Contested Memories:

Contested Memories and the Demands of the Past Catharina Raudvere, 2017 Contested Urban Spaces Ulrike Capdepón, Sarah Dornhof, 2022-02-09 This book takes the urban space as a starting point for thinking about practices actors narratives and imaginations within articulations of memory The social protests and mobilizations against colonial statues are examples of how past injustice and violence keep on shaping debates in the present Following an interdisciplinary approach the contributions to this book focus on the in visibility and affective power of monuments and traces through political activist and artistic contestations in different geographical settings They show that memories are shaped in contact zones most often in conflict and within hierarchical social relations The notion of decentered memory shifts the perspective to relationships between imperial centers and margins remembrance and erasure nationalistic tendencies and migration This plurality of connections emerges around unfinished histories of violence and resistance that are reflected in monuments and traces

Contested Memories in Chinese and Japanese Foreign Policy Matteo Dian, 2017-01-10 Contested Memories in Chinese and Japanese Foreign Policy explores the issue of memory and lack of reconciliation in East Asia As main East Asian nations have never achieved a common memory of their pasts in particular the events of the Second World War and Sino Japanese War this book locates the issue of memory within International Relations theory exploring the theoretical and practical link between the construction of a country s identity and the formation and contestation of its historical memory and foreign policy Provides an innovative theoretical framework Draws connections between the role of memory and foreign policy Uses the interpretative theory of international relations Gives comparative perspective using the cases of China and Japan Presents in depth analysis of the construction and contestation of national memory in China and Japan Memories and Representations of War , 2009-01-01 The contributors to the present volume approach World War I and World War II as complex and intertwined crossroads leading to the definition of the new European and world reality and deeply pervading the making of the twentieth century These scholars belong to different yet complementary areas of research history literature cinema art history they come from various national realities and discuss questions related to Italy Britain Germany Poland Spain at times introducing a comparison between European and North American memories of the two World War experiences These scholars are all guided by the same principle to encourage the establishment of an interdisciplinary and trans national dialogue in order to work out new approaches capable of integrating and acknowledging different or even opposing ways to perceive and interpret the same historical phenomenon While assessing the way the memories of the two World Wars have been readjusted each time in relation to the evolving international historical setting and through various mediators of memory cinema literature art and monuments the various essays contribute to unveil a cultural panorama inhabited by contrasting memories and by divided memories not to emphasise divisions but to acknowledge the ethical need for a truly shared act of reconciliation The Routledge Handbook of Memory Activism Yifat Gutman, Jenny Wüstenberg, 2023-02-15

This Handbook is the first systematic effort to map the fast growing phenomenon of memory activism and to delineate a new field of research that lies at the intersection of memory and social movement studies From Charlottesville to Cape Town from Santiago to Sydney we have recently witnessed protesters demanding that symbols of racist or colonial pasts be dismantled and that we talk about histories that have long been silenced But such events are only the most visible instances of grassroots efforts to influence the meaning of the past in the present Made up of more than 80 chapters that encapsulate the rich diversity of scholarship and practice of memory activism by assembling different disciplinary traditions methodological approaches and empirical evidence from across the globe this Handbook establishes important questions and their theoretical implications arising from the social political and economic reality of memory activism Memory activism is multifaceted takes place in a variety of settings and has diverse outcomes but it is always crucial to understanding the constitution and transformation of our societies past and present This volume will serve as a guide and establish new analytic frameworks for scholars students policymakers journalists and activists alike

Performing Memories Gabriele Biotti, 2021-04-26 What is memory today How can it be approached Why does the contemporary world seem to be more and more haunted by different types of memories still asking for elaboration Which artistic experiences have explored and defined memory in meaningful ways How do technologies and the media have changed it These are just some of the questions developed in this collection of essays analysing memory and memory shapes which explores the different ways in which past time and its elaboration have been and still are elaborated discussed written or filmed and contested but also shared By gathering together scholars from different fields of investigation this book explores the cultural social and artistic tensions in representing the past and the present in understanding our legacies and in approaching historical time and experience Through the analysis of different representations of memory and the investigation of literature anthropology myth and storytelling a space of theories and discourses about the symbolic and cultural spaces of memory representation is developed

