Yours for Humanity JoAnn Pavletich, 2022-12-15 Pauline Elizabeth Hopkins 1859-1930 African American novelist editor journalist playwright historian and public intellectual used fiction to explore and intervene in the social racial and political challenges of her era Her particular form of cultural activism was groundbreaking for its time and continues to influence and inspire authors and scholars today This collection of essays constitutes a new phase in the full historical and literary recovery of her work JoAnn Pavletich argues that considered from the broadest of perspectives Hopkins's life work occupies itself with the critique and creation of epistemologies that control racialized knowledge and experience Whether in representations of a critical contemporary problem such as lynching imperialism or pan-African unity or in representations of African American women's voices Hopkins's texts create new knowledge and new frames for understanding it The essays in this collection engage this knowledge articulating nuanced understandings of Hopkins's era and her innovative writing practices opening new doors for the next generation of Hopkins scholarship With contributions from well established Hopkins scholars such as John Gruesser editor of The Unruly Voice and Hanna Wallinger author of Pauline E Hopkins A Literary Biography the collection also includes important new scholars on Hopkins such as Elizabeth Cali Edlie Wong and others

The Mulatta and the Politics of Race Teresa C. Zackodnik, 2009-09-18 From abolition through the years just before the civil rights struggle began African American women recognized that a mixed race woman made for a powerful and at times very useful figure in the battle for racial justice The Mulatta and the Politics of Race traces many key instances in which black women have wielded the image of a racially mixed woman to assault the color line In the oratory and fiction of black women from the late 1840s through the 1950s Teresa C Zackodnik finds the mulatta to be a metaphor of increasing potency Before the Civil War white female abolitionists created the image of the tragic mulatta caught between races rejected by all African American women put the mulatta to diverse political use Black women used the mulatta figure to invoke and manage American and British abolitionist empathy and to contest racial stereotypes of womanhood in the postbellum United States The mulatta aided writers in critiquing the New Negro Renaissance and gave writers leverage to subvert the aims of mid twentieth century mainstream American culture The Mulatta and the Politics of Race focuses on the antislavery lectures and appearances of Ellen Craft and Sarah Parker Remond the domestic fiction of Pauline Hopkins and Frances Harper the Harlem Renaissance novels of Jessie Fauset and Nella Larsen and the little known 1950s texts of Dorothy Lee Dickens and Reba Lee Throughout the author discovers the especially valuable and as yet unexplored contributions of these black women and their uses of the mulatta in prose and speech Teresa C Zackodnik is a professor of English at the University of Alberta in Canada

Reconstructing Womanhood : The Emergence of the Afro-American Woman Novelist Hazel V. Carby Professor of English and Afro-American Studies Yale University, 1987-12-31 Covering the period between the 1850s and the turn of the century this study of 19th century narratives depicts an era of intense cultural and political activity when Afro American women first began to emerge as novelists

Transcending the New Woman Charlotte J. Rich, 2009 The dawn of the twentieth century saw the birth of the New Woman a cultural and literary ideal that replaced Victorian expectations of domesticity with visions of social political and economic autonomy Although such writers as Edith Wharton and Kate Chopin treated these ideals in well known literature of that era marginalized women also explored changing gender roles in works that deserve more attention today This book is the first study to focus solely on multiethnic women writers responses to the ideal of the New Woman in America opening up a world of literary texts that provide new insight into the phenomenon Charlotte Rich reveals how these authors uniquely articulated the contradictions of the American New Woman and how social class race or ethnicity impacted women's experiences of both public and private life in the Progressive era Rich focuses on the work of writers representing five distinct ethnicities Native Americans S Alice Callahan and Mourning Dove African American Pauline Hopkins Chinese American Sui Sin Far Mexican American Mar a Cristina Mena and Jewish American Anzia Yeziarska She shows that some of their works contain both affirmative and critical portraits of white New Women in other cases while these authors align their multiethnic heroines with the new ideals those ideals are sometimes subordinated to more urgent dialogues about inequality and racial violence Here are views of women not usually encountered in fiction of this era Callahan's and Mourning Dove's novels allude to women's rights but ultimately privilege critiques of violence against Native Americans Hopkins's novels trace an increasingly pessimistic trajectory drawing cynical conclusions about black women's ability to thrive in a prejudiced society Mena's magazine portraits of Mexican life present complex critiques of this independent ideal of womanhood Yeziarska's stories question the philanthropy of socially privileged Progressive female reformers with whom immigrant women interact These writers' works sometimes affirm emerging ideals but in other cases illuminate the iconic New Woman's blindness to her own racial and economic privilege Through her insightful analysis Rich presents alternative versions of female autonomy with characters living outside the mainstream or moving between cultures Transcending the New Woman offers multiple ways of transcending an ideal that was problematic in its exclusivity as well as an entrance to forgotten works It shows how the concept of the New Woman can be seen in newly complex ways when viewed through the writings of authors whose lives often embody the New Woman's emancipatory goals and whose fictions both affirm and complicate her aspirations

