi, 2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the pluri lingual overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa s
