Contemporary Realism:

Modern Realism in English-Canadian Fiction Colin Hill, 2012-01-01 Much of the scholarship on twentieth century Canadian literature has argued that English Canadian fiction was plagued by backwardness and an inability to engage fully with the movement of modernism that was so prevalent in British and American fiction and poetry Modern Realism in English Canadian Fiction re evaluates Canadian literary culture to posit that it has been misunderstood because it is a distinct genre a regional form of the larger international modernist movement Examining literary magazines manifestos archival documents and major writers such as Frederick Philip Grove Morley Callaghan and Raymond Knister Colin Hill identifies a modern realism that crosses regions as well as urban and rural divides A bold reading of the modern realist aesthetic and an articulate challenge to several enduring and limiting myths about Canadian writing Modern Realism in English Canadian Fiction will stimulate important debate in literary circles everywhere The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism Mary K. Holland, 2020-06-11 Literature has never looked weirder full of images colors gadgets and footnotes and violating established norms of character plot and narrative structure Yet over the last 30 years critics have coined more than 20 new realisms in their attempts to describe it What makes this decidedly unorthodox literature realistic And if it is then what does realism mean anymore Examining literature by dozens of writers and over a century of theory and criticism about realism The Moral Worlds of Contemporary Realism sorts through the current critical confusion to illustrate how our ideas about what is real and how best to depict it have changed dramatically especially in recent years Along the way Mary K Holland guides the reader on a lively tour through the landscape of contemporary literary studies taking in metafiction ideology posthumanism postmodernism and poststructuralism with forays into quantum mechanics new materialism and Buddhism as well to give us entirely new ways of viewing how humans use language to make sense of and to make the world British Realist Theatre Stephen Lacey, 1995 An accessible introduction to the New Wave providing the historical and cultural background necessary for a full understanding of this dynamic period in theatre Includes material on Osborne Pinter Edward Bond and Shelagh Delaney The Meaning of Contemporary Realism György Lukács, 1963 With a new introduction by Dr Gary Day De Montfort University Leicester UK An argument for literary realism as opposed to modernism contrasting Mann and Kafka The book also argues for socialist as opposed to critical realism in literature This text refers to an unavailable edition of this title Aesthetics and Politics Ernst Bloch, 1980 No other country and no other period has produced a tradition of major aesthetic debate to compare with that which unfolded in German culture from the 1930s to the 1950s In Aesthetics and Politics the key texts of the great Marxist controversies over literature and art during these years are assembled in a single volume They do not form a disparate collection but a continuous interlinked debate between thinkers who have become giants of twentieth century intellectual history The Continuum Encyclopedia of Children's Literature Bernice E. Cosmopolitan Power in International Relations Giulio M. Gallarotti,2010-09-27 How can nations optimize their power in the modern world system Realist theory has underscored the importance of hard power as the ultimate path to national strength In this vision nations require the muscle and strategies to compel compliance and achieve their full power potential But in fact changes in world politics have increasingly encouraged national leaders to complement traditional power resources with more enlightened strategies oriented around the use of soft power resources The resources to compel compliance have to be increasingly integrated with the resources to cultivate compliance Only through this integration of hard and soft power can nations truly achieve their greatest strength in modern world politics and this realization carries important implications for competing paradigms of international relations The idea of power optimization can only be delivered through the integration of the three leading paradigms of international relations Realism Neoliberalism and Constructivism
