Deconstruction and Translation Kathleen Davis,2014-07-22 Deconstruction and Translation explains ways in which many practical and theoretical problems of translation can be rethought in the light of insights from the French philosopher Jacques Derrida If there is no one origin no transcendent meaning and thus no stable source text we can no longer talk of translation as meaning transfer or as passive reproduction Kathleen Davis instead refers to the translator's freedom and individual responsibility Her survey of this complex field begins from an analysis of the proper name as a model for the problem of signification and explains revised concepts of limits singularity generality definitions of text writing iterability meaning and intention The implications for translation theory are then elaborated complicating the desire for translatability and incorporating sharp critique of linguistic and communicative approaches to translation The practical import of this approach is shown in analyses of the ways Derrida has been translated into English In all the text offers orientation and guidance through some of the most conceptually demanding and rewarding fields of contemporary translation theory

Contextualizing Translation Theories Aspects of Arabic English Interlingual Communication provides critical readings of available strategies of translating ranging from the familiar concept of equivalence to strategies of modulation domestication foreignization and mores of translation As such this volume demonstrates to the reader the pros and cons of each of these strategies within a theoretical context that is augmented by translational tasks and examples most derived from actual textual data      Translation: Theory and Practice in Dialogue Antoinette Fawcett,2010-05-27 This exciting new book explores the present relevance of translation theory to practice A range of perspectives provides both current theoretical insights into the relevance of theory to translation and also offers first hand experiences of applying appropriate strategies and methods to the practice and description of translation The individual chapters in the book explore theoretical pronouncements and practical observations grouped in topics that include theory and creativity translation and its relation with linguistics gender issues and more The book features four parts it firstly deals with how theories from both within translation studies and from other disciplines can contribute to our understanding of the practice of translation secondly how theory can be reconceptualized from examining translation in practice thirdly reconceptualizing practice from theory and finally Eastern European and Asian perspectives of how translation theory and practice inform one another The chapters all show examples from theoretical and practical as well as pedagogical issues ensuring appeal for a wide readership This book will appeal to advanced level students researchers and academics in translation studies      Variational Translation Theory Zhonglian Huang,Yongzhong Zhang,2020-11-02 This book adopting the perspective of cross cultural communication theoretically justifies and addresses human variational translation practice for the first time in the area of translation studies focusing on the adaptation techniques and variational translation methods as well as general features and laws of the variational translation process It classifies and summarizes seven main adaptation techniques and eleven translation methods applicable to all variational translation activities These techniques and methods quite different from those used in complete translation or full translation are systematically studied together with examples allowing readers to not only understand their interrelations and differences within the context of variational translation methods but also to master them in order to improve their translation efficacy and efficiency Readers will gain a better understanding of how variational translation is produced and of its important role in advancing cross cultural communication and in reconstructing human knowledge and culture This book is intended for translation scholars translation practitioners students and others whose work involves the theory and practice of translation and who want to enhance their translation proficiency in cross cultural communication for the Information Age      卞,2003 Perspectives Studies in Translatology 2003 4      Thinking Translation: Perspectives

from Within and Without Rebecca Hyde Parker, Karla Guadarrama, 2008 This book is a collection of selected articles based on talks given by established academics and translators as well as younger researchers at the third postgraduate symposium organized by the School of Literature and Creative Writing at the University of East Anglia UK The objective of the third postgraduate translation symposium at the University of East Anglia was to explore the current relevance of theory to the practice of translation This volume builds on the key ideas and discussion that arose from the symposium bringing together amongst others the current debates concerning the complex relationship between theory and practice in the field of translation studies taking into consideration a wide range of perspectives both modern and traditional A broad cross section of research exploring the present relevance of translation theory to practice is presented by many of the individual contributors to this volume These papers provide both current theoretical insights into the relevance of theory to translation and also in some examples offer first hand experiences of applying appropriate strategies and methods to the practice and description of translation

Is the Glass Half Empty or Half Full? Reflections on Translation Theory and Practice in Brazil Alice Leal, 2014-06-03 This book offers an unprecedented look into the field of translation studies TS in Brazil placing emphasis both on the conflict theory vs practice and on the reception of poststructuralist thought The implied debate between the voices heard in the book represents a wide ranging spectrum of viewpoints not only in TS in Brazil but also in the humanities in general Addressing issues such as the institutionalisation of translation the aim of translation theory and translator training the impact of poststructuralist thought on TS and the role of multilingualism in the area this work offers an overview of the field of TS today while proposing new strategies for translators and translation scholars that go beyond the conflicts between theory and practice and between structuralism and poststructuralism

Twentieth-century Chinese Translation Theory Tak-hung Leo Chan, 2004-01-01 Past attempts at writing a history of Chinese translation theory have been bedeviled by a chronological approach which often forces the writer to provide no more than a list of important theories and theorists over the centuries Or they have stretched out to almost every aspect related to translation in China so that the historical political backdrop that had an influence on translation theorizing turns out to be more important than the theories themselves In the present book the author hopes to devote exclusive attention to the ideas themselves The approach adopted centers around eight key issues that engaged the attention of theorists through the course of the twentieth century in the hope that a historical account will be presented that is not time bound On the basis of 38 articles translated into English by teachers and scholars of translation the author has written four essays discussing the Chinese characteristics of this body of theory Separately they focus on the impressionistic the modern the postcolonial and the poststructuralist approaches deployed by leading Chinese theorists from 1901 to 1998 It is hoped that publication of this book will make possible cross cultural dialogue with translation academics in the West although the general reader will find much firsthand information on Chinese thinking about translation

Exploring Translation Theories , Translation Theory and the Old Testament in

Matthew Woojin Chung, 2017-09-04 In Translation Theory and the Old Testament in Matthew Woojin Chung employs a rigorous method of Skopos theory to examine Matthew's citation technique in his infancy narrative and locates the specific purpose of his use of Scripture. He argues that the complex nature of the formulaic quotations and allusion in Matthew 1-2 can be understood in light of new methodological insights. The way Matthew cites the Old Testament for his communicative purpose is congruent to the approach of a Skopos translator who is motivated by a specific purpose of translation. The theory of interpretation of his use of Scripture therefore can be informed by the theory and method of translation.

Constructing a Sociology of Translation Michaela Wolf, Alexandra Fukari, 2007 The view of translation as a socially regulated activity has opened up a broad field of research in the last few years. This volume deals with central questions of the new domain and aims to contribute to the conceptualisation of a general sociology of translation. Interdisciplinary in approach, it discusses the role of major representatives of sociology like Pierre Bourdieu, Bruno Latour, Bernard Lahire, Anthony Giddens or Niklas Luhmann in establishing a theoretical framework for a sociology of translation. Drawing on methodologies from sociology and integrating them into translation studies, the book questions some of the established categories in this discipline and calls for a redefinition of long assumed principles. The contributions show the social involvement of translation in various fields and focus especially on the translator's position in an emerging sociology of translation. Bourdieu's influence in conceptualising this new sub-discipline, methodological questions and a sociologically oriented meta-discussion of translation studies.

Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2010 Moreover, many items in the reference lists are hyperlinked to the TSB where the user can find an abstract of a publication. All articles between 500 and 6000 words are written by specialists in the different subfields and are peer reviewed. Last but not least, the usability, accessibility and flexibility of the HTS depend on the commitment of people who agree that Translation Studies does matter.
