Faces of Modernism Amina ElHalawani,2024-04-25 The book explores how theatre with its performative capacity has the power to engage with and affect the politics of its day It sets the stage for the reader to discover the revolutionary traditions of Egyptian and Irish theatre very distinct in their histories and cultures and understand their enduring relevance in today's world The volume takes Ireland as a case study of the interplay between cultural nationalism and politically engaged theatre and compares it to the role of the theatre in Egypt during its Golden era in the 1960s Through a selection of Egyptian plays by Tawfiq al Hakim Mikhail Roman Yusuf Idris and Salah Abdul Saboor alongside Irish plays by Brian Friel Frank

McGuinness Christina Reid and Samuel Beckett it maps the political aesthetics of unsteady times and seemingly disparate places to reflect on the dynamics of revolt as a staged act in and of itself Further the book examines how playwrights from both nations have engaged with theatre as a medium focusing on how their contemplations hesitations frustrations and protest have been translated onto the stage in their various plays and comprehends the transformative role the theatre has always played in politics in shaping history across time and space Bridging together discussions on transnational modernisms with nuanced cultural histories of protest this critical work will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literary studies identity politics cultural studies theatre and performance studies and political studies      Environmental Politics in

Egypt Jeannie Sowers, 2013-06-26 Drawing on extensive fieldwork conducted in Egypt from the late 1990s to 2011 this book shows how experts and activists used distinctive approaches to influence state and firm decision making in three important environmental policy domains These include industrial pollution from large scale industry the conservation of threatened habitat and water management of the irrigation system These cases show how environmental networks sought to construct legal discursive and infrastructural forms of authority within the context of a fragmented state apparatus and a highly centralized political regime Managerial networks composed of environmental scientists technocrats and consultants sought to create new legal regimes for environmental protection and to frame environmental concerns so that they would appeal to central decision makers Activist networks in contrast emerged where environmental pollution or exclusion from natural resources threatened local livelihoods and public health These networks publicized their concerns and mobilized broader participation through the creative use of public space media coverage and strategic use of existing state sanctioned organizations With the increased popular mobilization of the 2000s and the mass protests of the 2011 revolution environmental politics has become highly topical Expert and activist networks alike have sought to broaden their appeal and diversify their approaches The result may well be a more contested participatory and dynamic phase in Egyptian environmentalism