Global Iconoclasm: Contesting "Official" Mnemonic Landscapes Michael Ripmeester, Matthew W. Rofe, 2024-06-24 Geographers and others have been long aware that landscapes are neither natural or neutral This is particularly true of landscapes of memory Powerful groups inscribe such landscapes with both a preferred vision of the past and with sets of idealized societal values and morays Yet and despite the authoritative weight such landscapes carry they can be challenged Even before the monument topplings of 2020 groups across the globe were challenging official memory discourses This volume offers case studies of what might be considered global iconoclasm Drawing upon original international case studies this monograph critically engages with and reveals the dynamics of landscape contestation From the Tsunami Museum of Banda Aceh to the echoes of Mussolini s Fascist Italy by way of the decolonization of sites in Australia New Zealand Colombia and Africa the processes of landscape contestation are innovatively teased out by established and newly emerging scholars This book should be of interest to any scholar interested in the politics of mnemonic landscapes Theories of Social Remembering Barbara Misztal, 2003-07-16 brilliant and impressive tour de force Network Why does collective memory matter How is social memory generated maintained and reproduced How do we explain changes in the content and role of collective memory Through a synthesis of old and new theories of social remembering this book provides the first comprehensive overview of the sociology of memory This rapidly expanding field explores how representations of the past are generated maintained and reproduced through texts images sites rituals and experiences The main aim of the book is to show to what extent the investigation of memory challenges sociological understandings of the formation of social identities and conflicts It illustrates the new status of memory in contemporary societies by examining the complex relationships between memory and commemoration memory and identity memory and trauma and memory and justice The book consists of six chapters with the first three devoted to conceptualising the process of remembering by analyzing memory's function status and history as well as by locating the study of memory in a broader field of social science The second part of the book directly explores and discusses theories and studies of social remembering After a short conclusion which argues that study of collective memory is an important part of any examination of contemporary society the glossary offers a concise and up to date overview of the development of relevant theoretical concepts The result is an essential text for undergraduate courses in social theory the sociology of memory and a wider audience in cultural studies history and politics , Japan's Response to History Problems Karol Zakowski, 2025-05-23 This book examines the decision making processes behind the formulation and evolution of the Japanese government's official stance regarding diplomatic problems connected with the history of Japan's territorial expansionism in East Asia Based on neoclassical realism and historical institutionalism this book analyzes to what extent Japan's reaction to history problems complied with external pressures and to what extent it was modified by domestic level variables Particular attention is paid to the ideological leanings of key decision makers as well as their position against veto players such as ruling party decision making bodies Liberal Democratic Party LDP factions cabinet members coalition parties and ministerial bureaucrats Through four case studies apologies for the war of aggression a history textbook screening system prime ministerial visits to the Yasukuni Shrine and the comfort women issue it reveals which institutional actors formulated an initial response to issues of history under what political circumstances Japan's official stance on history problems was shaped and institutionalized and what methods were utilized by the revisionists to challenge the status quo Exploring path dependent processes that led to the formulation of a compromise in the Japanese government this book will appeal to students and scholars of Japanese Politics Asian Studies International Studies and Political Science False and Distorted Memories Robert A. Nash, James Ost, 2016-10-04 Our memories shape how we think about the past how we plan for the future and how we think about ourselves Yet our memories are also constantly being reinvented we often remember our experiences differently from how they truly happened and can even remember experiences that never happened at all False and Distorted Memories provides an overview of recent and ongoing developments in the science of false memory World leading researchers unpick questions about flawed recollections discussing issues as varied as the reliability of highly emotional memories why we sometimes begin to remember fictional experiences that we have deliberately fabricated and what happens when we stop believing our memories Each chapter demonstrates how memory science has furthered our understanding of these important questions by exploring theoretical ideas and psychological research methods that underpin their investigations Edited by Robert Nash and James Ost this volume offers an international and up to date perspective on false and distorted memories The volume also draws attention to the broad range of real life contexts in which such distortions might arise and their potential consequences False and Distorted Memories illustrates the ease with which memory can be contaminated and the power of the resulting memory errors providing an integral text for researchers and students interested in the psychology of memory

Bombs Away! Wilfried Wilms, William Rasch, 2006 Prompted by recent challenges to and debates about the relative public silence concerning the effects of the Allied air war over Europe during World War II this collection of essays examines literary visual film and photography and institutional museums representations of the bombing of civilian targets predominantly in Germany The authors examine narrative strategies of both well known and relatively little known works as well as the moral and ideological presuppositions of the varied representations of the depredations of total war The introduction and afterword by the editors invite the readers to expand the contours and historical context of the debates about the German public discourse on the bombing war beyond the narrow confines of perpetrators and victims The volume will be of interest to literary scholars historians and the general reading public interested in warfare and its effects on civilian populations

The International History of Communication Study Peter Simonson, David W. Park, 2015-10-14 The International History of Communication Study maps the growth of media and communication studies around the world Drawing out transnational flows of ideas institutions publications and people it offers the most comprehensive picture to date of the global history of communication research and education This volume reaches into national and regional areas that have not received much attention in the scholarship until now including Asia Latin America Africa and the Middle East alongside Europe and North America It also covers communication study outside of academic settings in international organizations like UNESCO and among commercial and civic groups It moves beyond the traditional canon to cover work by forgotten figures including women scholars in the field and those outside of the United States and Europe and it situates them all within the broader geopolitical institutional and intellectual landscapes that have shaped communication study globally Intended for scholars and graduate students in communication media studies and journalism this volume pushes the history of communication study in new directions by taking an aggressively international and comparative perspective on the historiography of the field Methodologically and conceptually the volume breaks new ground in bringing comparative transnational and global frames to bear and puts under the spotlight what has heretofore only lingered in the penumbra of the history of communication study