Pauline Hopkins and Advocacy Journalism Rhone Fraser, 2019-02-22 In the 1905 letter to William Monroe Trotter Pauline Hopkins wrote that she lost the editorship of the Colored American Magazine because she refused partisan lines and pursued an independent course This book focuses on how her editorship promoted an advocacy journalism that sought to abolish Jim Crow The work of the magazine under her editorship pursued an independent course because it included in depth biographical sketches of those whose lives she before many deemed important to know such as Toussaint L. Overture and Harriet Tubman Hopkins pursued an independent course also as a novelist particularly in her first novel Contending Forces a work unique for a narrator that tried to in Hopkins's words raise the stigma of degradation from my race Her following three novels were serialized in the Colored American Magazine Her 1901 novel Hagar's Daughter is about the attempt of two generations to assimilate within the Washingtonian elite her 1902 novel Winona exposes the effect of Washington's 1850 Fugitive Slave Law on enslaved children and her 1903 novel Of One Blood explores what it means for an individual socialized in the West to in Hopkins's words curse the bond of the white race In Dr Rhone Fraser's close reading of her fiction he looks at how her protagonists in each novel pursue an independent course and in his final chapter he compares her essential work to Black journalists of the twenty first century who like her refused partisan lines and pursued an independent course Pauline Hopkins's work was not just the work of a typical journalist but the work of an advocate

A product of literary recovery at its very best These carefully researched essays help us to see how gender marginalized black intellectuals who happened to be women Claudia Tate George Washington University The Unruly Voice explores the literary and journalistic career of Pauline Elizabeth Hopkins a turn of the century African American writer who was editor in chief of the Colored American Magazine though it was not acknowledged on the masthead Hopkins wrote short fiction novels nonfiction articles and a play believed to be the first by an African American woman Versatile and politically committed she was fired when the magazine was bought by an ally of Booker T Washington's who disliked her editorial stands and unconciliatory politics Even though more than a thousand pages of Hopkins's works have been brought back into print The Unruly Voice is the first book devoted exclusively to her writings and the significance she holds for readers today Contributors explore the social political and historical conditions that informed her literary works

Pauline E. Hopkins Hanna Wallinger, 2012-06-01 Virtually unknown for the better part of the twentieth century Pauline E Hopkins 1859-1930 is one of the most interesting rediscoveries of recent African American literary history This is the first study devoted exclusively to Hopkins's life and her influential career as an editor political writer social critic pioneering playwright biographer and fiction writer Hanna Wallinger's discoveries break much new ground especially regarding Hopkins's relationship with such notable men and women as Booker T Washington and Anna Julia Cooper her position in Boston's black women's club movement her work with the Boston based Colored American Magazine and her concepts of race gender and class Drawing on recently discovered letters Wallinger sheds new light on the relationship between Hopkins and Booker T Washington particularly the acrimony surrounding Hopkins's departure from the Colored American Magazine She discusses Hopkins's pseudonymous writings in addition to those written under the known alias Sarah A Allen Wallinger interprets Hopkins's play Peculiar Sam her now famous novels Contending Forces Hagar's Daughter Winona and Of One Blood and the short stories which have so far received little critical attention This study also contains the little known but important text A Primer of Facts Republished here for the first time it establishes Hopkins as an early advocate of black nationalism and one of the few women writers who joined this discourse Hopkins writes Wallinger was on the scene when race consciousness was being defined This important new study reveals her role at the center of crucial debates about the cultural politics of magazine editing radical activism and the early feminist movement Black Nationalism in the New World Robert Carr, 2002-10-18 Provides new insight into the development of black nationalism by examining the intersection of African American and West Indian nationalist literatures The Cambridge History of Queer American Literature Benjamin Kahan, 2024-06-06 Moby Dick's Ishmael and Queequeg share a bed Janie in Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God imagines her tongue in another woman's mouth And yet for too long there has not been a volume that provides an account of the breadth and depth of queer American literature This landmark volume provides the first expansive history of this literature from its inception to the present day offering a narrative of how American literary studies and sexuality studies became deeply entwined and what they can teach each other It examines how American literature produces and is in turn woven out of sexualities gender pluralities transness erotic subjectivities and alternative ways of inhabiting bodily morphology In so doing the volume aims to do nothing less than revise the ways in which we understand the whole of American literature It will be an indispensable resource for scholars graduate students and undergraduates