The Tapestry of Time: Interpreting Our Collective Past Pasquale De

Marco, 2025-05-18 In The Tapestry of Time: Interpreting Our Collective Past we embark on a captivating exploration of the intricate relationship between time, memory, and human experience. This book delves into the depths of collective memory, revealing its profound influence on our lives from the personal to the societal. Through a blend of research, storytelling, and personal reflection, we uncover the cognitive and social processes that underlie our collective memory. We examine how our brains store and retrieve information, how we communicate and share memories with others, and how our memories are shaped by our social and cultural contexts. We also explore the political and ethical dimensions of collective memory. We investigate how memories are used to legitimize power, justify inequality, or promote social change. We grapple with the challenges of dealing with painful memories, such as those of war, genocide, or oppression. And we consider how we can ensure that our collective memories are inclusive and representative of all members of society. With its insightful analysis and thought-provoking perspectives, The Tapestry of Time offers a profound understanding of the human experience of time and memory. It is an essential read for anyone interested in history, psychology, sociology, or the human condition itself. This book takes readers on a journey through the complexities of collective memory, revealing how our perception of time and our shared memories shape our understanding of the past, present, and future. It is a thought-provoking exploration of the power of the past to shape our present and future, and a call for a more inclusive and representative approach to remembering our collective history. The Political Life of Urban Streetscapes Reuben

Rose-Redwood, Derek Alderman, Maoz Azaryahu, 2017-07-06 Streetscapes are part of the taken-for-granted spaces of everyday urban life, yet they are also contested arenas in which struggles over identity, memory, and place shape the social production of urban space. This book examines the role that street naming has played in the political life of urban streetscapes in both historical and contemporary cities. The renaming of streets and remaking of urban commemorative landscapes have long been key strategies that different political regimes have employed to legitimize spatial assertions of sovereign authority, ideological hegemony, and symbolic power. Over the past few decades, a rich body of critical scholarship has explored the politics of urban toponymy, and the present collection brings together the works of geographers, anthropologists, historians, linguists, planners, and political scientists to examine the power of street naming as an urban place-making practice. Covering a wide range of case studies from cities in Europe, North America, Sub-Saharan Africa, and Asia, the contributions to this volume illustrate how the naming of streets has been instrumental to the reshaping of urban spatial imaginaries and the cultural politics of place.

Doing Memory: Medieval Saints and Heroes and Their Afterlives in the Baltic Sea

Region (19th-20th centuries) Cordelia Heß, Gustavs Strenga, 2024-04-22 This anthology is about the representations and uses of medieval saints, heroes, and heroic events as elements of popular, local, and national culture during the 19th and 20th centuries in the Baltic Sea region: Scandinavia, Finland, Baltic countries, Northern Germany, and North Western Russia. Authors examine the processes of how medieval saints and heroes have been remembered commemorated interpreted used and reflected during modernity and by whom The focus of the anthology is on doing memory as a practice that commemorated the past and shaped spaces and identities in the present It approaches the memory of saints and heroes for example Swedish Saints Birgitta and Eric Danish Saint Knud Kyivan Princess Olga Swedish military leader in Finland Tyrgils Knutsson Liv Latvian warrior Imanta and Holsatian count Gerhard III as a shared heritage and as part of national local and popular culture The anthology contributes to the understanding of the Baltic Sea region through the study of saints cults and heroic representations in the longue dur e between the Middle Ages and modernity It also adds nuance to the use of popular concepts of memory studies particularly an update of Pierre Nora s lieux de m moire Trauma and the Memory of Politics Jenny Edkins,2003-07-31 In this interesting study Jenny Edkins explores how we remember traumatic events such as wars famines genocides and terrorism and questions the assumed role of commemorations as simply reinforcing state and nationhood Taking examples from the World Wars Vietnam the Holocaust Kosovo and September 11th Edkins offers a thorough discussion of practices of memory such as memorials museums remembrance ceremonies the diagnosis of post traumatic stress and the act of bearing witness She examines the implications of these commemorations in terms of language political power sovereignty and nationalism She argues that some forms of remembering do not ignore the horror of what happened but rather use memory to promote change and to challenge the political systems that produced the violence of wars and genocides in the first place This wide ranging study embraces literature history politics and international relations and makes a significant contribution to the study of memory Contesting Memory: Museumizations of Migration in Comparative Global Context—Proceedings of the International Conference on “Museums and Migration” held at the Maison des Science de l’Homme (MSH), June 25-26, 2010, Paris Mohammad H.
